Program Mission: The goal of the Enterprise Network Design program at USC is to develop the skills necessary to work as an entry level network engineer and to understand the basic concepts of networking theory.

Course Description

This class will provide students with the network industry knowledge required to obtain IT employment. We will do this by learning networking theory that explains practical applications and by learning to configure Cisco routers and switches at a basic level.

Learning Objectives

By the end of the class students should be able to configure Cisco switches and routers at a basic level. Students should also understand basic networking theory so that they understand configuration choices. Students should be able to complete basic Layer 1 tasks and understand what a Layer 1 task is.

Prerequisite(s): ITP 125

Course Notes

Course is letter graded, with any and all materials available on Blackboard (blackboard.usc.edu). Labs will be conducted in the security lab (OHE 406) during assigned class or lab time.

Technological Proficiency and Hardware/Software Required

It is assumed that the student has baseline technical knowledge (basic computer usage, basic internet usage). For any upper-division course (300-level and above), it is assumed that you have refined your technical abilities in ITP 125, including basic Python scripting.

Required Readings and Supplementary Materials

1. CCENT/CCNA ICND1 100-105 Official Cert Guide 1st Edition (https://www.amazon.com/CCENT-ICND1-100-105-Official-Guide/dp/1587205807/ref=sr_1_1?ie=UTF8&qid=1503351728&sr=8-1&keywords=icnd1+100-105)
2. CCNA Routing and Switching ICND2 200-105 Official Cert Guide 1st Edition
3. CCNA Routing and Switching Portable Command Guide (ICND1 100-105, ICND2 200-105, and CCNA 200-125) 4th Edition

These books are optional. They serve as good resources if you plan on continuing your education in networking or plan to work in the industry.

Description and Assessment of Assignments

The assignments will be a combination of in-class and out-of-class laboratory exercises. They will typically involve some form of procedural work (we will provide instructions), with some reflection on the work performed including researching processes and procedures performed. All laboratory exercises will be graded on a point-scale, typically between 10 and 20 points.

Grading Breakdown

Grading Policies

The lab assistants, graders, and instructors will do their best to return assignments graded to students within one week of the submission. Certain assignments that are longer in length, including exams, case reports, and final projects, may require more time.

The grading rubric is posted. There is no curve, and grades are based on performance in the class. While we understand the importance of grades and maintaining a high GPA, we cannot hand out high marks without justified performance in the class. Do not rely upon an expectation of a guaranteed minimum final grade in this class regardless of its impact on your overall GPA, financial situation, familial situation, or the fate of the galaxy.

The instructor is the ultimate authority over any grade for any assignment, exam or class.

University policy states that no extra credit may be afforded to individual students without the same opportunity made available to everyone in the class. Should there be extra credit in the class, it will be made available to the entire class. Do not ask the instructor for additional extra credit.

Grades will be posted on Blackboard and it is your responsibility to ensure that the grades online are accurate and to follow your progress in the class.

Assignment Policies

The labs will be posted on Blackboard under the "Assignments" or "Labs" section. Each lab will include instructions, a due date, and a link for electronic submission. Labs must be submitted using this link. Do not email your assignments to the instructor, lab assistants, or graders. TurnItIn may be utilized for some assignments, and you must make sure that you have fully submitted the assignment (usually a two step process).

Unless otherwise noted, all lab assignments are due at the beginning of class the next class period, unless otherwise modified by Blackboard announcement and/or email from the instructor and/or Lab Assistants. Some assignments (typically longer in length) will have a due date on 11:59:59 PM on the Friday or Sunday of the following week. Do not expect a timely response from the lab assistants, graders, or instructors if emailed after normal business hours particularly on the date the assignment is due.

If you join the class after the semester has started, you will have two weeks from the date of enrollment to complete all assignments due before you joined the class unless a written extension is granted from the instructor, typically via email.

