Advertising and Communication
Professor Rook Campbell

Course Description:

Advertising and Communication takes a 360 degree look at the meaning making, social relations, institutions, and products of contemporary advertising. Beginning from the vantage point of creatives and advertising practitioners, we will examine ad form and messaging devices. To be able to understand and critique advertising, our semester incorporates text study and opportunities to practice skills of visual culture.

Our aim is to understand the contexts in which messages are developed, produced, and circulated. By approaching advertising as more than a market mechanism, we will debate the social, psychological, political, and legal aspects of this cultural engagement.

By raising important questions of advertising as a space of mediation and dialogue between material goods and society, students will come to understand the day-to-day social, political, and economic edges of advertising. Through debates about advertising, students will obtain practical tools to inform communication strategy, and perhaps even effect social change. We will consider topics of branding, advertising strategy, privacy, political messaging, consumerism, text and image stereotypes, exclusion, racism, gender, as well as mechanisms and implications of audience targeting and segmentation. Our approach is to consider the different meanings of advertising and its regulations. In this way, we will acquire and develop rich resources for communication theorists, ad practitioners, creatives, and political activists.

Attendance:
You must participate actively in every discussion section. Attendance is compulsory. I will take attendance in each section. Students arriving more than fifteen minutes late will be considered absent. Students who have obviously not read the assigned material will be considered absent. Excused absences generally require documentation from either a university or medical authority.

Readings and Assignments:
All required readings need to be completed before the section. Please bring a version of the text to class. Come with questions about the readings and be prepared to name difficult, interesting or exciting concepts, terms, or dilemmas that we can discuss together. All assignments must be typed, double spaced and turned in as hardcopies.

Class Policy:
Because our seminar format emphasizes student interaction, involves debate, and presents case study material, laptop usage is at the discretion of the professor. This policy is to ensure dynamic classroom participation. Please be prepared to take notes the old fashion way. Exceptions for note taking accommodation are possible by request.

Statement on Academic Conduct and Support Systems

Academic Conduct

Plagiarism – presenting someone else's ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in Scampus in Section 11, Behavior Violating University Standards https://scampus.usc.edu/1100-behavior-violating-university-standards-and-appropriate-sanctions/. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in Scampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, http://policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct/.

Discrimination, sexual assault, and harassment are not tolerated by the university. You are encouraged to report any incidents to the Office of Equity and Diversity http://equity.usc.edu/ or to the Department of Public Safety http://capsnet.usc.edu/department/department-public-safety/online-forms/contact-us. This is important for the safety whole USC community. Another member of the university community – such as a friend, classmate, advisor, or faculty member – can help initiate the report, or can initiate the report on behalf of another person. The Center for Women and Men http://www.usc.edu/student-affairs/cwm/ provides 24/7 confidential support, and the sexual assault resource center webpage sarc@usc.edu describes reporting options and other resources.

Support Systems

A number of USC's schools provide support for students who need help with scholarly writing. Check with your advisor or program staff to find out more. Students whose primary language is not English should check with the American Language Institute http://dornsife.usc.edu/ali, which sponsors courses and workshops specifically for international graduate students. The Office of Disability Services and Programs http://sait.usc.edu/academicsupport/centerprograms/dsp/home_index.html provides certification for students with disabilities and helps arrange the relevant accommodations. If an officially declared emergency makes travel to campus infeasible, USC Emergency Information http://emergency.usc.edu/ will provide safety and other updates, including ways in which instruction will be continued by means of blackboard, teleconferencing, and other technology.
