Class Location: SCI 209
Office Hours: Wednesday 10-1, SCA 354, or by appointment
Contact Information: dfb@usc.edu, 323 804-0110

COURSE GOALS:

- Ideation: learn where and how to find film and television stories
- Voice: investigate and expand your unique storytelling instincts, interests and nature
- Character: learn how to develop compelling characters who will drive your stories
- Theme: learn how to discover and grow your theme, an expression of your vision
- Development: learn how to “break” these stories, structurally, into a saleable pitch
- Synopsis: learn how to write two polished 5-10 page synopses.
- Portfolio: write 8 screen and television pitches, 2 two page rewritten pitches and two 5-10 page story synopses.

COURSE OBJECTIVE:

“The universe is made of stories, not of atoms.”
Muriel Rukeyser

Where do you find your ideas? When you do have an idea how do you develop that idea into a relatable story? And once you have this story how do you write it as a pitch you can sell?

Every screenwriter has had this happen to him or her. You are at a party and an uncle or an aunt or friend pulls you into a corner and says, “I’ve got a movie for you.” Then they tell you a story and say, “It’s yours, write it!” And that is the difference between a professional writer and a dilettante. The professional writer has to find a way to write it. A professional writer has to break the whole story, beginning to end, and most importantly, break that story through the compelling characters they have created.

It begins and ends with character: their hopes, their dreams, their wants.

This is an introductory course in writing for the screen and television in which you develop your resources as a storyteller. We will explore how and where you find your stories. We will mine your faculties of memory, experience and observation; sharpen your storytelling toolbox by experimenting with genre conventions, group storytelling exercises and an engaged writer's table.

The goal is for you to discover weekly feature (or television series) stories from different sources, pitch and workshop them in class. You will then chose two and write them as 5-10 page synopses.

The emphasis is on the discovery and development of cinematic and television stories, and the way of telling them should be yours alone. Imagination, as Samson Raphaelson said, "is not the capacity to invent but the ability to see and develop what is there." In exercising your imagination this course provides you with a foundation for a career as a professional screen and television writer.

CLASS SCHEDULE AND ASSIGNMENTS:

Part One: Personal Stories

Week 1: 1/15 – Where do we find stories?

- Discuss class expectations, deadlines and syllabus.
- How do you find your stories? How do professionals find their stories?
- Discuss In Bruges/The Way Way Back, Booksmart, Lars and the Real Girl. Discussion of the breaking of these story.
- In class: News stories – we will distribute several news stories – in teams we will develop stories.
- Introduction to pitching and the writing of the three-page synopsis.
- Homework: Bring your favorite child/teenage or family story (one that happened to you or someone in your family) to class. Write it as a three-page synopsis.
 - What is special about it? Why do you tell it?
 - Who is the main character and why we care about him/her?
 - Beginning, middle and end of the story.
- Homework: Screen and Read: Way, Way Back and Lady Bird

Week 2: 1/22 – Memory Stories

- Discuss your Memory Story. How do we create compelling stories from life? Is there a feature film here? Or is there a television series? A podcast?
- Homework: bring in you greatest fear or greatest fantasy...

Week 3: 2/5 – Greatest fear or fantasy stories

- Discuss greatest fear/fantasy (what scares you the most/what power would you die to have?) Who is your main character? Can you describe their moment (the exact scene) of greatest fear or fantasy? How to build to that moment?
- In class – break into groups of two and create a pitch for both partners' favorite fear or fantasy story...

- Homework – bring in something that makes you angry (can be personal or political) try to find the scene where that anger explodes.

Week 4: 2/12 – Writing from emotion to character

- Discuss the thing that makes you angry. Is there a story there? A character? Workshop the story in class.
- Homework #1: Rewrite and submit via email a two-page pitch of either: your fear/fantasy assignment, your anger assignment, or your memory story. SHORT REWRITE ONE.
- Homework #2: three groups of three. Bring in three pitches for story episodes of a family sitcom: Blackish, Modern Family, The Simpsons, Broad City, etc. (We will vote on the shows and assign them in class.)

Week 5: 2/19 – Writing Family Sitcom pitches

- Submit via email to instructor SHORT REWRITE #1
- Pitch and discuss sitcoms. Vote on the episode that gets picked up.
- Discuss Lady Bird – how sense of place helped her inspire the story.
- Homework: world building – photo essays (power point) of a world you would like to use for a story. Discuss True Detective, It's Always Sunny in Philadelphia, Girls, Broad City, Friday Night Lights and how these shows rely on a sense of place.

Part Two: Using Genre to challenge your character and shape your story

Week 6: 2/26 – Writing from place

- Present your world to class via powerpoint/keynote with music if you like. Discuss ways to find a story for it. Is there a character who is an outgrowth of your particular place. Where is the conflict?!
- Discuss genre and how genre can help shape a story and challenge your character.
- Homework: write a supernatural or horror-story pitch from a scenario. (Can be a Black Mirror Episode or a feature pitch.) Concentrate on character and WHY the story happens to him/her.