It is your responsibility to submit your assignments on or before the due date and verify it has been successfully submitted. Assignments turned in up to 24 hours late will have 25% of the total points deducted from the graded score. Assignments turned in between 24 and 48 hours late will have 50% of the total points deducted from the graded score. After two days, submissions will not be accepted and you will receive no credit for the assignment.

The lab assistants and graders are not authorized to grant an extension on any assignment. Any extensions must be requested of the instructor in writing and confirmed in writing. If you ask for an extension on the day the assignment is due, without expressing an emergency such as being kidnapped and taken to Mexico, it will probably not be granted.

Certain assignments will require a paper submission, and you may be asked to submit them to the main ITP office. There have been previous allegations of student rudeness to the ITP Staff. If the staff complains about you being rude, you will have 25% automatically deducted from your assignment. Don't be rude.

The instructor and lab assistants reserve the right to not answer certain questions about the lab assignment. This is normally due to the nature of the question being directly related to the learning objectives of the lab. You are encouraged to use online resources to further your understanding of the material to successfully answer questions related to the lab assignment (in other words, use your research skills).

All lab assignments have been tested by the instructor and/or lab assignments. Due to the nature of certain software packages and configurations in the lab, the assignments may or may not work as intended. You are encouraged to ask questions if something appears to not work correctly. However, there are certain instances where things are intended to not work correctly and the instructor and lab assistant will indicate as such. When in doubt, do a little research.

Exam Policies

Please review the schedule of classes for the Final Exam schedule. Should you have a scheduling conflict with the final exam, you must contact the instructor and coordinate an alternative time by the end of Week 3. Any requests made after Week 3 are not guaranteed to be accommodated.

Per USC policy, Final Exams must be scheduled during the assigned final examination schedule. It is your responsibility to arrange your travel after the scheduled date of the final exam.

All students are required to participate in the final exam and/or project. Failure to take the final exam and/or submit a final project will result in an automatic failure in the class.

No make-up exams (except for documented medical or family emergencies) will be offered nor will there be any changes made to the Final Exam schedule. Missing your alarm is not an emergency. A documented medical event (car accident with documentation), family emergency (death in the family), or alien abduction can be considered emergencies.

Contacting the Instructor, Lab Assistants or Graders

When emailing the lab assistants, graders or instructor, please be sure to include your full name, student ID, class name and number, and class section (day and time) in the email.

Emails sent to the lab assistants or graders will be responded to within two business days. The instructor will endeavor to respond to emails within two business days. Do not email anyone with the expectation of an immediate response within the hour. Please do not complain when we have not responded to your email ten minutes before the assignment deadline.

Questions regarding individual clarification or regrade must be made through email to both the grader and the instructor. When requesting a regrade, the instructor has the prerogative to alter a grade higher or lower based upon a review of the entire assignment. Be absolutely certain before requesting a regrade of any assignment or exam – if you are going to roll the dice, be certain of your gamble.

Questions about lab assignments should be submitted through the class discussion board (typically Piazza). This will have a faster response rate. Do not post code or answers on Piazza.

The instructor will post his/her regular office hours on blackboard. You may request a meeting with the instructor outside of normal office hours. Should you go to the instructor's office outside of normal office hours or outside of a scheduled meeting, do not expect the instructor to be able to meet with you. We do have other responsibilities outside of the class.

Attendance Policy

You are expected to be in class, on time, and distraction free. As this class meets twice a week and as it is lecture and lab any student who misses more than two classes is in danger of failing the course. Please see the instructor immediately if you have missed at least two class meetings.

This is a lab-based class. Certain class sections will be lecture, lab, or a combination of lecture and lab. Attendance is vital to success in the class, and punctuality is vital to success in your professional careers. The lab assistants will be taking attendance for every class meeting. If you anticipate missing a class due to an event, please email the lab assistants and instructor prior to the start of class. If you are sick, we want you to get better and not infect your fellow classmates – please email the lab assistants and instructor. Should you miss a class with a lab assignment, contact the lab assistants to determine available times to come to the lab and finish your assignment.

Additional University policies follow the course schedule.
