I. COURSE PREREQUISITES

Social Work Practice with Adolescents, Young Adults and their Families is an advanced practice course of the School of Social Work, Department of Children, Youth and Families. Students will have successfully completed the generalist semester (SOWK 544 & SOWK 506) and the first semester departmental required courses (SOWK 608, SOWK 609, SOWK 610) before enrolling in this course.

II. CATALOGUE DESCRIPTION

The course focuses on intervention with adolescents and young adults, addressing developmental assets and challenges facing youth. The roles of various contexts in the development of problems and solutions will be addressed. Skills in engagement and evidence-based interventions in working with youth will be acquired.

III. COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course advances theoretical knowledge and practice skills in working with adolescents, young adults, and their families. The course uses biopsychosocial and systems/ecological perspectives in viewing adolescents and young adults in the context of their family and social environment. It focuses on understanding risk factors, developmental disruptions, and derailments for adolescents, young adults and their families. The role of schools, other social institutions, the community, and the larger social environment, including state and national policies and their impact on adolescents, young adults and their families will be explored. Current research that informs theory and practice with these age groups, particularly neuroscience, the role of adverse childhood experiences, resilience, and protective factors will be further considered. Students will develop knowledge and skills of applying evidence based practices and interventions, including engagement, assessment, and diagnosis, as well as intervention and evaluation with adolescents, young adults and their family.

IV. COURSE OBJECTIVES

The Social Work Practice with Adolescents, Young Adults and their Families course (SOWK 621) will:

Objective #	Objectives
1	Teach the use of critical thinking to integrate knowledge and perspectives on adolescence, young adulthood/ emerging adulthood and the developmental tasks and competencies associated with the transition to adulthood while focusing on youth in familial and cultural contexts.
2	Present contexts of practice with adolescents, transition age youth and young adults, including the family, and the systems and service systems that assist clients before and after age eighteen. Students will learn to locate resources at federal, state and county levels, and understand how these resources may differ depending on geographical location and the service-providing agency.
3	Provide perspectives, theories and research-based knowledge on major mental health issues that may affect adolescents and young adults, including physical, mental, behavioral and relational difficulties.
4	Teach students to critically consider and use current research, theory and evidence based practices when working with adolescents, transition age youth, young adults and their families, while taking into account the impact of the complex social environment on youth and their families.
5.	Provide students with opportunities to develop skills in engaging, assessing, diagnosing, and intervening with adolescents, young adults and their families in diverse client populations.
6.	Provide opportunities for students to enhance self-awareness by critically examining thoughts, feelings, and practices with adolescents, young adults and their families.

V. COURSE FORMAT AND INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

The class format consists of a combination of didactic lecture, class discussion, small group discussions and experiential exercises. Role-plays, case vignettes, small group discussions, and videos will also be incorporated to facilitate learning. Students will be invited to share case materials from field placement to illustrate and deepen content of class discussion, and to provide integration of knowledge and experience between the classroom and the field. Confidentiality of information shared in class will always be observed.

VI. STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

The following table lists the nine Social Work core competencies as defined by the Council on Social Work Education's 2015 Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards:

Social Work Core Competencies
1	Demonstrate Ethical and Professional Behavior
2	Engage in Diversity and Difference in Practice
3	Advance Human Rights and Social, Economic, and Environmental Justice
4	Engage in Practice-informed Research and Research-informed Practice
5	Engage in Policy Practice
6	Engage with Individuals, Families, Groups, Organizations, and Communities
7	Assess Individuals, Families, Groups, Organizations, and Communities*
8	Intervene with Individuals, Families, Groups, Organizations, and Communities*
9	Evaluate Practice with Individuals, Families, Groups, Organizations and Communities

* Highlighted in this course

The following table shows the competencies highlighted in this course, the related course objectives, student learning outcomes, and dimensions of each competency measured. The final column provides the location of course content related to the competency.

