Office Hours: By Appointment on Thursdays 10:15 am to 11:15 am (Pacific Standard Time) or time arranged with instructor

Please Note: There may be other syllabi from other classes or sections of the VAC, but this is the “official” class syllabus for this class section. It should provide you with the information about this course. If there are necessary changes to this class or to this syllabus, you will receive an updated syllabus incorporating those changes.

I. COURSE PREREQUISITES

SOWK 505

II. CATALOGUE DESCRIPTION

Understanding problem-producing behaviors and their ramifications on individuals, families, and groups that comprise the clientele in mental health settings. Required for students in Mental Health concentration.

III. COURSE DESCRIPTION

This 3-unit course builds on the content from the human behavior courses from the first year including social learning, psychodynamic, trauma, stress and coping, and neurobiology to help explain the mental health functioning of individuals seen in the mental health service system. Explanatory theories are expanded and deepened with a particular emphasis on the problems encountered in multicultural environments.
IV. COURSE OBJECTIVES

The Human Behavior and Mental Health course (SOWK 605) will:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Objective No.</th>
<th>Objectives</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>Present the major theories of human behavior that explain particular syndromes and psychopathology most commonly seen in mental health settings</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>Teach the impact of demographic factors such as age, gender, ethnicity/race, sexual orientation, socioeconomic status, and religious preference on mental health functioning; how they may assert risk or protective influence against mental health problems</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>Provide opportunities to understand the interrelationship between oppression, disempowerment, and mental health problems</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4</td>
<td>Describe recent research and landmark studies of mental health for critical evaluation</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5</td>
<td>Teach aspects of neurobiology as they relate to mental health</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

V. COURSE FORMAT/INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

The format of the class will primarily be didactic and interactive. Students are expected to come to class prepared to discuss the material and are encouraged to share brief, relevant clinical experiences. Appropriate videos and case vignettes will be used to illustrate class content.

VI. STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

Student learning for this course relates to one or more of the following 10 social work core competencies:

* Highlighted in this course

The following table explains the highlighted competencies for this course, the related student learning outcomes, and the method of assessment.
Competencies/ Knowledge, Values, Skills

Diversity in Practice—Engage diversity and difference in practice.

Social workers competent in Diversity in Practice:

- Understand how diversity characterizes and shapes the human experience and is critical to the formation of identity
- Recognize that the dimensions of diversity reflect intersectionality of multiple factors including age, class, color, culture, disability, ethnicity, gender, gender identity and expression, immigration status, political ideology, race, religion, sex, and sexual orientation
- Appreciate that, as a consequence of difference, a person’s life experiences may include oppression, poverty, marginalization, and alienation as well as privilege, power, and acclaim

Human Behavior—Apply knowledge of human behavior and the social environment.

Social workers competent in Human Behavior:

- Are knowledgeable about human behavior across the life course, the range of social systems in which people live, and the ways social systems promote or deter people in maintaining or achieving health and well-being
- Apply theories and knowledge from the liberal arts to understand biological, social, cultural, psychological, and spiritual development

The due date for Assignment 1 refers to start of your class section on Thursday. Assignment 3 is due at Midnight PST on December 17, the first official day of Finals Week. Each of the major assignments is described below, and a full assignment description is included at the end of this syllabus.

Assignment 1

The first assignment is a paper that is a clinical application of theory. The student is asked to apply modern attachment theory and self psychology to a client they currently see in treatment or saw in first-year placement. This will be a scholarly paper, drawing on the relevant literature. Diversity issues must be addressed. Length: 6–10 pages. Other details and rubrics can be found at the end of this course syllabus.

Due: Week 6 Start of Class

This assignment relates to student learning outcomes 1–5.

Assignment 2

The second assignment is a quiz, three quarters of which is an in-class (asynchronous portion) and objective test (true/false, multiple choice, etc.) and one quarter of which is a take-home essay. The material to be covered will be on Units 6–9 and include class lectures, asynchronous materials, and assigned reading.

Due: Week 10 in the Asynchronous section.

This assignment relates to student learning outcomes 1, 3, 4, and 5.

Assignment 3

The final assignment is a paper. The student is asked to apply two theories that best explain a mental disorder (e.g., PTSD), symptom (e.g., depression), or problem (e.g., domestic violence). This is a scholarly paper, drawing upon empirical research and relevant literature. Diversity issues must be addressed. Length: 15–18 pages. A more detailed description of the assignment, and rubrics, will be discussed during the live session. Due: Finals week. The exact time and date will be provided by your instructor.

