CTWR 211g: THE TV WRITER: AN AGENT OF CHANGE

CTWR 211g is part of the General Education curriculum in The Arts category.

Television writers always have challenged our biases of gender, race, sexual orientation, social, and economic attitudes. Through screenings, readings, and first-hand guest accounts, CTWR 211g will take an in-depth look at the television writer as a powerful agent of change, shaping our views and pushing our cultural boundaries.

Screenings may include:

OPEN REGISTRATION

Mondays, 1:00-4:50pm
4 units - #19214R
Professor Sonja Warfield

Fair warning: This class will deal with controversial topics and there may or may not be trigger warnings for each topic that might offend.