Course Description
This course is an interdisciplinary study of environmental issues and challenges, examining their scientific, social, cultural, political, and ethical aspects. During the course, we will explore the environmental and social impacts of modern industries and lifestyle; the roles of different actors and institutions; environmental debates on such topics as fracking, nuclear energy, waste management, etc.

This course is built both on lectures and on student discussion and debate. Students are expected to study the required text assignment before lectures. Students will be also asked to prepare group presentations (15 minutes) on major issues discussed in the course.

Learning Objectives
We will explore institutional and social barriers to environmental and social policies and will discuss strategies for environmental regulation in the global economy. Finally, we will talk about our personal responsibilities and roles in environmental and social problems.

By the end of the course, students are expected to:
1. Be able to use critically the many sources of information about environmental policies to solve empirical problems.
2. Be able to use theoretical perspectives to identify and explain domestic and global environmental problems and the linkages among them.
3. Demonstrate the habit of accessing sources of environmental knowledge and the skill to critically interpret, assess and apply evidence.

Concurrent Enrollment: NONE
Prerequisite(s): NONE
Co-Requisite(s): NONE

Course Notes
Each student must attend one discussion section per week. In discussion sections, students will talk in detail about the week’s reading assignment. Discussions are highly interactive and include such activities as debates, group presentations, individual presentations, and small group activities.

Technological Proficiency and Hardware/Software Required
The Blackboard website is our main means of communication. The instructor will use your official USC email, so please make sure that you check it every day.
Required Readings and Supplementary Materials

Additional reading material for this class will be posted on the Blackboard in the folder “Readings.” Students are expected to complete the assigned readings prior to each class.

Description and Assessment of Assignments
This is a writing-intensive course. Per USC GE requirements, there will be a total of 15 pages (citations are not included in the page count) of graded writing assignments. We will accomplish this via two 7.5-page papers (essays) on environmental social issues that will require research and citation of sources. Please use a 12-point font; 1-inch margins; double-spaced. Required number of sources: 15 per paper. The instructor will provide additional guidelines on the required diversity of sources. Each student will present his/her major research points in class during discussion sections. Please use the MLA format of citations (author, year, page – in text, with full references on the last pages). Cite all the sources you use!

Statement on Academic Conduct and Support Systems

Academic Conduct
Plagiarism – presenting someone else’s ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Section 11, Behavior Violating University Standards https://scampus.usc.edu/1100-behavior-violating-university-standards-and-appropriate-sanctions/. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, http://policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct/.

Discrimination, sexual assault, and harassment are not tolerated by the university. You are encouraged to report any incidents to the Office of Equity and Diversity http://equity.usc.edu/ or to the Department of Public Safety http://capsnet.usc.edu/department/department-public-safety/online-forms/contact-us. This is important for the safety whole USC community. Another member of the university community – such as a friend, classmate, advisor, or faculty member – can help initiate the report, or can initiate the report on behalf of another person. The Center for Women and Men http://www.usc.edu/student-affairs/cwm/ provides 24/7 confidential
Support Systems
A number of USC’s schools provide support for students who need help with scholarly writing. Check with your advisor or program staff to find out more. Students whose primary language is not English should check with the American Language Institute http://dornsife.usc.edu/ali, which sponsors courses and workshops specifically for international graduate students. The Office of Disability Services and Programs http://sait.usc.edu/academicsupport/centerprograms/dsp/home_index.html provides certification for students with disabilities and helps arrange the relevant accommodations. If an officially declared emergency makes travel to campus infeasible, USC Emergency Information http://emergency.usc.edu will provide safety and other updates, including ways in which instruction will be continued by means of blackboard, teleconferencing, and other technology.