This assignment relates to student learning outcomes 1–5.

Class Participation (10% of Course Grade)

Class participation is defined as students’ active engagement in class-related learning. Students are expected to participate fully in the discussions and activities that will be conducted in class. Students are expected to contribute to the development of a positive learning environment and to demonstrate their learning through the quality and depth of class comments, participation in small group activities, and experiential exercise and discussions related to readings, lectures, and assignments. Class participation should consist of meaningful, thoughtful, and respectful participation based on having completed required and independent readings and assignments prior to class. When in class, students should demonstrate their understanding of the material and be prepared to offer comments or reflections about the material, or alternatively, to have a set of thoughtful questions about the material. Class participation evaluation will be based on the following criteria:

1. Good Contributor: Contributions in class reflect thorough preparation. Ideas offered are usually substantive, provide good insights, and sometimes direction for the class. Challenges are well substantiated and often persuasive. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion would be diminished. Attendance is factored in. (90% to 100% points)
2. Adequate Contributor: Contributions in class reflect satisfactory preparation. Ideas offered are sometimes substantive and provide generally useful insights but seldom offer a new direction for the discussion. Challenges are sometimes presented, are fairly well substantiated, and are sometimes persuasive. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion would be diminished somewhat. Attendance is factored in. (80% or 90% points)

3. Nonparticipant: This person says little or nothing in class. Hence, there is not an adequate basis for evaluation. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion would not be changed. Attendance is factored in. (40% to 80% points)

4. Unsatisfactory Contributor: Contributions in class reflect inadequate preparation. Ideas offered are seldom substantive, provide few if any insights, and never provide a constructive direction for the class. Integrative comments and effective challenges are absent. (0% to 40% points)

Class grades will be based on the following:

<table>

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK GRADING POLICY

Within the School of Social Work, grades are determined in each class on standards established by the school as follows.

1) Grades of A or A- are reserved for student work that not only demonstrates very good mastery of content but also shows that the student has undertaken a complex task, has applied critical thinking skills to the assignment, and/or has demonstrated creativity in the approach to the assignment. The difference between these two grades is determined by the degree to which these skills have been demonstrated.

2) A grade of B+ will be given to work that is judged to be very good. This grade denotes that the student has demonstrated a more-than-competent understanding of the material.

3) A grade of B will be given to student work that meets the basic requirements of the assignment. It denotes that the student has done adequate work on the assignment and meets basic course expectations.

4) A grade of B- denotes that a student’s performance was less than adequate on the assignment, reflecting only moderate grasp of content or expectations.

5) A grade of C reflects minimal grasp of the assignment, poor organization of ideas, and/or several significant areas requiring improvement.

6) Grades between C- and F denote a failure to meet even minimum standards, reflecting serious deficiencies in all aspects of a student’s performance on the assignment.
CAUTIONARY NOTE TO STUDENTS ON PLAGIARISM

You are expected to know what plagiarism is. Being "unclear" on the citing format is not an acceptable excuse, so please avail yourselves of the resources below. All papers go through "turnitin," a web-based plagiarism detection program. Once quotations and references are filtered, if an instructor sees more than a 10% similarity index, there may be significant consequences, up to and including failing the paper and/or course and being referred to the University Office of Judicial Affairs.

Excerpt below is from your USC Student Guidebook: http://scampus.usc.edu/1100-behavior-violating-university-standards-and-appropriate-sanctions/

11.00 Behavior Violating University Standards and Appropriate Sanctions

General principles of academic integrity include and incorporate the concept of respect for the intellectual property of others, the expectation that individual work will be submitted unless otherwise allowed by an instructor, and the obligations both to protect one’s own academic work from misuse by others as well as to avoid using another’s work as one’s own. All students are expected to understand and abide by these principles. Faculty members may include additional classroom and assignment policies, as articulated on their syllabus.

The following are examples of violations of these and other university standards.

11.11

A. The submission of material authored by another person but represented as the student’s own work, whether that material is paraphrased or copied in verbatim or near-verbatim form.

B. The submission of material subjected to editorial revision by another person that results in substantive changes in content or major alteration of writing style.

