Course Description

An introduction to concepts and analysis methods of fluid mechanics. Topics covered include: hydrostatics; buoyancy; conservation of mass, momentum, and energy in integral and differential form; dimensional analysis; control volume analysis; open channel flows; boundary layers; lift and drag on objects; laminar and turbulent pipe flow; compressible flow; potential flow over bodies.

Co-Requisite (s): MATH 245
Recommended Preparation: AME 201, AME 310

Textbook Frank White, Fluid Mechanics, 7th Ed or newer, McGraw-Hill, Inc. (required)
 (can be any convenient edition from #6 onwards. Electronic ok.)

Grading 15% Homework | 15% Project | 2 x 20% Midterm Exams | 30% Final Exam

Discussion Board

This course will use Piazza for all class discussions. Refrain from emailing questions related to assignments, midterms, etc., and instead use Piazza. TA's, myself and even you can answer questions as they arise, thus providing an efficient means for communication. If you have issues accessing the Piazza, contact team@piazza.com directly. Before the semester begins, verify that you have access to these websites; Piazza is accessed from within the Blackboard page. Recommended download: Piazza App for phones. It works!

Exams There are two Midterms and one cumulative Final Exam. See the course schedule.

Project AME 309 includes a design project where theory is put into practice. Previous semesters have designed, constructed and launched a soda bottle water rocket; here's a video from a previous launch: <http://vimeo.com/81151514>. A project of similar theme will be completed this semester as well.

Software Matlab: student license available at <http://software.usc.edu/>
MS-Excel: student license available at <https://itservices.usc.edu/officestudents/>
 These programs are also available in all USC computer labs.

Schedule See next page

Date	Topics	Due	Reading
9-Jan	Characterizing a fluid and the state-of-stress in a fluid		Ch.1
11-Jan
16-Jan	Fluid statics: manometry, forces on submerged surfaces	HW1	Ch.2
18-Jan
23-Jan	Conservation of mass		Ch.3
25-Jan		HW2
30-Jan	Conservation of momentum
1-Feb		HW3
6-Feb	Conservation of energy, Bernoulli's Equation
8-Feb		HW4
13-Feb
15-Feb	Concepts from dimensional analysis		Ch.5
20-Feb	Midterm Review	HW5
22-Feb	Midterm 1 (Thursday, February 22nd)	MT1
27-Feb	Design Project Requirements – Written reports (DR1, DR2, and final DR)
1-Mar	Viscous flow in pipes and ducts (with losses)		Ch.6
6-Mar	Boundary layer flows	DR1	Ch.7
8-Mar
20-Mar	Flow past bluff bodies
22-Mar		HW6
27-Mar	Midterm Review	DR2
29-Mar		HW7
3-Apr	Midterm 2 (Tuesday, April 3rd)	MT2
5-Apr	Compressible flow (subsonic & supersonic, shock waves)		Ch.9
6-Apr	Design Project Test Day (Friday, April 6th)
10-Apr	Compressible flow (continued)
12-Apr
17-Apr	Compressible flow (continued)
19-Apr	{no lecture}
24-Apr	Equations of Motion in Differential Form	HW8	Ch.4
26-Apr		DR
3-May	Final Exam (Thursday, May 3rd 4:30-6:30 pm)

Description and Assessment of Assignments

There will be two Midterm Exams held during the regular lecture time, and one Final Exam. All written exams will be closed book and closed notes unless noted otherwise. Homework sets will be assigned weekly. It is your responsibility to complete the problem set and to submit the assignment before the due date. Assignments are due before class begins, or as specified in class announcements. Physical documents must be handed in; electronic submissions will not be accepted. All assignments are due before the start of lecture. Late assignments will not be accepted. One microsecond (1 μ s) late is considered late and there are no exceptions.

In order to receive credit for your work, all homework and exam problems must be presented in a clear, organized manner. Solutions must show evidence of work; “magic” answers will not be accepted. Partial credit may be given if the solution is presented in a logical fashion. There are office hours throughout the week to help you with the course material; this time is best utilized when students come prepared with an attempt at a solution, thus allowing us to help you through your thought process.

There are no make-up assignments or exams. The lowest homework grade will be dropped from your total score; use this to your advantage if you have an upcoming schedule conflict. Everything else will count towards the final grade. Absences for medical reasons must be justified with some verifiable evidence; first obtain doctor’s note, then see your instructor.

All homework and exams are to be completed as an individual. Failure to comply with this requirement will result in a failing grade for the course. All students should read and understand the Academic Conduct section on the following pages.

Academic Conduct

Plagiarism – presenting someone else’s ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Section 11, Behavior Violating University Standards <https://scampus.usc.edu/b/11-00-behavior-violating-university-standards-and-appropriate-sanctions/>, and view the guidelines presented in Appendix A at the end of this document. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, <http://policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct>.

Discrimination, sexual assault, and harassment are not tolerated by the university. You are encouraged to report any incidents to the Office of Equity and Diversity <http://equity.usc.edu> or to the Department of Public Safety <http://capsnet.usc.edu/department/department-public-safety/online-forms/contact-us>. This is important for the safety of the whole USC community. Another member of the university community – such as a friend, classmate, advisor, or faculty member – can help initiate the report, or can initiate the report on behalf of another person. The Center for Women and Men <http://www.usc.edu/student-affairs/cwm/> provides 24/7 confidential support, and the sexual assault resource center webpage <http://sarc.usc.edu> describes reporting options and other resources.

Support Systems

A number of USC’s schools provide support for students who need help with scholarly writing. Check with your advisor or program staff to find out more. Students whose primary language is not English should check with the American Language Institute <http://dornsife.usc.edu/ali>, which sponsors courses and workshops specifically for international graduate students. The Office of Disability Services and Programs <http://dsp.usc.edu/> provides certification for students with disabilities and helps arrange the relevant accommodations. If an officially declared emergency makes travel to campus infeasible, USC Emergency Information <http://emergency.usc.edu> will provide safety and other updates, including ways in which instruction will be continued by means of blackboard, teleconferencing, and other technology.
