Course Description and Overview
Students will learn the basic skills of stage management. They will come to understand the structure and inner workings of a professional theatre company from the stage manager’s point of view. Some of the classes will stress the skills and tools of stage management, with an emphasis on paperwork. Together, we will analyze the stage manager’s responsibilities to each element of the production, department by department. (Script analysis, schedules, props lists, reading a ground plan, costume plots, electrics, audio, blocking notation, cueing technique, computer skills, maintaining rehearsal scripts, rehearsal and performance reports, etc.) The remaining class sessions will place these skills and tools in context and propose strategies for more effective stage management.

Learning Objectives
Students will achieve familiarity and facility with the various forms of stage managerial paperwork and will begin through this introductory course to develop a philosophy of stage management that stresses rigorous planning, adaptability to changing circumstances, and effective leadership. Specific learning objectives include the ability to manage schedules, communication, and organization of space, people, materials and time needed to realize a theatrical production. They will gain a practical understanding of the relationships between a stage manager and all artistic staff (designers and technicians) and the ability to facilitate communication among the members of the staff in day to day and emergency situations; they will create an abbreviated but working production prompt book, which accurately records all production details from actor movement to tracking of props, scenery, costumes and placement of all ephemeral design cues.

A letter of verification for approved accommodations can be obtained from DSP. Please be sure the letter is delivered to me (or to TA) as early in the semester as possible. DSP is located in STU 301 and is open 8:30 a.m.–5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. Statement on Academic Integrity
USC seeks to maintain an optimal learning environment. General principles of academic honesty include the concept of respect for the intellectual property of others, the expectation that individual work will be submitted unless otherwise allowed by an instructor, and the obligations both to protect one’s own academic work from misuse by others as well as to avoid using another’s work as one’s own. All students are expected to understand and abide by these principles. SCampus, the Student Guidebook, (www.usc.edu/scampus or http://scampus.usc.edu) contains the University Student Conduct Code (see University Governance, Section 11.00), while the recommended sanctions are located in Appendix A.

Emergency Preparedness/Course Continuity in a Crisis
In case of a declared emergency if travel to campus is not feasible, USC executive leadership will announce an electronic way for instructors to teach students in their residence halls or homes using a combination of Blackboard, teleconferencing, and other technologies.
