None

II. CATALOGUE DESCRIPTION

Methods and principles of leadership and management applied to social work practice, understood as policy, management and clinical practice in the non-profit sector, health and human service organizations, and non-traditional social work settings.

III. COURSE DESCRIPTION

Students are exposed to leadership and management theories and evidence based models to enhance social work practice in health and human service organizations and non-traditional social work settings. This introductory course has three main goals: (1) to self-discover and improve leadership and management skills focusing on positive and effective social change; (2) to examine how leadership is enacted at different levels in organizations and communities by exposing social work students to theories and applications to real-world practice settings; and (3) to analyze the roles, functions, and responsibilities of human service leaders, including elected officials, social justice and community organizers working in diverse social work fields. This course prepares graduate students to understand their own sources of leadership, as well as evidence-based management practices to effectively respond to organizations' current challenges and opportunities. Topics to be covered include: self-leadership analysis, the role of empathy in leadership, evidence-based mezzo and macro practices, management and organization practice, gender, cultural, and ethnic issues in resource development, and managing and working in complex settings. Increase in self-awareness of leadership and management competencies through self-rating questionnaires, exercises, assignments, instruments and case studies are integral aspects of learning. This course is built on the integration of leadership, management, and understanding of the context, in which excellence in practice takes place as essential components of social work.

IV. COURSE OBJECTIVES

The Leadership and Management in the Social Work Profession and Organizations Course (SOWK 611) will:

Objective #	Objectives
1	Provide a multidisciplinary framework for the application of personal, interpersonal, team and organizational leadership skills applied to social work practice.
2	Demonstrate critical analysis of means to assess students' strength-based leadership skills and empathic attributes as key references to develop a plan to augment their leadership skills.
3	Increase awareness of organizational behavior, including management, effective communication, collaboration, conflict resolutions, human resource and strategic management skills.
4	Provide instruments for organizational, management, and leadership analysis to assess the effectiveness of operations in health and human service agencies and non-traditional social work organizations within the context of current socio-economic, organizational and political trends. Emphasis will be given to diversity and cultural proficiency in the work place.
5	Enhance development of research-driven focus to the evidence based foundation needed for students to develop core knowledge of leadership and management concepts, applications and open their options for innovative roles during placement and after graduation.

V. COURSE FORMAT / INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

The format of the course will consist of didactic instruction and experiential exercises. Case vignettes, videos, and role plays will also be used to facilitate the students' learning. These exercises may include the use of videotapes, role-play, or structured small group exercises. Material from the field will be used to illustrate class content and to provide integration between class and field. Confidentiality of material shared in class will be maintained. As class discussion is an integral part of the learning process, students are expected to come to class ready to discuss required reading and its application to theory and practice.

Social workers understand the global interconnections of oppression and human rights violations and employ social justice strategies to promote social and economic justice and human rights for children and families and the communities in which they live. Social workers use strategies designed to eliminate oppressive structural barriers in order to ensure more equitable distribution of social goods, rights, services, and responsibilities and to protect the civil, political, environmental, economic, social, and cultural rights of children, youth, and families. Social workers are aware of the historical and current impact of colonization and globalization on children, youth and families, and incorporate social justice practices to bear witness to and actively dismantle oppression and foster liberation.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Each assignment is described below. DUE AT BEGINNING OF CLASS

Assignment 1 (30% of Course Grade)

Students will be asked to complete a 6-8-page paper based on their leadership attributes and strengths. The Leadership Discovery Assignment can effectively guide the further development of student leadership skills, empathy attributes, actions, and other positive behaviors. Based on leadership assessments, students will identify current strengths; the ones they wish to augment, and negative behaviors to eliminate. An array of inputs will inform the leadership discovery paper, including results from the various leadership and management assessments taken during the first six weeks of the course.

Due: Feb 21.

This assignment relates to student learning outcome 1, 7, 9.

Assignment 2 (30% of Course Grade)

Students will be asked to complete a 6-8 page paper on the Development of a Personal Leadership Vision and Self-Efficacy Plan. The goal of this assignment is for students to formulate a personal vision and leadership plan based on results obtained from Assignment 1. The paper will include each student's short, intermediate and long term self-efficacy plan to practice and develop their top leadership attributes. It will also include specific goals and objectives to continue applying and developing their leadership skills.

Due: March 14.

This assignment relates to student learning outcome 2, 5 – 9.