Competency	Objectives	Behaviors	Dimensions	Content
Competency 7: Assess Individuals, Families, Groups, Organizations, and Communities Social workers use their knowledge of theories of human behavior and the social environment to inform ongoing assessment as they work with diverse children, youth, and families, as well as with the groups, organizations, and institutions that play important parts in their lives. Social workers use culturally informed and varied assessment methods to capture the diverse strengths, resources, and needs of children, youth and families, which in turn advances the effectiveness of their practice. Social workers work collaboratively with other service providers involved in the family's life in order to obtain a comprehensive understanding of the family system to enhance the assessment process. Social workers are mindful of the potential influence of their personal experiences and affective reactions on the processes of assessment with children, youth, and families.	1. Teach the use of critical thinking to integrate knowledge and perspectives on adolescence and young adulthood and the developmental tasks and competencies associated with the transition to adulthood while focusing on youth in familial and cultural contexts. 4. Teach students to critically consider and use current research, theory and evidence based practices when working with adolescents, transition age youth, young adults and their families, while taking into account the impact of the complex social environment on youth and their families.	7b. Select appropriate intervention strategies based on the assessment, research knowledge, and values and preferences of children, youth and families and the communities in which they live.	Cognitive and Affective Processes	Unit 2: Assessment of Adolescents and Young Adults and their Families Unit 3: Interventions with Adolescents, Young Adults and Their Families Unit 4: Family Based Interventions Unit 5: Group-based and System-Based Interventions Assignment 1: Take-home Exam Assignment 3: Research Paper

Competency	Objectives	Behaviors	Dimensions	Content
Competency 8: Intervene with Individuals, Families, Groups, Organizations, and Communities Social workers are knowledgeable about the evidence-informed interventions for children, youth, and families that can best help them to achieve the goals of their diverse clients. Social workers are able to critically evaluate and apply theories of human behavior and the social environment to intervene effectively with their clients in child and family practice settings. Social workers understand methods of identifying, analyzing and implementing evidence-informed interventions to achieve family and agency goals. Social workers understand the importance of inter-professional teamwork and communication in interventions, and employ strategies of interdisciplinary, inter-professional, and inter-organizational collaboration to achieve beneficial outcomes for children, youth, and families.	5. Provide students with opportunities to develop skills in engaging, assessing, diagnosing, and intervening with adolescents, young adults and their families in diverse client populations.	8a. Negotiate, mediate, and advocate with and on behalf of diverse clients and constituencies.	Skills	Unit 5: Group-based and System-Based Interventions Unit 14: Complex Issues of Adolescents and Young Adults Unit 15: Transition Age Youth Leaving the Child Welfare System Assignment 2: Group Work Class Participation

VII. COURSE ASSIGNMENTS, DUE DATES, AND GRADING

Assignment	Due Date	% of Final Grade
Assignment 1: Take- Home Exam	Unit 7	30%
Assignment 2: Group Work	TBA	20%
Assignment 3: Research Paper	Unit 15	40%
Class Participation	Ongoing	10%

Each of the major assignments is described below.

Assignment 1: Take-Home Exam (30% of Course Grade)

This is a take-home exam that consists of several short essay questions on the material covered in the first six weeks of the semester. Students are expected to understand the similarities and possible differences in working with adolescents and young adults and to integrate the information learned through the assigned readings, class presentations and class discussions when answering the essay questions.

Due: Unit 7 at 11:59PM (PST)

This assignment relates to student learning outcomes 1 & 4

Assignment 2: Small Group Class Presentation (20% of Course Grade)

Students will work in small groups of up to three individuals on this class presentation assignment addressing a problem that impacts adolescents, young adults and their families. Students will use literature from the course recommended readings as well as outside resources to explain the problem and its impact on the youth and their families. Students will explore issues of diversity and culture, family and service systems issues and their impact on the youth's problem. Students will demonstrate how the readings inform their understanding and practice with the problem. Finally, students will conduct a class discussion or activity on clinical and ethical issues relevant to the presented problem.

Due: TBA

This assignment relates to student learning outcomes: 5

Assignment 3: Research Paper (40% of Course Grade)

In this assignment, students will write a research-based paper that integrates the theory and practice dimensions of the course. Students will select and examine a problem area that they are dealing with in field placement (such as substance abuse, sexual abuse, depression in adolescents and young adults, etc.), include theories of etiology and effects on the problem on the youth in the context of the family and the systems in which the youth is being involved. The student will research and present an evidence-based intervention applicable to a client that they work with in their field placement. The student will explain in detail how the intervention is applied to the client from engagement, assessment, intervention, termination, evaluation and follow-up. The student will use a client from their fieldwork to illustrate the discussion and to explain what ethical and cultural issues may be present. Finally, the student will critically appraise the intervention.

