Environmental Issues in Society (ENST 150)

Lecture: Tuesday/Thursday 11:00-12:20

Location: SOS B46

Fall 2019, 4 units

Course overview: This course is an interdisciplinary study of environmental issues and challenges, examining their scientific, social, cultural, political, and ethical aspects. During the course, we will explore the environmental and social impacts of modern industries and lifestyle; the roles of different actors and institutions; environmental debates on such topics as fracking, nuclear energy, waste management, etc. We will also explore institutional and social barriers to environmental and social policies and will discuss strategies for environmental regulation in the global economy. Finally, we will talk about our personal responsibilities and roles in environmental and social problems.

Text and Readings

- Withgott, Jay et al. Environment: The Science behind the Stories. 6th Edition. ISBN: 9780134714882. There is an electronic copy available to rent at considerably less cost.
- Additional reading materials for this class will be posted to Blackboard. Students are expected to complete the assigned readings prior to each class.

Blackboard and E-Mail: The Blackboard website is our main means of communication. The updated syllabus, readings, and assignments will be all posted there. The instructor will use your official USC email, so please make sure that you check it every day. Related current news articles will be posted in the "Readings" on some weeks. This syllabus may be updated during the semester, and the latest version will be posted on the Blackboard.

Research paper: This is a writing-intensive course. Per USC GE requirements, there will be a total of 15 pages of graded writing assignments. We will accomplish this via a 10-12-page paper on environmental issues that will require research and citation of sources. Please use 1-inch margins; double-spaced. (the other writing assignments are in the discussion sections). Required number of sources: 10 per paper. The instructor will provide additional guidelines on the required diversity of sources as well as greater details as to the expectations on the paper in a formal paper prompt early in the semester.

Learning objectives:

- an interdisciplinary approach to complex environmental problems using basic tools of policy and international processes;

- the ability to work effectively as a member of an interdisciplinary team on complex problems involving multiple competing stakeholders and agendas;
- the ability to critically evaluate the economic and policy ramifications of diverse energy portfolios on air and water quality, climate, weapons proliferation and societal stability;
- an experience-based understanding of environmental policies in California including water and energy needs, air quality, marine and coastal issues;
- the ability to write effectively about complex environmental problems and do so for both specialist and general audiences with equal facility; and
- the ability to critically analyze and apply both quantitative and qualitative data in reasoning and evaluation of both to environmental problems, in proposed solutions, and in consideration of the student's own potential solutions and/or management of the issues

Grading

Midterm Exam	25%
Research Paper (10-12 pages)	25%
Final Exam	30%
Group Presentation in section	10%
Attendance & Participation (Lecture and Discussion Section)	5%
Discussion section Assignments/Homework	5%
Total	100%

The midterm and final are both in class, with both objective and critical analytic components (including blue-book essays). The final is cumulative. The paper, as referenced above, will require a student select a single environmental issue and explore the nature of the challenge, political discourses on the issue, and proposed solutions. Attendance is required for both lectures and discussion sections and are tracked on Blackboard as well as by the teaching assistants for discussion sections. There are a series of group presentations in the discussion sections. These are groups of 3-4 on a topic selected from a list of topics. You may not select a group presentation that is the same issue as you research paper. Finally, there are a couple of homework assignments in the sections. They will be explained in the sections.

Course goals:

1. Be able to critically analyze the many sources of information about environmental policies to solve empirical problems.
2. Be able to use theoretical perspectives to identify and explain domestic and global environmental problems and the linkages among them.
3. Demonstrate the habit of accessing sources of environmental knowledge and the skill to critically interpret, assess and apply evidence.

Grading Scale

Course final grades will be determined using the following scale

Grading and Correction of Grades

Excerpts for this section have been taken from the University Grading Handbook, located at <http://www.usc.edu/dept/ARR/grades/gradinghandbook/gradingpolicies.html>

Please see the link for more details on grading concerns.

A grade of Missing Grade (MG) “should only be assigned in unique or unusual situations... for those cases in which a student does not complete work for the course before the semester ends. All missing grades must be resolved by the instructor through the Correction of Grade Process. One calendar year is allowed to resolve a MG. If an MG is not resolved [within] one year the grade is changed to [Unofficial Withdrawal] UW and will be calculated into the grade point average a zero grade points.

A grade of Incomplete (IN) “is assigned when work is not completed because of documented illness or other ‘emergency’ occurring after the twelfth week of the semester (or 12th week equivalency for any course scheduled for less than 15 weeks).”

Academic Conduct

USC seeks to maintain an optimal learning environment. Students are expected to submit original work. They have an obligation both to protect their own work from misuse and to avoid using another's work as their own. All students are expected to understand and abide by the principles of academic honesty outlined in the University Student Conduct Code (see University Governance, Section 11.00) of SCampus (www.usc.edu/scampus or <http://scampus.usc.edu>). The recommended sanctions for academic integrity violations can be found in Appendix A of the Student Conduct Code.

Students with Disabilities

USC is committed to making reasonable accommodations to assist individuals with disabilities in reaching their academic potential. If you have a disability which may impact your performance, attendance, or grades in this course and require accommodations, you must first register with the Office of Disability Services and Programs (www.usc.edu/disability). DSP provides certification for students with disabilities and helps arrange the relevant accommodations. Any student requesting academic accommodations based on a disability is required to register with Disability Services and Programs (DSP) each semester. A letter of verification for approved accommodations can be obtained from DSP. Please be sure the letter is delivered to me as early in the semester as possible.
