Mondays, 6:30pm - 9:30pm, Hoffman 301

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This 1.5 unit course explores mindfulness (non-judgmental awareness) and compassion and their relationship to leadership. While leaders can view challenges and opportunities through many different perspectives, this course helps students learn another perspective based on mindfulness and compassion. Topics include how mindfulness enhances clarity in purpose and productivity in leaders and the connection between mindfulness and compassion. To have a direct experience of mindfulness and compassion, students will engage in a practical application of these perspectives through exercises from evidence-based programs developed in medical research. These programs use mindfulness meditation as a centerpiece and are currently being used by business and governments internationally to develop better leaders.

COURSE OBJECTIVES
By the end of the course, participants will be able to:

1. Explain how mindfulness enhances clarity in purpose and productivity in leaders
2. Identify, describe and apply principles and practices of mindful and compassionate leadership
3. Explain and practice mediation techniques developed in evidence-based programs in medical research

COURSE MATERIALS

COURSE ACTIVITIES

In-Class Participation: Given the experiential nature of what and how we will be learning in this class, engaged participation in all of the classroom activities will be essential to demonstrating your learning.

Home Practice: Given that mindfulness and compassion can only be learned with practice, participants will engage in a daily home practice throughout the half semester. Each class session will be partly devoted to providing instructions on this daily practice and answering the various questions that arise from this practice.

Reflection Papers: You will be expected to submit 3 reflection papers on the dates that will be provided. Each paper should be 850-1000 words long and should report something specific and concrete that you tried during your home practice during the prior weeks. Discuss these experiences in relationship to the reading and classroom activities.

EVALUATIONS

Participants will be graded on a credit/no credit basis. The determination of whether credit is assigned will be based on the evaluation criteria found in Appendix A.

Statement on Academic Conduct and Support Systems

Academic Conduct
Plagiarism – presenting someone else’s ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Section 11, Behavior Violating University Standards https://scampus.usc.edu/1100-behavior-violating-university-standards-and-appropriate-sanctions. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, http://policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct.

Discrimination, sexual assault, and harassment are not tolerated by the university. You are encouraged to report any incidents to the Office of Equity and Diversity http://equity.usc.edu or to the Department of Public Safety http://capsnet.usc.edu/department/department-public-safety/online-forms/contact-us. This is important for the safety of the whole USC community. Another member of the university community – such as a friend, classmate, advisor, or faculty member – can help initiate the report, or can initiate the report on behalf of another person. The Center for Women and Men http://www.usc.edu/student-affairs/cwm/ provides 24/7 confidential support, and the sexual assault resource center webpage http://sarc.usc.edu describes reporting options and other resources.

Support Systems

Students whose primary language is not English should check with the American Language Institute http://dornsife.usc.edu/ali, which sponsors courses and workshops specifically for international graduate students. The Office of Disability Services and Programs www.usc.edu/disability provides certification for students with disabilities and helps arrange the relevant accommodations. If an officially declared emergency makes travel to campus infeasible, USC Emergency Information http://emergency.usc.edu will provide safety and other updates, including ways in which instruction will be continued by means of blackboard, teleconferencing, and other technology.

Emergency Preparedness/Course Continuity

In case of a declared emergency if travel to campus is not feasible, USC executive leadership will announce an electronic way for instructors to teach students in their residence halls or homes using a combination of Blackboard, teleconferencing, and other technologies.
