Catalogue Description

Study and guided practice of traditional and contemporary choreographic repertory. Emphasis in choreographic intention, stylistic approaches and performance technique.

Course Overview

This course is focused on the study and rehearsal of traditional and contemporary choreographic repertory including master works, media works and new or restaged work with a strong emphasis on choreographic intention, stylistic approaches and performance technique. Studio practice and rehearsals will support the learning of existing and new works with guest artists and faculty choreographers. The students will gain experience and knowledge in the choreographic canon as well as new works learned, with the focus being rehearsal methods and the development of performance techniques for large group choreographic works. Works will be presented in the Studio Theater at the Glorya Kaufman International Dance Center or any other performance venue.

Learning Objectives

This core class is fundamental to the Dance BFA. It is designed to teach repertory in a variety of forms and styles as well as preparing students with the necessary tools and mind-set required to be successful in professional rehearsal and performance environments. By the end of this course, students will be able to:

- Monitor and follow a professional rehearsal schedule and exercise personal responsibility for being on-time and prepared for all Repertory & Performance classes, rehearsals, tech rehearsals, note sessions, photo calls, costume fittings, dress rehearsals, performances and special events
- Practice effective rehearsal strategies for professional environments, understanding the necessity of being prepared both physically (pre-rehearsal warm-up, post-rehearsal warm-down, appropriate attire and shoes, etc.) as well as mentally (journaling, watching video footage, retaining new phrase work etc.)

- Create a healthy rehearsal atmosphere with high levels of engagement, participation, collaboration, respect for faculty/visiting artists/choreographers/fellow dancers and support of colleagues and peers
- Identify and appropriately respond to the requirements of casting, whether in a principal role, performing ensemble or as an understudy
- Employ professional-level rehearsal etiquette in the studio by putting away digital devices, limiting talking and utilizing focus, spatial awareness, and proper 'marking' techniques when appropriate
- Understand the complexities of professional performance environments; staying in touch with faculty/rehearsal directors, Show Director, Stage Manager and Program Director as necessary
- Differentiate and recognize contrasting choreographic methods of new works being generated and master repertory works being staged
- Apply personal notes/corrections and information given by faculty/visiting artists/choreographers/répétiteurs to enhance technique and performance quality
- Demonstrate ongoing research into personal artistry as applied to repertory: attention to detail, personal choices, musicality, partner work, performance quality, etc.
- Synthesize current and past repertory to generate new movement possibilities
- Identify and synthesize commonalities and contrasting qualities in diverse repertory works to enhance personal artistry and audience experience

Required Readings and Supplementary Materials

Readings and videos assigned by guest artists and faculty choreographers relating to specific choreographic works and styles studied.

Works studied and/or performed may include, among others, those by George Balanchine, Aszure Barton, William Forsythe, Jodie Gates, d. Sabela Grimes, Barak Marshall, Matthew Neenan, Crystal Pite and Paul Taylor.

Description and Assessment of Assignments

Progress, Participation & Accomplishment of Daily Class Work

(20% of course grade)

Students are expected to:

- Be in class every day and keep a journal of the choreography learned and any notes given
- Be in class for the full duration of Repertory & Performance. Depending on the rehearsal schedule, students may sometimes be allowed to go to the Collaborative Space to complete outside coursework. Students should be ready to re-join the class, if needed.
- Be warmed-up and properly prepared to rehearse at the outset of each class meeting
- Retain all choreography learned
- Be prepared with choreographic material from research and observation as directed by choreographer
- Thoroughly know the material presented and be able to demonstrate to faculty
- Understudy and research additional roles as presented

- Apply all choreographic notes: technical, musical, artistic, spacing, aesthetic, etc.
- Attend all departmental performances or perform in them

Professionalism: Rehearsal and Performance Etiquette

(40% of course grade)

Students are expected to:

- Participate in daily technique classes to prepare the body for advanced-level movement
- Punctually attend all class sessions, company meetings, warm-up classes, lab rehearsals, etc.
- Attend all costume fittings, including those for any understudy assignments
- Notify instructors, show directors and/or stage management with any issues
- Report all injuries to instructors, show directors and/or stage management
- Sign-in by requested call time at the theatre or other site-specific venues
- Treat all costumes, shoes and props with care as instructed by wardrobe director
- Treat all faculty, visiting artists, choreographers, répétiteurs, show directors, stage managers, production crew, production staff, Kaufman staff, and fellow dancers with respect
- Keep dressing room/green room/backstage spaces tidy
- Observe the university-wide drug and alcohol policy as outlined in SCampus
- Demonstrate proficiency in all the above-mentioned Student Learning Objectives
- Act in a professional manner befitting USC Kaufman
- Sign and return the Repertory & Performance contract attached to the end of this syllabus

Follow Production Policies (as outlined in Student Handbook)

- No food or drink is allowed in the LPS during rehearsal*
- Please do not touch or alter any technical equipment in any way.
- If any equipment is kicked or moved, please let a technician know so they can fix it
- No performer may sign in anyone but themselves
- Please listen to stage management
- Please do not touch any of the equipment backstage
- Please do not touch any costume or prop that is not yours
- No food or drink is allowed backstage, in the locker rooms, or if you are in costume
- Please do not bring any guests to the backstage, or into the locker rooms or dressing rooms
- Do not stand in the lobby in costume
- Please hang up or place costumes in correct laundry basket after they have been worn.
- Should any issue arise, please let a stage manager know as soon as possible
- If we have traveled to a different venue, please keep in mind that we are guests and must be invited back. Everything we do reflects on USC Kaufman

*No food or drink are allowed in the USC Kaufman Performance Space or the Bing Theatre. Students seen with anything other than water in these spaces will lose half of their professionalism points for the semester.