C. Improper acknowledgment of sources in essays or papers.

NOTES from the Instructor to help you prepare for class:

- Note that with the VAC schedule for Fall Semester the last date of this class is Thursday, December 11, and Finals Week is December 17-23.

- Note that we do not meet on Thursday, November 27, although the materials for that class will still be covered. Happy Thanksgiving!

- This course is rich with materials and concepts, and a social worker graduating from USC School of Social Work in the Mental Health Concentration is presumed to have an education that includes the concepts covered in this course. If you intend to practice in mental health, then all of the topics in this course are important to insure you are prepared for your social work practice. In addition, being knowledgeable of these concepts forms the cornerstone of ethical social work practice in mental health. (See the clause from the Social Work Code of Ethics below. ¹)

- To truly use the class sessions effectively you will need to be prepared before class. As an instructor I will post some materials for you prior to class. The materials are to serve as a review of concepts from the readings and asynchronous sessions, and sometimes to add additional concepts and references. Ideally you can use these materials to reinforce the concepts you have learned in your own learning activities. However, if it appears that students are not coming to class prepared for discussions by the reading and asynchronous materials, then we need to work together to ensure your learning. You may suggest your needs in class, emails, or office hours. Otherwise there may be a need to institute some additional research-formulated activity to encourage preparation—and research shows that frequent quizzes are the best way to encourage preparation and learning...! (See NY Times article at the link below, and/or do your own research.) ²

- If you have a need to discuss any matter, I am always available to schedule an office-hour appointment, as per the directions at the beginning of this syllabus. Please do not hesitate to request time if you would find it helpful to maximize your benefit from this class.

1.04 Competence: (a) Social workers should provide services and represent themselves as competent only within the boundaries of their education, training, license, certification, consultation received, supervised experience, or other relevant professional experience. (Italics added for emphasis.)

University Policies and Guidelines

VIII. ATTENDANCE POLICY

Students are expected to attend every class and to remain in class for the duration of the unit. Failure to attend class or arriving late may impact your ability to achieve course objectives, which could affect your course grade. Students are expected to notify the instructor by e-mail of any anticipated absence or reason for tardiness.

University of Southern California policy permits students to be excused from class for the observance of religious holy days. This policy also covers scheduled final examinations that conflict with students’ observance of a holy day. Students must make arrangements in advance to complete class work that will be missed, or to reschedule an examination, due to holy days observance.

Please refer to Scampus and to the USC School of Social Work Student Handbook for additional information on attendance policies.

IX. STATEMENT ON ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

USC seeks to maintain an optimal learning environment. General principles of academic honesty include the concept of respect for the intellectual property of others, the expectation that individual work will be submitted unless otherwise allowed by an instructor, and the obligations both to protect one’s own academic work from misuse by others as well as to avoid using another’s work as one’s own. All students are expected to understand and abide by these principles. SCampus, the Student Guidebook, contains the Student Conduct Code in Section 11.00, while the recommended sanctions are located in Appendix A: http://www.usc.edu/dept/publications/SCAMPUS/gov/. Students will be referred to the Office of Student Judicial Affairs and Community Standards for further review should there be any suspicion of academic dishonesty. The review process can be found at: http://www.usc.edu/student-affairs/SJACS/.

Additionally, it should be noted that violations of academic integrity are not only violations of USC principles and policies but also violations of the values of the social work profession.

X. STATEMENT FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Any student requesting academic accommodations based on a disability is required to register with Disability Services and Programs (DSP) each semester. A letter of verification for approved accommodations can be obtained from DSP. Please be sure the letter is delivered to the instructor as early in the semester as possible. DSP is located in STU 301 and is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Students from all academic centers (including the Virtual Academic Center) may contact Ed Roth, director of the DSP office, at 213-740-0776 or ability@usc.edu.

XI. EMERGENCY RESPONSE INFORMATION

Note: The following emergency response information pertains to students on campus, but please note its importance should you be on campus for a temporary or extended period. When not on campus: Call the 911 listing in your local community for any emergency.

To receive information, call the main number (213) 740-2711, press 2. “For recorded announcements, events, emergency communications or critical incident information.”
To leave a message, call (213) 740-8311. For additional university information, please call (213) 740-9233. Or visit university website: http://emergency.usc.edu.

If it becomes necessary to evacuate the building, please go to the following locations carefully and using stairwells only. Never use elevators in an emergency evacuation.

