I. COURSE PREREQUISITES

SOWK 544, 506, 546, 536, 589A

| Social Work Practice with Children, Youth, and Families is the introductory specialized practice course of the Department of Children, Youth, and Families. Students will have successfully completed the generalist semester before enrolling in this course.

II. CATALOGUE DESCRIPTION

This course introduces students to the concepts essential to understand typical development of children and families from birth through adolescence and the difficulties that may arise in that development from an ecological perspective. Assessment, and engagement of families, is a core component. Interventions are introduced.

III. COURSE DESCRIPTION

| As the introductory specialized practice course in the Department of Children, Youth, and Families, this course will introduce students to understanding development of the child within the family and the role that the larger social environment has on that development. This will be done by highlighting current research that informs these theories. It will highlight risk and protective factors and common problems that can occur during each stage. It will present ways to engage with children and families in a developmentally appropriate manner through use of evidence supported interventions at the micro, macro, and mezzo levels.

IV. COURSE OBJECTIVES

Social Work Practice with Children, Youth and Families (SOWK 609) will:

| Objective No. | Objectives |
|----------------------|---|
| 1 | Teach typical development of children and families from infancy through adolescence understanding cultural and environmental factors that influence that development. |
| 2 | Teach about risk and protective factors throughout development with a particular focus on how adverse childhood experiences can impact development. |
| 3 | Provide strategies for engagement with children and families from infancy through adolescence in a culturally and developmentally appropriate way. |
| 4 | Provide skills on conducting an ecological assessment of families and children and experiences for students to practice assessment. |
| 5 | Provide general principles of intervention with families and children. |
| 6 | Provide opportunities for students to enhance self-awareness by critically evaluating thoughts, feelings, and behaviors when working with children and families. |
| 7 | Provide knowledge on the role of science in guiding assessment and intervention choices of children and their families and the way in which that evidence creates changes in our understanding of children and their families and choices of appropriate intervention |
| 8 | Provide knowledge on the importance of intervention on micro, mezzo, and macro systems levels and the role of social policy in influencing decisions in working with children and their families. |

V. COURSE FORMAT / INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

The format of the course will consist of didactic instruction and experiential exercises. Case vignettes, videos, and role plays will also be used to facilitate the students' learning. These exercises may include the use of videotapes, role-play, or structured small group exercises. Material from the field will be used to illustrate class content and to provide integration between class and field. Confidentiality of material shared in class will be maintained. As class discussion is an integral part of the learning process, students are expected to come to class ready to discuss required reading and its application to theory and practice.

V. STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

IV. COURSE ASSIGNMENTS, DUE DATES, AND GRADING

| Assignment | Due Date | % of Final Grade |

| Paper | Week 9 (Part 1) & Week 15 (Part 2) | 40% |
| Group Work | Ongoing | 10% |
| Class Participation | Ongoing | 10% |

Class grades will be based on the following:

| Class Grades | | Final Grade | |
|--------------|----|-------------|----|
| 3.85–4 | A | 93–100 | A |
| 3.60–3.84 | A- | 90–92 | A- |

| 1.90–2.24 | C | 73–76 | C |
| | | 70–72 | C- |

Within the School of Social Work, grades are determined in each class based on the following standards, which have been established by the faculty of the School: (1) Grades of A or A- are reserved for student work that not only demonstrates very good mastery of content but that also shows that the student has undertaken a complex task, has applied critical thinking skills to the assignment, and/or has demonstrated creativity in her or his approach to the assignment. The difference between these two grades would be determined by the degree to which these skills have been demonstrated by the student. (2) A grade of B+ will be given to work that is judged to be very good. This grade denotes that a student has demonstrated a more-than-competent understanding of the material being tested in the assignment. (3) A grade of B will be given to student work that meets the basic requirements of the assignment. It denotes that the student has done adequate work on the assignment and meets basic course expectations. (4) A grade of B- will denote that a student's performance was less than adequate on an assignment, reflecting only moderate grasp of content and/or expectations. (5) A grade of C would reflect a minimal grasp of the assignments, poor organization of ideas, and/or several significant areas requiring improvement. (6) Grades between C- and F will be applied to denote a failure to meet minimum standards, reflecting serious deficiencies in all aspects of a student's performance on the assignment.