Week 7: 3/4 – The Supernatural/Horror Story

- Pitch and discuss your supernatural or horror story pitches. Who is the main character and why do we care?
- Homework: Create a Trip With Destination (Road Trip) pitch.

Week 8: 3/11 – Road Trip

- Discuss Road Trip pitches.
- Homework: Midterm Project. Chose one of your pitches and develop it into a 5-7 page synopsis: a short pitch/teaser, description of the main character and then tell us the story, beginning-middle-resolution (acts 1-2-3.)

Week 9: 3/18 – MIDSEMESTER BREAK

Week 10: 3/25 – Writing for an Actor

- MIDTERM PROJECTS due.
- In Class – put actors' names in a hat. Put locations in a hat. Put genre in a hat. Teams pick and use the class to create a feature story for the actor/place.
- Homework: Create a character (biography) who is unable to love.

Week 11: 4/1 Rom-Com (Love story)

- Discuss character who is unable to love. What is their NEED?
- In class – in groups find a perfect foil for that character. (A character MOST able to love.)
- Homework: write a rom-com pitch (2 pages) SHORT REWRITE #2. How do they meet? What is the conflict? How does location help inform the story? How does it end? Is the character compelling enough? Is his/her need fulfilled?
- Homework #2: In teams pitch 2 episodes of a detective series, procedural, hospital drama, HBO series or historical drama (examples to be decided in class).

Week 12: 4/8 – One-hour episodic: Detective, Hospital, Procedural Pitches

- Email your rom-com story (SHORT REWRITE #2) to the instructor.
- In class: Teams pitch episodes for one-hour series. Vote on winning episode that gets picked up.
- Homework: find a myth or character from classical literature that is interesting to you and could inspire a story.

Part Three: Finding stories in myth, legend or existing material

Week 12: 4/15 - Writing from Existing Material (Myth and Legend and Superheroes)

- Discuss and workshop mythical character/story and story possibilities.
- Homework next week: find a classical story/fairytale, (talk about how movies have used Shakespeare and Jane Austen) and create a high school story (comedy/romance/drama) using your chosen classical story as a guideline.
- OR... Create a hero or superhero and a potential story – series. Who is you Luke, your Harry, your Spiderman? What is their introduction (or creation story?) Who is their guide? Who is their antagonist?

Week 13: 4/22 – Writing from Existing Material (Myth and Legend and Superheroes)

- Discuss your classical story/fairytale/legend story. Is your main character strong enough? How did the myth help inspire/inform your story?
- Or discuss your hero/superhero stories. Talk about Star Wars/Harry Potter/Comic Book Stories.
- Homework: Bring in a biography story. (*This assignment will be given earlier in the semester to give you time to do some research.)

Week 14: 4/29 – Writing from Existing Material: The Biopic

- Discuss your biography pitches. Is the character compelling enough to carry a feature and interest an actor? Are there enough obstacles?
- Homework. Final Project Assignment: rewrite and expand a pitch (not your midterm story into a 5-10 synopsis. Due May 6th from 2-4PM.

Last Class Day – April 29

Writing Division Attendance Policy:

Students are expected be on time, prepared for each class, and meet professional standards.

Students are allowed two absences throughout the semester.

On the third absence, students will have their final grade lowered by 10% and an additional 10% for each absence thereafter. Two late arrivals equates to one full absence.

NOTE: Exceptions will be made in the case of religious holidays and DSP accommodations.

In the case of medical emergencies, family emergencies, or allowances needed for personal well-being, all concerns must be communicated and approved by the Instructor. If there is a difference of opinion, the student can contact the Writing Division at (213) 740-3303 or writing@cinema.usc.edu

If a student has an emergency and additional accommodations are needed, those accommodations will need to come through the USC Campus Support and Intervention (CSI) office. The Writing Division recommends the student and/or advocate contact CSI at 213-821-4710 and their home department adviser for additional support.

Please be aware that if you are a Writing for Screen and Television major/minor you must receive a grade of a C or better in order to receive degree credit. If you have any questions about the minimum grade required for credit, please check with your home department.

Presentation:

As you are hoping to enter the film industry as professionals, I expect your work to be prepared in a professional manner. Screenplay formatting errors, typos, bad spelling or grammar and overall sloppiness are NOT ACCEPTABLE.

Classroom Decorum

The professor expects all students to respect and support the ideas and writing of their fellow students. Writing is a fragile process and while we should ask questions, analyze and even challenge, we want to remain supportive, always keeping in mind that the screenplay is fragile work in progress. A working writer needs to develop the art of collaboration while working with their peers. As a working writer you will need to be able to work constructively with directors, producers and studio executives.

Laptop and Texting Policy

Students may use their laptops at the discretion of the professor. Laptops may be used for note taking, but not for surfing the web unless it is part of a class project. Texting is not allowed during class time. Texting is distracting and disruptive. There is nothing that needs to be communicated to anyone except your classmates during class time.

Save your texting and surfing until class break. Cell phones off.