Students may also sign up for a USC Trojans Alert account to receive alerts and emergency notifications on their cell phone, pager, PDA, or e-mail account. Register at https://trojansalert.usc.edu.

XII. STATEMENT ABOUT INCOMPLETES

The grade of Incomplete (IN) can be assigned only if there is work not completed because of a documented illness or some other emergency occurring after the 12th week of the semester. Students must NOT assume that the instructor will agree to the grade of IN. Removal of the grade of IN must be instituted by the student and agreed to be the instructor and reported on the official “Incomplete Completion Form.”

XIII. POLICY ON LATE OR MAKE-UP WORK

Papers are due on the day and time specified. Extensions will be granted only for extenuating circumstances. If the paper is late without permission, the grade will be affected.

XIV. POLICY ON CHANGES TO THE SYLLABUS AND/OR COURSE REQUIREMENTS

It may be necessary to make some adjustments in the syllabus during the semester in order to respond to unforeseen or extenuating circumstances. Adjustments that are made will be communicated to students both verbally and in writing.

XV. CODE OF ETHICS OF THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF SOCIAL WORKERS

Approved by the 1996 NASW Delegate Assembly and revised by the 2008 NASW Delegate Assembly [http://www.socialworkers.org/pubs/Code/code.asp]

Preamble

The primary mission of the social work profession is to enhance human well-being and help meet the basic human needs of all people, with particular attention to the needs and empowerment of people who are vulnerable, oppressed, and living in poverty. A historic and defining feature of social work is the profession’s focus on individual well-being in a social context and the wellbeing of society. Fundamental to social work is attention to the environmental forces that create, contribute to, and address problems in living.

Social workers promote social justice and social change with and on behalf of clients. “Clients” is used inclusively to refer to individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. Social workers are sensitive to cultural and ethnic diversity and strive to end discrimination, oppression, poverty, and other forms of social injustice. These activities may be in the form of direct practice, community organizing, supervision, consultation administration, advocacy, social and political action, policy development and implementation, education, and research and evaluation. Social workers seek to enhance the capacity of people to address their own needs. Social workers also seek to promote the responsiveness of organizations, communities, and other social institutions to individuals’ needs and social problems.

The mission of the social work profession is rooted in a set of core values. These core values, embraced by social workers throughout the profession’s history, are the foundation of social work’s unique purpose and perspective:

- Service
- Social justice
- Dignity and worth of the person
- Importance of human relationships
- Integrity
- Competence

This constellation of core values reflects what is unique to the social work profession. Core values, and the principles that flow from them, must be balanced within the context and complexity of the human experience.

XVI. COMPLAINTS

If you have a complaint or concern about the course or the instructor, please discuss it first with the instructor. If you feel you cannot discuss it with the instructor, contact the chair of the Mental Health concentration, Dr. Concha Barrio. If you do not receive a satisfactory response or solution, contact your advisor or Dr. Paul Maiden, vice dean and professor of Academic and Student Affairs, at rmaiden@usc.edu. Or, if you are a student of the VAC, contact June Wiley, director of the Virtual Academic Center, at (213) 821-0901 or june.wiley@usc.edu for further guidance.

XVII. TIPS FOR MAXIMIZING YOUR LEARNING EXPERIENCE IN THIS COURSE

- Be mindful of getting proper nutrition, exercise, rest, and sleep!
- Come to class.
- Complete required readings and assignments BEFORE coming to class.
- BEFORE coming to class, review the materials from the previous unit AND the current unit, AND scan the topics to be covered in the next unit.
- Come to class prepared to ask any questions you might have.
- Participate in class discussions.
- AFTER you leave class, review the materials assigned for that unit again, along with your notes from that unit.
- If you don’t understand something, ask questions! Ask questions in class, during office hours, and/or through e-mail.
- Keep up with the assigned readings.

Don't procrastinate or postpone working on assignments.
Please choose a client with whom you are currently working or with whom you have worked in the past. Analyze the case in terms of modern attachment theory. (Note: Modern Attachment theory is an integration of attachment theory and neurobiology. The latter would include information on how stress affects your client.) Next, please switch to a self psychology paradigm, analyzing the case using a Kohutian framework.

Note: A brief introduction of the case at the start of your paper should take no more than a half page and should include data relevant to introduce your client and his/her situation, behavior, and necessary history. You may elaborate further on your client in your analysis as necessary.

