Course Description

Catalogue description: THTR 225. The analysis of a range of plays from different times and cultures with a consideration of the roles of actor, director, dramaturg, and designer. This course satisfies the university's general education requirement.

Course Overview

This course explores seven to eight touchstone theatre texts for the purpose of honing students' skills in critical and artistic analysis. While the plays selected may vary year to year or section to section, they will always include at least one work from ancient Greece and one from the Restoration/18th century. They will also always include a range of writers including Chekhov as well as a minimum of two plays by women and at least two plays by artists of color. (There may be overlap in these categories.) Students will make connections across cultures and historic periods through close textual reading and investigation of how a text functions as performance. Student will engage with the texts both as scholars and as potential actors, directors, dramaturgs, and designers.

Learning Objectives

- To build knowledge and appreciation of the ideas and controversies addressed by the selected texts in their cultural, historical, and theatrical contexts. (GE Context)

- To handle a range of analytical, research, and practical methodologies in critical studies. (GE Analysis)
- To analyze a range of texts from different periods of history and different cultures through close and careful reading. (GE Analysis)
- To make connections and contrasts between works of different historic periods and cultures. (GE Connectivity)
- To expand the student's knowledge about the creative process, as exemplified by specific works studied, by the student's making creative work in response. (GE Making)
- To write clearly and cogently in pursuit of a thesis, using appropriate textual and critical evidence. (GE Analysis and Context)

Prerequisite(s): none

Co-Requisite (s): none

Concurrent Enrollment: none

Recommended Preparation: THTR 125

Course Notes

Grading type: Letter grade.

Technological Proficiency and Hardware/Software Required n/a

Required Readings and Supplementary Materials

This course will be delivered in sections. In each section, students encounter plays from the following categories: Greek theatre, Restoration/18th century theatre, and a play by Chekhov. The remaining plays may be chosen from any culture or period but all students must be exposed to writers of all genders and from a diverse range of cultural backgrounds.

Primary Texts for Section 62775R

Sophocles. Antigone (Anne Carson translation; published by Oberon Classics)

Susanna Centlivre. The Busybody. (available in the anthology 18th-Century Women Dramatists or as a Google e-book)

Anton Chekhov. The Cherry Orchard (Sharon Carnicke translation; Hackett Classics)

Tanya Saracho. El Nogalar.

Alice Childress. Trouble in Mind. (available via the USC library ARES program)

August Wilson. Radio Golf.

Paula Vogel. Indecent.

Description and Assessment of Assignments

In addition to the mid-term and the final, there will be two written assignments and one creative assignment. See details below grading breakdown.

Grading Breakdown

Assignment	Points	% of grade
1. Close Reading	100	15
Midterm –Critical Paper		20
2. Creative Assignment	100	15
3. Annotated Bibliography	100	15
Final	100	20
Participation	100	15
Total	(weighted)	100

Detailed Description of Assignments:

Assignment 1: Close Reading. A close, analytical reading of an extract selected by the course instructor. Students will be asked to analyze the extract in terms of elements such as language, narrative, character, theme, imagery, and theatricality. (2 – 3 pages)

Midterm: Critical Paper. Students will be offered a choice of questions. Responses must draw on text #2 or #3 and will be expected to offer a detailed analysis of the chosen play presented in a clearly argued thesis. (4 – 5 pages)

Assignment 2: Creative Assignment. Using text #4 or #5, students choose one of the following options and respond to the task with reference to the whole play:

- ❖ Design: Students choosing to focus on design should submit annotated sketches for either set or costume design. The annotations should indicate how the design choices made were influenced by the text. Additionally, students should submit a 2-page reflection that assesses the effectiveness of their designs. (Annotated sketches plus 2-page reflection)
- ❖ Director's Notes: Students should create director's notes for one or two scenes. These notes should indicate the directorial vision for the particular scene(s). The notes should also place these scenes in the context of the whole play to demonstrate how the scenes illustrate the characters, narrative, theme, imagery, and theatricality of the play. (3 – 4 pages).
- ❖ Dramaturgical Notes: Imagining that they are fulfilling the role of dramaturg, students should carry out the necessary research to present key information (historical, theatrical, cultural, societal) which the director, actors, and designers would need to be aware of in order to realize the play effectively. Research notes should be annotated to indicate the ways in which the research is relevant to the play. (3 – 4 pages).
- ❖ Program Notes: Students create a set of program notes to introduce the audience members reading them to the author of the play, the historical period in which the play was written, the narrative and thematic concerns of the play, and its production history. (3 – 4 pages).

