“What is Black Cinema?” Students will evaluate mainstream and independent films dealing with African American society, considering how African American cinema participates in both analyzing history and forwarding its own political agenda.