This class is open to all students from any school or department in the university.
There are no prerequisite requirements for this class.

INTRODUCTION & PURPOSE

Enrolling in CTPR 409 does not require any television production experience. All the skills you need to successfully complete this course are taught in class. Trojan Vision is the official USC campus television station.

This course introduces you to the basic concepts of multicamera television production. You'll learn and practice the process of producing Trojan Vision shows created in an online environment for streaming on social media.

2-UNITS - HOW DO STUDENTS ENROLL IN A CLASS / SHOW For 2-UNITS?

Enrollment is easy. On the Schedule of Classes, simply pick a 2-Unit section (19111R - 19116R) with a time that fits your schedule. This class time is when your TV show will be produced.

4-UNITS - HOW DO STUDENTS ENROLL IN A CLASS / SHOW FOR 4-UNITS?

On the Schedule of Classes, review the list of 2-Unit sections (19111R - 19116R) and select two sections that work best for your schedule. Then email the CTPR 409 Course Coordinator (Kathleen Dowdey at dowdey@usc.edu) to complete your registration.

HOW ARE TV SHOWS PRODUCED IN CTPR 409?

You'll create shows that consist of several short segments. Each segment will be based on content that interests you and your production team. Past show segments have included: musical performances, sketch comedy, health and fitness, yoga and pilates, talk shows, interviews, dance, news, news satire, student commentaries on Trojan life, fashion, game shows, cooking, science demos, magic, stand up, sports commentaries, entertainment news and movie reviews.

For example, here's a compilation of segments that might make up one show:

Entertainment News: red carpet arrivals at movie premier; movie review.

Music Performance: student vocalist or band.

Interview Show: host interviews candidate running for student government.

Scripted Comedy: sketch comedy performance.

Game Show: remote students play Trojan poker.

WHAT WILL 409 STUDENTS DO?

You'll brainstorm and pitch your ideas; team-produce show segments; research and book guests; write for and rehearse on-camera talent and work as crewmembers to produce your shows. This class requires you to prepare segments and meet as teams outside of class.

ARE THERE ANY PREREQUISITES?

No. This class is open to all students from any school or department in the university.

It's assumed that students enrolling in CTPR 409 have no television production experience.

All of the skills needed to successfully complete the course are taught in class.

ASSIGNMENTS, GRADES AND UNIT CREDITS

Class assignments include research for show content, team planning meetings and remote segment production. Optional reading is available digitally from the USC Libraries:

Cury, Ivan; Directing & Producing for Television; 5th edition; 2017; Routledge Press.

Owens, Jim; Television Production; 16th edition; 2015; Focal Press.

Grades are based on your assignments, preparation for class, professional behavior and the instructor's evaluation of your initiative and engagement in the shows. Extra credit opportunities will be offered.

GRADE CRITERIA:

20% - Student's understanding of television production.

30% - Quality of assignments.

50% - Initiative and engagement in show production and class discussions.

You are expected to be on time and prepared for each class/show. This class is performance oriented and attendance is extremely important. Two absences will result in your grade being lowered by one full letter (example: A becomes B). A third absence will result in your grade being lowered by one additional, full letter grade (B becomes C). Your grade will be lowered by one full letter for each additional absence. Two late class arrivals equate to one full absence. You must contact the instructor if you are going to be absent.

CELL PHONE AND ONLINE CLASS POLICIES

Cell phones, laptops, tablets and other personal devices may not be used during class unless they provide access to the class Zoom sessions or are necessary for class exercises. You are expected to appear on-screen during all online classes unless excused by the instructor in advance. Out of respect to your fellow students, SAs and instructors, bring a courteous and professional attitude to online classes.

CREDITS - 2 or 4 UNITS

CTPR 409 can be taken for 2 units (one class per week) and may be repeated up to four times.

To enroll for 2-Units, go to the Schedule of Classes and pick a section, (19111R - 19116R) that fits your schedule.

CTPR 409 can be taken for 4 units (two classes per week) and may be repeated twice.

To enroll for 4-Units, go to the Schedule of Classes and review the list of 2-Unit sections (19111R - 19116R). Select two sections that work best for your schedule and email the CTPR 409 Course Coordinator (Kathleen Dowdey at dowdey@usc.edu) to complete your registration.

CTPR 409 can be taken for a total maximum of 8 units.

Statement on Academic Conduct and Support Systems

Academic Conduct:

Plagiarism – presenting someone else’s ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Part B, Section 11, “Behavior Violating University Standards” policy.usc.edu/scampus-part-b. Diversity and Inclusion

Diversity and Inclusion are foundational to the SCA community. We are committed to fostering a welcoming and supportive environment where students of all identities and backgrounds can flourish. The classroom should be a space for open discussion of ideas and self-expression; however, SCA will not tolerate verbal or written abuse, threats, harassment, intimidation or violence against person or property. If students are concerned about these matters in the classroom setting they are encouraged to contact their SCA Diversity and Inclusion Liaison, <http://cinema.usc.edu/about/diversity.cfm>; e-mail: diversity@cinema.usc.edu. You can also report discrimination based on a protected class here: <https://equity.usc.edu/harassment-or-discrimination/>

Disruptive Student Behavior

Behavior that persistently or grossly interferes with classroom activities is considered disruptive behavior and may be subject to disciplinary action. Such behavior inhibits other students' ability to learn and an instructor's ability to teach. A student responsible for disruptive behavior may be required to leave class pending discussion and resolution of the problem and may be reported to the Office of Student Judicial Affairs for disciplinary action.
