I. Course Description:

Advertising and Communication takes a 360 degree look at the meaning making, social relations, institutions, and products of contemporary advertising. Beginning from the vantage point of creatives and advertising practitioners, we will examine ad form and messaging devices. To be able to understand and critique advertising, our semester incorporates text study and opportunities to practice skills of visual culture.

Our aim is to understand the contexts in which messages are developed, produced, and circulated. By approaching advertising as more than a market mechanism, we will debate the social, psychological, political, and legal aspects of this cultural engagement.

By raising important questions of advertising as a space of mediation and dialogue between material goods and society, students will come to understand the day-to-day social, political, and economic edges of advertising. Through debates about advertising, students will obtain practical tools to inform communication strategy, and perhaps even effect social change. We will consider topics of branding, advertising strategy, privacy, political messaging, consumerism, text and image stereotypes, exclusion, racism, gender, as well as mechanisms and implications of audience targeting and segmentation. Our approach is to consider the different meanings of advertising and its regulations. In this way, we will acquire and develop rich resources for communication theorists, ad practitioners, creatives, and political activists.
II. Learning Objective:
Our primary learning objectives are threefold: 1) to understand advertising as a cultural text; 2) to analyze the social, political, technological and legal landscapes that make and sell desire, for some more than others; and 3) to create and pitch brand communication strategies that can better answer the social dilemmas or harms involved in marketplace representations and participation.

III. Required Readings:

IV. Recommended Reading:

V. Assignment Submission Policy:
All assignments are due on the dates specified. Lacking prior discussion and agreement with the instructor, late assignments will automatically be given a grade of F. Assignments must be submitted in class and upon request also via Blackboard.

VI. Assessment:
Participation & Exposé 15% of overall mark
Analysis Paper 15% of overall mark
Practicums 15% of overall mark
Midterm 20% of overall mark
Research & Portfolio Project 35% of overall mark

VII. Course Grading Policy
There are is one analysis paper, an exposé and a research and portfolio project due in this class. The details of each analysis paper and individual exposé assignments will be given in approximately one week before due dates. Papers must be presented in hard copy as well as word (not google doc) formats. Late papers will not be accepted. If you have an emergency that impacts your ability to turn your paper in on time, you need to contact the professor before the paper is due. Please consult the Exposé and Module Guidelines for submission details.

If you are unable to turn in an assignment due to illness or a personal emergency, you must provide written documentation that will allow you to be excused, or discuss your situation with me in a timely manner. Do not wait until the end of the semester to sort things out.

In order to pass this class you will need to complete ALL of the assignments. Failure to complete one or more of them will result in an F in the class.

Grades will be assigned as follows:

- A/A- outstanding, thoughtful and enthusiastic work
- B+/B above average work, demonstrating good insight into assignment
- B-/C+ needs improvement on ideas, argument and follow through
- C and below fulfilling the bare minimum and showing little understanding of the material

Each assignment will be worth 100 points and will be converted to a percentage score depending upon the weight assigned to each. Your percentage scores won the assignments will be totaled and translated to a letter grade per the scale shown below:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>95% to 100%: A</th>
<th>80% to 83%: B-</th>
<th>67% to 69%: D+</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>

IX. Attendance Policy:
You must participate actively in every discussion section. Attendance is compulsory. I will take attendance in each section. Students arriving more than fifteen minutes late will be considered absent. Students who have obviously not read the assigned material will be considered absent. Excused absences generally require documentation from either a university or medical authority.

X. Readings and Assignments:
All required readings need to be completed before the section. Please bring a version of the text to class. Come with questions about the readings and be prepared to name difficult, interesting or exciting concepts, terms, or dilemmas that we can discuss together. All assignments must be typed, double spaced and turned in as hardcopies.

XI. Class Policy:
Because our seminar format emphasizes student interaction, involves debate, and presents case study material, laptop usage is at the discretion of the professor. This policy is to ensure dynamic classroom participation. Please be prepared to take notes the old fashion way. Exceptions for note taking accommodation are possible by request.