Students should draw upon the material presented in this course, which includes the readings on the syllabus and class lectures/discussions. Please include some issues of diversity where applicable.

This is a scholarly paper; at least 10 references are required. The paper should be 6–10 pages in APA style, using 12-point font, either 1.5- or double-spaced. There is a lot to get into these pages so make every sentence count. Be succinct, no fluff! There will be no “do overs.” Paper is worth 20% of the final grade. This assignment is due during Week 6.

Rubric

Theoretical Perspective = 75%

Papers will be graded on accuracy, comprehension, and depth of understanding. You do not need to use readings other than those on the syllabus. Because you have a limited number of pages, you will need to be succinct and make every sentence count.

Writing style = 25%

Writing style includes good English grammar, syntax, sentence structure, and spelling. It also includes clarity of concepts and ideas (articulation). Please proof your paper before submitting it!
HUMAN BEHAVIOR AND MENTAL HEALTH

Final Assignment Due First Day of Finals Week (December 17, 2014)

Choose a symptom (e.g., depression), disorder (e.g., personality disorder), or problem (e.g., family violence) in which you are interested, and discuss it from at least two explanatory theoretical perspectives. The use of object relations theory will satisfy the requirement, since you should utilize an integrative approach, i.e., at least three theorists here (e.g., Fairbairn, Bowlby, Winnicott, etc.) Behavioral and cognitive theories count as one. I prefer that you not use Eriksonian theory as that was covered extensively in the first year. Other theories from the first year are acceptable with the expectation that they will be written at the more advanced second year level. Please check with me if you have any questions. A section on neurobiology is also required.

A small treatment section (2–3 page) is also required. Be sure the treatment flows from your theoretical perspectives.

You may not use the same topic for this paper that you use for your Practice paper. Students in the past who have done so overlap too much and end up essentially plagiarizing themselves (i.e., using the same paper for two courses, which is against university policy).

Diversity issues must also be included. You don't have to cover them all, but you do need to demonstrate an awareness of how these factors (class, gender, culture, race, sexual orientation) may impact upon your subject (e.g., women who have been victims of incest and the relationship to borderline personality disorder development).

An A paper demonstrates an integration of assigned readings, class lectures, and your own research. Internet resources should be limited to three sites and the websites clearly identifying the subject. Please be sure these are reputable sites (e.g., Cochrane or Campbell Collaborations, Medscape) and preferably peer reviewed. While Wikipedia may be a starting point for some research, the information it contains should be verified through other sources. Please demonstrate original thinking wherever possible. You may use a case or small vignettes to illustrate the concepts, but please remember this is not a practice paper so a vignette should be no more than one page. You may be stimulated by material in the asynchronous or class sessions, but do not offer these as sole sources (e.g. you must do your own research to establish references, etc.)

Papers will be graded not only on content but on writing style as well. In other words, papers should be well written, well organized, and concepts clearly articulated.

DETAILS

15–18 pages; double-spaced (As per APA format, use a cover sheet, but do not count it as one of your pages!)

Use normal fonts (nothing smaller than the type on this sheet, please!) and normal margins. APA style is required (which includes headings).

At least 15 references are required. Class lectures may not count among them.

Due:
Papers are due at MIDNIGHT (PACIFIC STANDARD TIME) ON WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 17. All papers must be submitted directly to the VAC platform. Extensions will be given only in rare cases and under extenuating circumstances. Paper submitted late without permission of the instructor will be penalized a half grade point per day.

Please also be aware that a grade of Incomplete cannot be given except in cases of "a documented illness or other emergency occurring after the twelfth week of the semester." An emergency, as defined by University policy, is "a situation or event which could not be foreseen and which is beyond the student's control, and which prevents the student from . . . completing the course requirements." (Scampus)

Rubric: The paper is worth 50% of your course grade. Following is a grading rubric:

Content
- Theoretical perspectives* 55%
- Neurobiology 5%
- Diversity 5%
- Treatment section 5%
- Introduction 5%

Process
- Writing style 20%
- Critical thinking 5%

*Theoretical perspectives include use of the literature (readings on the syllabus as well as outside readings) and demonstrating integration of class lecture material.

Writing style includes good English grammar, syntax, sentence structure, and spelling. It also includes clarity of concepts and ideas (articulation).

An A paper demonstrates mastery of the topic as well as understanding of the complex nature of the subject. (See student handbook for further elaboration.)