Due: Unit 15 at 11:59M (PST)

This assignment relates to student learning outcomes: 1& 4

Class Participation (10% of Course Grade)

It is expected that students will attend class regularly, participate in class discussions, and submit work promptly. Failure to meet these expectations may result in reduction in grades.

Your involvement in this class is considered essential to your growth as a practitioner. You will be asked to discuss the material assigned, participate in role-playing, exercises, and so on. Knowing the "right" answers is not nearly as important as being willing to risk, explore your ideas, and be open to new information and ideas. Your presence in class, along with preparation by having read and considered the assignments, and participation in discussion is essential. Participation on a course website (message board/chat room), if developed, also constitutes meaningful class participation.

Guidelines for Evaluating Class Participation:

10: Outstanding Contributor: Contributions in class reflect exceptional preparation and participation is substantial. Ideas offered are always substantive, provides one or more major insights as well as direction for the class. Application to cases held is on target and on topic. Challenges are well substantiated, persuasively presented, and presented with excellent comportment. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion would be diminished markedly. Exemplary behavior in experiential exercises demonstrating on target behavior in role plays, small-group discussions, and other activities.

9: Very Good Contributor: Contributions in class reflect thorough preparation and frequency in participation is high. Ideas offered are usually substantive, provide good insights and sometimes direction for the class. Application to cases held is usually on target and on topic. Challenges are well substantiated, often persuasive, and presented with excellent comportment. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion would be diminished. Good activity in experiential exercises demonstrating behavior that is usually on target in role plays, small-group discussions, and other activities.

8: Good Contributor: Contributions in class reflect solid preparation. Ideas offered are usually substantive and participation is very regular, provides generally useful insights but seldom offer a new direction for the discussion. Sometimes provides application of class material to cases held. Challenges are sometimes presented, fairly well substantiated, and are sometimes persuasive with good comportment. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion would be diminished somewhat. Behavior in experiential exercises demonstrates good understanding of methods in role plays, small-group discussions, and other activities.

7: Adequate Contributor: Contributions in class reflect some preparation. Ideas offered are somewhat substantive, provides some insights but seldom offers a new direction for the discussion. Participation is somewhat regular. Challenges are sometimes presented, and are sometimes persuasive with adequate comportment. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion would be diminished slightly. Occasionally applies class content to cases. Behavior in experiential exercises is occasionally sporadically on target demonstrating uneven understanding of methods in role plays, small-group discussions, and other activities.

6: Inadequate: This student says little in class. Hence, there is not an adequate basis for evaluation. The student doesn't participate actively in exercises and sits mostly silently in group activities and in class discussions.

5: Non-participant: Attends class only. Does not appear to be engaged.

Class grades will be based on the following:

Class Grades		Final Grade
3.85–4.00	A	93–100	A
3.60–3.84	A–	90–92	A–
3.25–3.59	B+	87–89	B+
2.90–3.24	B	83–86	B
2.60–2.89	B–	80–82	B–
2.25–2.59	C+	77–79	C+
1.90–2.24	C	73–76	C
		70–72	C–

Within the School of Social Work, grades are determined in each class based on the following standards which have been established by the faculty of the School: (1) Grades of A or A- are reserved for student work which not only demonstrates very good mastery of content but which also shows that the student has undertaken a complex task, has applied critical thinking skills to the assignment, and/or has demonstrated creativity in her or his approach to the assignment. The difference between these two grades would be determined by the degree to which these skills have been demonstrated by the student. (2) A grade of B+ will be given to work which is judged to be very good. This grade denotes that a student has demonstrated a more-than-competent understanding of the material being tested in the assignment. (3) A grade of B will be given to student work which meets the basic requirements of the assignment. It denotes that the student has done adequate work on the assignment and meets basic course expectations. (4) A grade of B- will denote that a student's performance was less than adequate on an assignment, reflecting only moderate grasp of content and/or expectations. (5) A grade of C would reflect a minimal grasp of the assignments, poor organization of ideas and/or several significant areas requiring improvement. (6) Grades between C- and F will be applied to denote a failure to meet minimum standards, reflecting serious deficiencies in all aspects of a student's performance on the assignment.