Assignment 3: Annotated Bibliography. Students will be given the questions for the Final Critical Paper and will produce an annotated bibliography that details the research they have carried out as part of their preparation for writing the Final examination. Students will be expected to include both primary texts and at least six secondary sources (chapters, articles, books) that relate to the topic they have chosen. For each secondary resource entry students will write 4 – 5 sentences explaining why the chosen source is relevant to their selected topic. (2 – 3 pages)

Final: Critical Paper. Students will write a critical paper that compares and contrasts at least two plays studied towards the end of the course. These will be specified by the course instructor. Questions will be set which encourage students to develop a clear thesis in response to the question chosen. (6 – 7 pages)

Assignment Submission Policy

All assignments should be submitted via Turnitin on Blackboard.

Grading Policy

Grading Scale for SDA: A indicates work of excellent quality; B of good quality; C of acceptable quality; D of poor quality; and F indicates inadequate work/failure.

Excellent: A (4) = 100-94; A- (3.7) = 93-90

Good: B+ (3.3) = 89-86; B (3) = 85-84; B- (2.7) = 83-80

Acceptable: C+ (2.3) = 79-76; C (2) = 75-74; C- (1.7) = 73-70

Poor: D+ (1.3) = 69 – 66; D = 65-64 (1); D = 63 - 60 (0.7) = 60s;

F (0) = 59 and below

- “Excellent” indicates that the student couples clear understanding of the class material with original and creative insight, as demonstrated by their work; “Good” means that the student demonstrates a clear understanding of the material and has done the work well; “Acceptable” indicates that the student demonstrates a general understanding of the material but with some gaps; “Poor” indicates that there are identifiable gaps in the student’s understanding of the class material; “Failure” is the result of the student not having completed his or her assignments coupled with poor understanding of the material.
- When the average falls between two grades, the final grade will be weighted toward the positive end of the scale for students whose attendance and participation in class have been good, and will be weighted toward the negative end of the scale for those with poor attendance and participation.

Additional Policies

Note: The SDA GUIDELINES on GRADING state that:

- There shall be no unexcused absences.
- No late assignments, projects, exams, papers, or exercises shall be accepted unless advance extensions have been arranged between the student and the teacher or unless exceptional circumstances occur. Under such exceptional circumstances, no late penalties will accrue.

Attendance and Participation

Learning in class depends on the layering of intellectual discovery resulting from the consistent active exploration of 100 percent of the material covered in class. No absence or tardiness is allowed. Cumulative active class participation points will be lost.

How is participation determined?

Participation includes: presentations; in-class exercises; discussion; etc. The participation grade is determined as follows: For each class session, you get a check mark for showing up (which constitutes a B); you get a check mark with a plus sign (+) if you participate actively and diligently (which constitutes an A); you get a check mark with a negative sign (-) if your participation is less than adequate (which constitutes a C). If you are not present, you get a zero.

Additional Policies

Participation is essential and figures into your grade. Your participation is necessary not only for the development of your own work, but for the development of your colleagues' work as well. Please honor your obligation to your colleagues' work and contribute to the discussion.

1. You are entering into a collaborative relationship with fellow students and, thus, it is your responsibility to be available to your workshop colleagues for feedback, analysis, and support.
2. All class members must be treated with respect.
3. You are required to attend the workshop and to be on time. Tardiness is defined as being 15 minutes late or more. Excessive tardiness will affect your ongoing writing and participation grade.
4. Though SDA's policy states that there are no unexcused absences, please note that I will excuse absences for certain specific reasons. Absences that may be excused include those that are for reasons of illness or emergency, and you must notify me in writing (preferably in advance). For the most part, if you are doing your work diligently and if you communicate with me, I will excuse a legitimate absence.
5. All assignments, written and/or otherwise, must be prepared on time and turned in (or presented) on the deadline date. Late assignments will be marked down due to the missed deadline. Assignments not turned in within a week of deadline count as missed assignments (zero credit).
6. IF YOU MISS CLASS: It is your responsibility—and SOLELY YOUR RESPONSIBILITY—to make up work you have missed and to obtain information about missed class discussions or missed assignments from your classmates or Blackboard, not from me. I will not be repeating lectures or class discussion; you will need to make arrangements to do independent research on whatever topics you have missed to keep up with the workshop. You will also need to keep in contact with your classmates to obtain notes and/or information re: what you missed. Again: Do not request notes or information from me. Course materials can be found on the Blackboard site for this course. For your syllabus, handouts, etc., go to Blackboard.
7. Please check your e-mail regularly to see if there are any changes in class meeting place, etc. On rare occasions, it becomes necessary to schedule a new location for class meeting. If I am unable to provide you with this information in the preceding class, I will send you the information via e-mail and/or text message.
8. We're going green in this classroom, so you will be turning in your assignments on Blackboard and you will be doing your presentations by projecting your documents onto the screen in the classroom from your computer, thus eliminating the need for paper. Instructions on how to do this will be provided. For collaborations, you may work on Google documents that may be team-edited via Google Drive.
9. If you desire an appointment with me, you are required to contact me via e-mail or text message at least 24 hours in advance, otherwise there is no guarantee I will receive your message with sufficient time to make arrangements to meet with you. Please note that I have included multiple ways to contact me on the front page of this syllabus.