Each of the major assignments is described below

Assignment 1: Quiz. Quiz will include a variation of multiple choice, matching and fill in the blank.

Quiz 1 (Week 3): Covers Weeks 1–2. Quiz is available beginning at the end of class time Week 3 and closes out by the start of class time Week 4.

Quiz 2 (Week 6): Covers Weeks 3–5.

Quiz 3 (Week 10): Covers Weeks 6–9.

Quiz 4 (Week 12): Covers Weeks 10–11.

Quiz will be done on the VAC platform and will cover content only from the Wiley (main) textbook. Quiz must be done independently and will be timed for 30 minutes. Quiz must be completed anytime during the open time period from Friday 8 p.m. to Friday 8 p.m. the week the quiz is due.

This assignment relates to student learning outcomes 6a and 7a.

Assignment 2: Paper: Within this research paper, the student is allowed to cover any developmental period. Choose one stage of development and describe the issues of that stage from a biological, social, cultural, and psychological perspective. Note how the stage the student chooses may be impacted by issues such as gender, socioeconomic status, culture, race/ethnicity, sexual orientation, etc. Choose a problem that could arise in this stage, describe the problem, and discuss possible interventions. Also, describe how you would assess a child and family with this problem and how you would engage them in an intervention process. The student's paper will be between 13-15 pages. Due Week 15 by the start of class.

Part 1: On Week 9, the 1st 2 pages of the paper is due. This is including the Introduction and the Stage of Development the student is researching. This is to ensure the student will get initial feedback around the topic chosen, writing skills and formatting. The paper will not be graded, but will be given a "credit" or "no credit" score. If this assignment is not turned in or turned on by the Week 9 due date, there will be a half grade reduction on the paper (A- then becomes a B+).

Part 2: The complete paper is due Week 15 by the start of class. Student will take feedback from Part 1 and incorporate it into the complete paper.

This assignment relates to student learning outcomes 6a and 7a.

Assignment 3: Group Work. You will work in groups throughout the semester on exercises presented by the instructor or developed by the group. This material will then be presented to the class as a whole. Your performance will be judged by your willingness to participate, your preparation for the groups by having done the required readings, and your mastery of the material in class exercises.

Assignment 4: Class Participation. It is expected that students will attend class regularly, participate in the class discussions, and submit work promptly. Failure to meet these expectations may result in a reduction in grades.

Your involvement in this class is considered essential to your growth as a practitioner. You will be asked to discuss the material assigned, participate in role-playing, exercises, etc. Knowing the "right" answers is not nearly as important as being willing to risk and explore your ideas, and being open to new information and ideas. Your presence in class along with preparation by having read and considered the assignments, and participation in discussion, is essential. Participation on a course website (message board/chat room), if developed, also constitutes meaningful class participation.

Guidelines for Evaluating Class Participation

10: Outstanding Contributor: Contributions in class reflect exceptional preparation, and participation is substantial. Ideas offered are always substantive, provides one or more major insights, as well as direction for the class. Application to cases held is on target and on topic. Challenges are well substantiated, persuasively presented, and presented with excellent comportment. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion would be diminished markedly. Exemplary behavior in experiential exercises demonstrating on-target behavior in role-plays, small-group discussions, and other activities.

9: Very Good Contributor: Contributions in class reflect thorough preparation, and frequency in participation is high. Ideas offered are usually substantive, provide good insights, and sometimes direction for the class. Application to cases held is usually on target and on topic. Challenges are well substantiated, often persuasive, and presented with excellent comportment. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion would be diminished. Good activity in experiential exercises demonstrating behavior that is usually on target in role-plays, small-group discussions, and other activities.

