Simultaneously celebrated and despised, the selfie has become part and parcel of 21st century communication culture. This course is designed to help students understand the implications of living in a society saturated with image-based, networked media. Each class is designed around themes such as intimacy, surveillance, activism and celebrity-culture that are aimed at asking, what do selfies do and what do they say about us?

(Fall 2018, Thurs, 2:00-5:50 PM, SCA 216
Instructor: Anirban Baishya)