COURSE GOALS
The overall goal of this course is to develop your professional communication skills and knowledge. While we will cover some theory to enhance your understanding of the business world, the bulk of our time will be spent focused on gaining applied skills in the communication field. I would like you to walk out of this class confident that you can deliver excellent presentations; be comfortable and successful in interviews; write first-rate cover letters and resumes; and have a basic understanding of important communication and business-related issues that you will encounter in the work force.

REQUIRED COURSE TEXT
• Additional required readings will be posted throughout the semester or provided in class.

OPTIONAL READING MATERIALS

COURSE STANDARDS
1. Consistent attendance, punctuality and active class participation are essential to your success and will affect your grade. I expect contributions to the class discussion to be courteous and clearly demonstrate the student has read the course materials.
2. Missing class is no more acceptable than it would be to miss work. Excessive absences and tardiness will adversely affect your grade.
3. Check our class Blackboard site every day for class announcements. I post announcements frequently throughout the semester. You are responsible for keeping up to date.
4. Many topics are addressed in a single class session. It is your responsibility to obtain materials from a missed class from Blackboard and a classmate. If you still have question, I will be happy to assist.
5. Presentations and papers must be the original work of the student and not used for any other course. Violation of this policy is an Academic Integrity Violation.
6. Questions about grades should be addressed in a timely manner, within two weeks of receiving the grade.
7. Student’s attire should be appropriate for a business setting on speech days.
8. Typos, grammatical and punctuation errors, page layout inconsistencies, etc. count. Proofread your work!
9. Important note: Do not rely on class lectures to present the content that is found in the assigned readings. You are expected to come to class prepared so that the activities and guest speakers will prove valuable and enrich your learning experience.
COURSE POLICIES

1. The deadline for any assignment, reading, or presentation is at the very beginning of the class that it is due. These deadlines will come up often: don’t allow yourself to fall behind!

2. Electronic Devices: In order to create the best possible learning environment, I ask you to please turn off your cell phones and put away your laptops/tablets when you enter our classroom. There may be specific class sessions in which laptops will be allowed.

3. Late Assignment Consideration: Extensions are never guaranteed nor should they be expected for any reason (even good ones). I will consider an extension only under the following conditions: the student requests an extension before the assignment is due, and the student has a verifiable emergency.

4. Missed Presentations or Exams: The extension policy is the same as it is with late assignments. We will not have time for make-up presentations during class time. The student must arrange out of class time to present individually to me or to take your exam during my office hour. Please note if you fail to attend class on the day you are scheduled to present (and have not made prior arrangements with me), you will receive an irrevocable failing grade on the presentation.

5. Participation points given for class activities cannot be made up if the student misses class.

6. Any student who misses more than four class sessions may fail the course.

7. You must complete all assignments to pass the course.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY POLICY

The Annenberg School of Communication & Journalism is committed to the highest standards of academic excellence and ethical support. Presenting someone else’s ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words is plagiarism; it is a serious academic offense met with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in Scampus in Section 11, Behavior Violating University Standards https://scampus.usc.edu/1100-behavior-violating-university-standards-and-appropriate-sanctions. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in Scampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, http://policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct. The policies, procedures, and guidelines protect your rights, as well as those of the faculty. It is particularly important that you are aware of and avoid plagiarism, cheating on exams, fabricating data for a project, submitting a paper to more than one professor, or submitting a paper authored by anyone but yourself. If you have doubts about any of these practices, consult with a faculty member or the Director of Undergraduate Studies.

ADA COMPLIANCE STATEMENT

Any student requesting academic accommodation based on a disability is required to register with Disability Services and Programs (DSP) each semester. A letter of verification for approved accommodations can be obtained from DSP. Please be sure the letter is delivered to your instructor (or TA) as early in the semester as possible. DSP is located in STU 301 and is open 8:30 a.m. – 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. The phone number for DSP is 213-740-0776.

ASSIGNMENTS/GRADING

To achieve a “C” or better on written assignments, you must write at a level appropriate for a university student, i.e., with correct grammar, punctuation and spelling. I believe a “B” represents really good work. An “A” represents excellent work. If you are disappointed by a grade, I would be happy to discuss your work with you and help you improve for the next assignment. Remember, university professors grade based on achievement, not for effort.

DESCRIPTIONS OF ASSIGNMENTS
(See Blackboard for the complete assignments)

Introductory Presentation
This short presentation allows me to see your current public speaking skills. Topic and format will be announced in class.

Informative Presentation
This presentation, given in teams of two, will consist of noteworthy current events or new trends. I will approve each topic, as only one team per topic is allowed. You may pick your own partner or I can select one for you.

Group Assignment
The class will be broken into three groups (that I select); each group will be provided with a different course topic. All members of the team will develop and prepare an engaging and informative presentation.

Informational Interview
For this project, you will interview an individual that currently holds a job that you are considering. The interviewee must hold a position that you would be qualified for within three years after graduation (i.e. no management positions). You will write a 1-2 page report of your experience and orally share key points with your classmates. This assignment is more time-consuming then it looks. Start early!
Job Package
Your completed job package is the key to a successful job search. For this assignment, you will locate a job listing, develop a cover letter, resume and obtain references. Be prepared to edit multiple times!

Persuasive Presentation
You will individually prepare and deliver a presentation with PowerPoint (or similar) to a foundation with the intent of persuading them to fund your charity. As with any business-related presentation – particularly those requesting donated funds in support of a cause – careful research, preparation and practice are critical to make this a successful presentation.

Exams & Quizzes
There will be a midterm and final exam that will consist of any combination of multiple choice, short answer and essay questions taken from your readings, class lectures, discussions, and activities. Additionally, if I determine that students are not completing the assigned readings, you can expect unannounced quizzes.