8: Good Contributor: Contributions in class reflect solid preparation. Ideas offered are usually substantive, and participation is very regular, provides generally useful insights, but seldom offers a new direction for the discussion. Sometimes provides application of class material to cases held. Challenges are sometimes presented, well substantiated, and are sometimes persuasive with good comportment. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion would be diminished somewhat. Behavior in experiential exercises demonstrates good understanding of methods in role-plays, small-group discussions, and other activities.

7: Adequate Contributor: Contributions in class reflect some preparation. Ideas offered are somewhat substantive, provides some insights, but seldom offers a new direction for the discussion. Participation is somewhat regular. Challenges are sometimes presented, and are sometimes persuasive with adequate comportsment. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion would be diminished slightly. Occasionally applies class content to cases. Behavior in experiential exercises is occasionally sporadically on target, demonstrating uneven understanding of methods in role-plays, small-group discussions, and other activities.

6: Inadequate: This person says little in class. Hence, there is not an adequate basis for evaluation. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion would not be changed. Does not participate actively in exercises but sits almost silently and does not ever present material to the class from exercises. Does not appear to be engaged.

5: Nonparticipant: Attends class only.

0: Unsatisfactory Contributor: Contributions in class reflect inadequate preparation. Ideas offered are seldom substantive, provides few if any insights, and never a constructive direction for the class. Integrative comments and effective challenges are absent. Comportsment is negative. If this person were not a member of the class, valuable air time would be saved. Is unable to perform exercises and detracts from the experience.

University Policies and Guidelines

IX. ATTENDANCE POLICY

Students are expected to attend every class and to remain in class for the duration of the unit. Failure to attend class or arriving late may impact your ability to achieve course objectives which could affect your course grade. Students are expected to notify the instructor by e-mail (xxx@usc.edu) of any anticipated absence or reason for tardiness.

University of Southern California policy permits students to be excused from class for the observance of religious holy days. This policy also covers scheduled final examinations which conflict with students' observance of a holy day. Students must make arrangements in advance to complete class work which will be missed, or to reschedule an examination, due to holy days observance.

Please refer to Scampus and to the USC School of Social Work Student Handbook for additional information on attendance policies.

X. ACADEMIC CONDUCT

XV. CODE OF ETHICS OF THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF SOCIAL WORKERS (OPTIONAL)

Approved by the 1996 NASW Delegate Assembly and revised by the 2008 NASW Delegate Assembly [http://www.socialworkers.org/pubs/Code/code.asp]

Preamble

The primary mission of the social work profession is to enhance human wellbeing and help meet the basic human needs of all people, with particular attention to the needs and empowerment of people who are vulnerable, oppressed, and living in poverty. A historic and defining feature of social work is the profession’s focus on individual wellbeing in a social context and the wellbeing of society. Fundamental to social work is attention to the environmental forces that create, contribute to, and address problems in living.

Social workers promote social justice and social change with and on behalf of clients. “Clients” is used inclusively to refer to individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. Social workers are sensitive to cultural and ethnic diversity and strive to end discrimination, oppression, poverty, and other forms of social injustice. These activities may be in the form of direct practice, community organizing, supervision, consultation administration, advocacy, social and political action, policy development and implementation, education, and research and evaluation. Social workers seek to enhance the capacity of people to address their own needs. Social workers also seek to promote the responsiveness of organizations, communities, and other social institutions to individuals' needs and social problems.

The mission of the social work profession is rooted in a set of core values. These core values, embraced by social workers throughout the profession's history, are the foundation of social work's unique purpose and perspective:

- Service
- Social justice
- Dignity and worth of the person
- Importance of human relationships
- Integrity
- Competence

This constellation of core values reflects what is unique to the social work profession. Core values, and the principles that flow from them, must be balanced within the context and complexity of the human experience.