University Policies and Guidelines

IX. ATTENDANCE POLICY

Students are expected to attend every class and to remain in class for the duration of the unit. Failure to attend class or arriving late may impact your ability to achieve course objectives which could affect your course grade. Students are expected to notify the instructor by email (xxx@usc.edu) of any anticipated absence or reason for tardiness.

University of Southern California policy permits students to be excused from class for the observance of religious holy days. This policy also covers scheduled final examinations which conflict with students' observance of a holy day. Students must make arrangements in advance to complete class work which will be missed, or to reschedule an examination, due to holy days observance.

Please refer to Scampus and to the USC School of Social Work Student Handbook for additional information on attendance policies.

X. ACADEMIC CONDUCT

Plagiarism – presenting someone else's ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Part B, Section 11, "Behavior Violating University Standards" <https://policy.usc.edu/scampus-part-b/>. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, <http://policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct>.

To access Perspectives, Ltd., call 800-456-6327.

XIII. STATEMENT ABOUT INCOMPLETES

The Grade of Incomplete (IN) can be assigned only if there is work not completed because of a documented illness or some other emergency occurring after the 12th week of the semester. Students must NOT assume that the instructor will agree to the grade of IN. Removal of the grade of IN must be instituted by the student and agreed to be the instructor and reported on the official “Incomplete Completion Form.”

XIV. POLICY ON LATE OR MAKE-UP WORK

Papers are due on the day and time specified. Extensions will be granted only for extenuating circumstances. If the paper is late without permission, the grade will be affected.

XV. POLICY ON CHANGES TO THE SYLLABUS AND/OR COURSE REQUIREMENTS

It may be necessary to make some adjustments in the syllabus during the semester in order to respond to unforeseen or extenuating circumstances. Adjustments that are made will be communicated to students both verbally and in writing.

XVI. CODE OF ETHICS OF THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF SOCIAL WORKERS (OPTIONAL)

Approved by the 1996 NASW Delegate Assembly and revised by the 2017 NASW Delegate Assembly
<https://www.socialworkers.org/About/Ethics/Code-of-Ethics/Code-of-Ethics-English>

Preamble

The primary mission of the social work profession is to enhance human well-being and help meet the basic human needs of all people, with particular attention to the needs and empowerment of people who are vulnerable, oppressed, and living in poverty. A historic and defining feature of social work is the profession's focus on individual well-being in a social context and the well-being of society. Fundamental to social work is attention to the environmental forces that create, contribute to, and address problems in living.

Social workers promote social justice and social change with and on behalf of clients. "Clients" is used inclusively to refer to individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. Social workers are sensitive to cultural and ethnic diversity and strive to end discrimination, oppression, poverty, and other forms of social injustice. These activities may be in the form of direct practice, community organizing, supervision, consultation, administration, advocacy, social and political action, policy development and implementation, education, and research and evaluation. Social workers seek to enhance the capacity of people to address their own needs. Social workers also seek to promote the responsiveness of organizations, communities, and other social institutions to individuals' needs and social problems.

The mission of the social work profession is rooted in a set of core values. These core values, embraced by social workers throughout the profession's history, are the foundation of social work's unique purpose and perspective:

- Service
- Social justice
- Dignity and worth of the person
- Importance of human relationships
- Integrity
- Competence

This constellation of core values reflects what is unique to the social work profession. Core values, and the principles that flow from them, must be balanced within the context and complexity of the human experience.

XVII. ACADEMIC DISHONESTY SANCTION GUIDELINES

Some lecture slides, notes, or exercises used in this course may be the property of the textbook publisher or other third parties. All other course material, including but not limited to slides developed by the instructor(s), the syllabus, assignments, course notes, course recordings (whether audio or video) and examinations or quizzes are the property of the University or of the individual instructor who developed them. Students are free to use this material for study and learning, and for discussion with others, including those who may not be in this class, unless the instructor imposes more stringent requirements.
