COURSE DESCRIPTION

The purpose of this course is to introduce you to the most current tactics, applications, and trends in digital marketing. In so doing, you will finish the course with a general understanding of how companies are currently using the internet as part of their marketing plans, and develop the specific skills necessary for carrying out those plans or effectively evaluating the plans of others.

We cover almost every tactic that is used by companies, including lead generation, account based marketing, social media, mobile, landing page optimization, SEO, PPC and much more. Thus, this class is a digital strategy class rather than an in-depth class on a specific tactic, like social media.

Students apply what they learn to a real company who is looking to improve their digital presence. Students are assessed by 2 quizzes and a group project.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

By the end of the course, participants will be able to:

1. Explain what constitutes a digital marketing strategy.
2. Demonstrate a basic knowledge of a broad array of digital marketing tactics being used by companies today.
3. Demonstrate an understanding of the history and technologies of digital marketing in order to have a better sense as to the future of digital channels.
4. Demonstrate an understanding of how online and offline can work together to provide a seamless experience for users.
5. Demonstrate knowledge of a wide variety of metrics being used today to assess the success of marketing tactics and relate these metrics to the digital marketing strategy.
6. Apply what they have learned in this course to a digital marketing problem faced by a real company.
Because the internet moves so quickly, there is no required book for this class, but if you would like a book, I can provide recommendations in class, but these will be for individual topics in the class.

Most readings for this course will be given to you before the scheduled class session on a given topic. Additional readings will come from various content-based web sites that discuss the most current ideas in digital marketing.

Overall grade distribution in the class will follow school guidelines and policy on a class average of 3.5. Each student’s overall course grade will be based on a team project and individual performance. These are detailed as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Component</th>
<th>Weight</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Participation</td>
<td>10%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Class Project</td>
<td>50%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Midterm Quiz</td>
<td>20%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Final Quiz</td>
<td>20%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Please note that no late assignments will be accepted. All written work is due at the beginning of class on the due date.

Calculations of your final score will be based on a weighted average of the normalized score for each of the three components of the class (project, quizzes). The final scores will then be sorted, and natural breakoff points will determine the final course grade for each student.

The main way you will learn during the weekly classes is to participate. In addition, your ability to perform well on both the quizzes and the project is highly dependent on your participation in class.

If you do not come to class, your participation score for that day will be zero.

Class Project (50%)
As part of your class evaluation, you will present the results of a team project. The project will consist of providing an analysis and recommendations for an integrated plan to improve the online presence and profitability (or some other metrics) of a specific online company. This will be a company I will choose. You will be given a budget and your recommendations must be sensitive to that budget. I will provide any data you need and assumptions required to make this as realistic as possible.

The output of this assignment will be a 20 (the absolute limit for all slides) slide PowerPoint presentation.

I will speak more about this during the introduction to the class.

Quizzes (2 @ 20% each)

Two quizzes will be given in this class. These quizzes use a short answer format or short case study comprised of anywhere from 12-20 questions. Students who do well on these quizzes pay attention in class, read the assigned materials, and think about the concepts presented during the course. If you tend to miss class, you will likely do poorly on the quizzes. The quizzes are closed book and are designed to demonstrate your knowledge of class material.

STATEMENT ON ACADEMIC CONDUCT AND SUPPORT SYSTEMS

Academic Conduct:
Plagiarism – presenting someone else’s ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Part B, Section 11, “Behavior Violating University Standards” policy.usc.edu/scampus-part-b. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, http://policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct.

Students with Disabilities:
USC is committed to making reasonable accommodations to assist individuals with disabilities in reaching their academic potential. If you have a disability which may impact your performance, attendance, or grades in this course and require accommodations, you must first register with the Office of Disability Services and Programs (www.usc.edu/disability). DSP provides certification for students with disabilities and helps arrange the relevant accommodations. Any student requesting academic accommodations based on a disability is required to register with Disability Services and Programs (DSP) each semester. A letter of verification for approved accommodations can be obtained from DSP. Please be sure the letter is delivered to me (or to your TA) as early in the semester as possible. DSP is located in GFS (Grace Ford Salvatori Hall) 120 and is open 8:30 a.m.–5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. The phone number for DSP is (213) 740-0776. Email: ability@usc.edu.
