Course Description
Students will gain an understanding of visual journalism through theory and practical application while exploring current and emerging story forms. Students will learn video for digital platforms, principles of photography, design for web and mobile platforms, and the roles each play in interactive and engaging storytelling. An emphasis will be placed on narrative, documentary-style video and visual stories for web and social media.

Students also will learn elements of design related to typography, layout, engagement and user interface as they apply to journalistic story forms across platforms. Social media will also be an integral outlet for photo and video stories. In addition to providing you with skills necessary to produce journalistic multimedia stories, including videos and audio slideshows, we will also cover an introduction to principles of digital news design, interactivity and presentation. Ethical, legal and social issues affecting visual journalists will be discussed.

We will take a practical, hands-on approach in this class. An introduction to photo, audio and video editing software will be provided.

A modern mobile device or tablet device with a camera such as the iPhone 7 Plus or Samsung Galaxy S8, will be used as a primary content gathering device in the class. The device, mobile apps (shooting, editing and special purpose) and additional equipment are also major topics addressed during the course. You are required to have specific mobile journalism accessories, including an external mic, gorillapod, and headphones. Virtually all assignments for this class may be done on your modern mobile device. Using DSLRs are optional for video assignments. There will be a section on this course that introduces students to basics of DSLR cameras and its functions.

Overall Learning Objectives and Assessment
• Students will learn and practice the skills to create short, narrative style video journalism content for web and social platforms.
• Students will be able to demonstrate an understanding of the principles of photojournalism, including composition, framing, light, color, editing and depth of field.
• Students will learn how to use video, audio and graphic elements to create and design news and information for the web, social media and mobile devices.
• Students will demonstrate the ability to work as a journalist with industry-standard DSLR and mobile gear to enhance and tell compelling stories using a variety of mobile apps and techniques.
• Students will demonstrate a basic understanding of principles of news design, interactivity and engagement.
• Students will understand ethical codes of professional journalists, and legal issues involved in visual journalism.
Description of Assignments
We will focus on creating and publishing multimedia stories. Your multimedia stories must be local, campus or community-related. You will work individually on most projects, but may also be assigned to work in teams for some assignments. As part of this class, students will complete a combination of the following: A major video story for the web or social media, photo series for the web or social media, audio slideshow assignment for Web or social media, photo narrative assignment on Instagram, design assignment, and miscellaneous class assignments. At your instructor’s discretion, some assignments may be in coordination with your writing and reporting classes and/or the Annenberg Media Center.
Assignments will be published natively to social media platforms and/or using Adobe Spark Page.

Grading Standards

Telling compelling stories is critical for your assignments. Strong characters, visuals and good reporting is essential for your projects. In addition to the concepts above and those covered in lectures and readings, assignments will be graded on accuracy, grammar, spelling, AP style, clarity, deadlines, conciseness, structure, proper punctuation, quality of interviews/reporting and use of quotes (if applicable), use/number/quality of sources, attribution, research, objectivity, etc. You must abide by the Society of Professional Journalists Code of Ethics (http://www.spj.org/ethicscode.asp), NPPA (https://nppa.org/ethics), SND (http://www.snd.org) and the RTNDA Code of Ethics (http://www.rtdna.org/content/rdna_code_of_ethics#.VTNMjItAwUU). Grading will be based on the quality of work and application of principles and concepts learned in class and from required readings. Criteria for grading also includes quality of audio, storytelling, accuracy, technical quality. Grading will also be based on meeting deadlines. Late work is not accepted in this class. For story assignments, publishable work taking into account audience, engagement and platform/outlet will receive an A. Content with minor errors will receive a B. Stories with several errors will receive a C. Stories with many errors will receive a D. Any assignment with a Gross Factual Error (GFE, such as a name misspelling or incorrect fact) will receive an F.

Assignment Submission Policy

A. All assignments are due on the dates specified. Lacking prior discussion and agreement with the instructor, late assignments will automatically be given a grade of F.

B. Assignments must be submitted via Blackboard and/or the Media Center unless otherwise indicated by your instructor.

C. Assignments are due before the start of class on the date indicated unless otherwise indicated by your instructor.

IX. Policies and Procedures

Internships

The value of professional internships as part of the overall educational experience of our students has long been recognized by the School of Journalism. Accordingly, while internships are not required for successful completion of this course, any student enrolled in this course that undertakes and completes an approved, non-paid internship during this semester shall earn academic extra credit herein of an amount equal to 1 percent of the total available semester points for this course. To receive instructor approval, a student must request an internship letter from the Annenberg Career Development Office and bring it to the instructor to sign by the end of the third week of classes. The student must submit the signed letter to the media organization, along with the evaluation form provided by the Career Development Office. The form should be filled out by the intern supervisor and returned to the instructor at the end of the semester. No credit will be given if an evaluation form is not turned into the instructor by the last day of class. Note: The internship must be unpaid and can only be applied to one journalism class.

Statement on Academic Conduct and Support Systems

a. Academic Conduct

Plagiarism

Presenting someone else's ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words - is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Section 11, Behavior Violating University Standards https://scampus.usc.edu/b/11-00-behavior-violating-university-standards-and-appropriate-sanctions/. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, http://policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct/.

USC School of Journalism Policy on Academic Integrity

The following is the USC Annenberg School of Journalism’s policy on academic integrity and repeated in the syllabus for every course in the school:

“Since its founding, the USC School of Journalism has maintained a commitment to the highest standards of ethical conduct and academic excellence. Any student found plagiarizing, fabricating, cheating on examinations, and/or purchasing papers or other assignments faces sanctions ranging from an ‘F’ on the assignment to dismissal from the School of Journalism. All academic integrity violations will be reported to the office of Student Judicial Affairs & Community Standards (SJACS), as per university policy, as well as journalism school administrators.”

In addition, it is assumed that the work you submit for this course is work you have produced entirely by yourself, and has not been previously produced by you for submission in another course or Learning Lab, without approval of the instructor.