Lab Rehearsals will be held as needed on Friday evenings and Saturdays and will be scheduled and posted in a timely manner.

 See contract at the end of this syllabus. The above requirements not only help to facilitate a successful learning environment and the preservation of USC Kaufman costumes/equipment/performance spaces, but also serve to protect the health and well-being of others. Accordingly, failure to meet course expectations may result in dancers pulled from performances, a lowering of the course grade and/or (depending on the severity of the infraction) being expelled from USC Kaufman.

PERFORMANCE:

(20% of course grade)

Note that being enrolled in this course does not necessarily guarantee the opportunity to perform on-stage. However, as technique, artistry, craft and professionalism can all be enhanced through this course - every class can be thought of as a chance to practice performance. Whether in class or onstage, dancers' performance will be graded at the end of the semester by all Repertory & Performance faculty based on the following rubric categories:

- Knowledge of assigned piece(s) - 25%

(dancer executes correct choreography, timing, spatial relationships, etc.)

- Technical accomplishment - 25%

(dancer has done all in their power to be in peak performance shape, has applied all corrections from faculty/visiting artists/choreographers, and has accomplished the choreography to the best of their personal ability)

- Collaboration and/or Solo Performance - 25%

(dancer demonstrates an excellent working relationship with their on-stage partner or group; if performing a solo, dancer demonstrates confidence in being onstage alone)

- Performance Quality - 25%

(dancer has cultivated a refined sense of artistry, musicality and dynamic phrasing)

JOURNAL:

(5% of course grade)

Students will keep a journal of technique and choreographic notes, achievements and challenges, and inspirations. Individual journals can be spot checked by all faculty. Always bring journals to faculty mentor meetings. Journals will be collected by faculty towards the end of the semester. To receive full credit, journals must contain multiple entries, diagrams, count structures, and coaching notes on style/aesthetic/approach and that would help teach/re-stage this semester's repertory in the future.

EXECUTED CONTRACT:

(5% of course grade)

Students will read the syllabus for Repertory and Performance, print, sign and return the contract page to any Repertory and Performance Kaufman faculty member by Friday, August 24 at 2 p.m.

FINAL EXAM:

(10% of course grade)

The exact details of the final exam will be made known to students by mid-term. Likely, it will be a group project asking dancers to synthesize and reinterpret repertoire learned throughout this and previous semesters. Participating in the final exam is mandatory and a requirement of this course.

Final Exam Meeting Time: Friday, December 7th - 2:00-4:00pm

Additional Policies

BEING PREPARED FOR REP & PERFORMANCE

It is required that dancers take their morning technique classes before participating in Repertory & Performance. Students who have not taken their morning technique classes will not be allowed to participate.

ATTENDANCE

Attendance is mandatory as most of our work is done in the studio each session. There will be three absences allowed. No doctors' notes are necessary or accepted. No make-up classes are allowed. Tardiness is not tolerated as early warm-ups are critical to preventing injury; the full class time is necessary to complete course training, and tardiness creates a significant disruption to the course work of the other students. Tardiness of 10 minutes or more will constitute an absence. Further, three tardy attendances of less than 10 minutes will also constitute an absence. Because active participation as defined herein is so utterly important to this course, each absence will count for a 3-point deduction of active participation points.

LAB MEETING TIMES

Please note that there is an outside lab requirement for this course on Friday evenings and Saturdays. Lab rehearsals will be posted in advance, but students should keep their schedules open at these times unless otherwise notified.

DRESS CODE

*Note that for Repertory and Performance, dancers should make no drastic changes to their personal appearance before performances without first having discussed these changes with faculty and the director of the show.

There is no formal uniform for the USC Glorlya Kaufman School of Dance. However, it is expected that, out of respect for the art form, dancers take pride in how they present themselves. World-renowned company directors, choreographers, VIPs and other guests frequently stop by to watch Repertory & Performance classes. This is an opportunity for you to make a positive impression on some of the leading artists in the field of dance. Remember it is always important to represent your best self, especially as you may develop a rapport with these special guests.

Hair of any length should be neat and pulled back. For the safety of yourself and other students, jewelry should be kept to a minimum (i.e. no dangling or noisy earrings, bracelets, anklets, necklaces, large hoop earrings, or watches). Small stud earrings are permitted.

OUTSIDE OF THE STUDIO

As an ambassador of USC Kaufman, you are expected to look presentable in your non-dance courses. Please bring a change of clothes or layers to cover up your dance attire when not in the studio.

Assignment Submission Policy

All assignments will be submitted in class. Exceptions will be made only in truly exceptional circumstances.

Additional Policies:

Class Conduct

Please bring a paper notebook and writing instrument to class; laptops, notebooks, tablets and other technology will only be permitted at certain times. Phones will not be allowed and should not be visible during class. Texting or internet engagement during class time will result in lowering of your class grade. Your attention during class time is greatly appreciated, and also required.

Please Note

This class takes place at a university committed to equity for all students, where diversity and inclusion are considered critical to the academic environment. In this classroom, free speech is respected, and civil discourse is expected, with a safe learning environment the priority. We will endeavor to use language that is respectful—sometimes being inquisitive and creative, because language changes all the time—particularly when it comes to differences in age, ethnicity, gender identity or expression, race or socioeconomic status. If you have a preferred gender pronoun that is not being used, please advise the professor.

Statement for Students with Disabilities

Any student requesting academic accommodations based on a disability is required to register with Disability Services and Programs (DSP) each semester. A letter of verification for approved accommodations can be obtained from DSP. Please be sure the letter is delivered to me (or to TA) as early in the semester as possible. DSP is located in STU 301 and is open 8:30 a.m.–5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.