Assignment 3 and Presentation (30% of Course Grade)

Using the national stage as the backdrop for this assignment, the final assignment will be a written paper and class presentation analyzing the leadership qualities of key national leaders and the potential impact on a chosen vulnerable population. Students (in groups of two or three) will be assigned the leader for analysis, but students will choose the vulnerable population of interest. There will be both a complete written paper (6-8 pages) and a 20–25 minute engaging presentation where students will use the course concepts to analyze their assigned leader's characteristics, such as leadership approach/theory, uses of power, emotional intelligence, communication style, ethics, and the impact of their style/approach on vulnerable populations. Note: This assignment will neither focus on politics nor engage in an analysis of the assigned leaders' political views. It is based on the analysis of leadership styles.

Due: April 11.

This assignment relates to student learning outcome 1 - 9.

Class Participation (10% of Course Grade)

Your involvement in this class is considered essential to your growth as a practitioner. Your presence and active engagement in class, along with being prepared by having read, and completed assignments and leadership assessments prior to class, are very important. Active participation in class discussions and group activities are part of the grade.

Class grades will be based on the following:

Class Grades		Final Grade
3.85 – 4	A	93 – 100	A
3.60 – 3.84	A-	90 – 92	A-
3.25 – 3.59	B+	87 – 89	B+
2.90 – 3.24	B	83 – 86	B
2.60 – 2.87	B-	80 – 82	B-
2.25 – 2.50	C+	77 – 79	C+
1.90 – 2.24	C	73 – 76	C
		70 – 72	C-

Within the School of Social Work, grades are determined in each class based on the following standards, which have been established by the faculty of the School: (1) Grades of A or A- are reserved for student work, which not only demonstrates very good mastery of content, but also shows that the student has undertaken a complex task, has applied critical thinking skills to the assignment, and/or has demonstrated creativity in her or his approach to the assignment. The difference between these two grades is determined by the degree to which these skills have been demonstrated by the student. (2) A grade of B+ will be given for student work that is judged as very good. This grade denotes that a student has demonstrated a more-than-competent understanding of the material being tested in the assignment. (3) A grade of B will be given to student work which meets the basic requirements of the assignment. It denotes that the student has done adequate work on the assignment and meets basic course expectations. (4) A grade of B- will denote that a student's performance was less than adequate on an assignment, reflecting only moderate grasp of content and/or expectations. (5) A grade of C would reflect a minimal grasp of the assignments, poor organization of ideas and/or several significant areas requiring improvement. (6) Grades between C- and F will be applied to denote a failure to meet minimum standards, reflecting serious deficiencies in all aspects of a student's performance on the assignment.

University Policies and Guidelines

IX. ATTENDANCE POLICY

Students are expected to attend every class and to remain in class for the duration of the unit. Failure to attend class or arriving late may impact your ability to achieve course objectives which could affect your course grade. Students are expected to notify the instructor by email of any anticipated absence or reason for tardiness.

University of Southern California policy permits students to be excused from class for the observance of religious holy days. This policy also covers scheduled final examinations which conflict with students' observance of a holy day. Students must make arrangements in advance to complete class work which will be missed, or to reschedule an examination, due to holy days observance.

Please refer to Scampus and to the USC School of Social Work Student Handbook for additional information on attendance policies.

X. ACADEMIC CONDUCT

Plagiarism – presenting someone else's ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Section 11, Behavior Violating University Standards <https://policy.usc.edu/scampus-part-b/>. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, <http://policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct/>.

XV. CODE OF ETHICS OF THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF SOCIAL WORKERS (OPTIONAL)

*Approved by the 1996 NASW Delegate Assembly and revised by the 2008 NASW Delegate Assembly
[<http://www.socialworkers.org/pubs/Code/code.asp>]*

Preamble

The primary mission of the social work profession is to enhance human wellbeing and help meet the basic human needs of all people, with particular attention to the needs and empowerment of people who are vulnerable, oppressed, and living in poverty. A historic and defining feature of social work is the profession’s focus on individual wellbeing in a social context and the wellbeing of society. Fundamental to social work is attention to the environmental forces that create, contribute to, and address problems in living.

Social workers promote social justice and social change with and on behalf of clients. “Clients” is used inclusively to refer to individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. Social workers are sensitive to cultural and ethnic diversity and strive to end discrimination, oppression, poverty, and other forms of social injustice. These activities may be in the form of direct practice, community organizing, supervision, consultation administration, advocacy, social and political action, policy development and implementation, education, and research and evaluation. Social workers seek to enhance the capacity of people to address their own needs. Social workers also seek to promote the responsiveness of organizations, communities, and other social institutions to individuals' needs and social problems.

The mission of the social work profession is rooted in a set of core values. These core values, embraced by social workers throughout the profession's history, are the foundation of social work's unique purpose and perspective:

- Service
- Social justice
- Dignity and worth of the person
- Importance of human relationships
- Integrity
- Competence

This constellation of core values reflects what is unique to the social work profession. Core values, and the principles that flow from them, must be balanced within the context and complexity of the human experience.
