Course Description

It's increasingly important that public relations professionals not only be good at writing for an array of audiences, but also have an understanding of basic design principles and a fluency in digital design tools, such as Adobe Photoshop, Adobe Illustrator, and Adobe InDesign. While many organizations may employ outside designers, or have an art department of their own, sometimes the task of creating smaller design collateral, such as postcards, Infographics or posters, falls to the PR practitioner. For many smaller firms, an art department or contract design help may not be available, so it is even more imperative to have a basic understanding of how to design collateral and execute these designs in the above programs. These are also important skills to have when communicating with an art department or outside designer, so you can clearly and effectively work with these parties and understand their needs.

Student Learning Outcomes

There are two main learning objectives in this class: Mastering the foundation for good design practice, and developing a basic proficiency in Adobe Photoshop, Illustrator, and InDesign. This class will allow you to exercise a lot of creativity as well in the assignments. You will have to come up with your own design concepts and execute them. Each of the assignments will measure:

- Your ability to present a concept for a project. Public relations is about devising ideas on how to promote a brand, a product, an issue or idea, and your ability to not only develop a concept but also to explain how and why it is appropriate for your target audience(s) is key in the industry.
- Your ability to execute a design idea. Is your design appropriate for the audience? Is it aesthetically sound? Can you explain why you made the design choices you did?
- Your ability to use the design programs that are industry standards: Adobe Photoshop, Illustrator, and InDesign. You should be able to create basic collateral using any of these programs by the end of this class.
- Your ability to present your final idea to your peers. This will prepare you for client presentations, fielding questions asking why certain design or collateral decisions were made and being able to explain your concept from beginning to how it was executed.

Recommended Preparation: Familiarize yourself with the Adobe software if you haven't used it already. There are many tutorials on YouTube and within the software itself to help walk you through the basics. It's recommended you do some of these tutorials, or see what offerings the Annenberg Digital Lounge (<https://annenbergdl.org>) have in terms of workshops.

Here are links to Adobe's tutorials:

Course Notes

All course material for this class will be posted on our class website: <http://jrosebud.github.io/pr486>. Please bookmark this website and check it regularly for readings and the slides from lectures. All assignments will be submitted via Dropbox, and the links to the assignment descriptions/instructions and assignment submission links will be on this website.

Technological Proficiency and Hardware/Software Required

No prior experience in using any design software (Adobe or otherwise) is required. However, students will need to have the Adobe Creative Cloud up and running on their own computers by the second week of class. All Annenberg students have free access to the Adobe Suite; all other students taking this course will also have free access for the duration of the course. Instructions on how to get access will be discussed the first day of class.

Description and Assessment of Assignments

All the assignments in this class will follow a semester-long theme: your own record company. Students will think of a concept -- including a name -- for their own company and create collateral throughout the semester for this company.

Assignments are as follows:

- Company pitch: Students must devise a name for their own record company and decide what the theme and musical vibe for this company will be. For example, what genre of music would this company promote, and what are some examples of artists that would be represented by this record company? What is the target audience and demographic? What kind of look and feel does the student envision for this company? You will be graded on your ability to explain your concept and present it, as well as how well you've considered your audience and what appeals to that audience specifically.
- Basic branding and business card: Students will create a basic logo (can be type-based) for the record company. What color schemes and fonts will be used for collateral and why? Students will also design a business card (two-sided) for the company. You will be graded on how well you put your design together, your design proficiency, and whether the materials you put together are appropriate to your brand and your audience.
- Promotional poster: It's time to promote your record company with a poster. Imagine it will be plastered on the street, at music venues, at coffee shops, at record stores, or wherever it can get put up. How will the student quickly grab the attention of people and get them interested in your record company? You will be graded on how well you put your design together, your design proficiency, and whether the materials you put together are appropriate to your brand and your audience.
- Social media graphics / promotion: Now that you have a new company, you've got to get it out there on social media. You'll create avatars and banner graphics for Facebook and Twitter, and create a promotional graphic and copy that you can use for different social media platforms. You will be graded on your design proficiency for these graphics, the quality of your social media campaign concept, and how well you leverage copy and graphics for each different social media platform (Facebook, Twitter, Instagram).
- Final project – promotional package/giveaway: Students will create a final promotional package to give away to inform people about their record company. Students must write all the copy for the liner notes and design it. Students will also design a CD case or other promotional packaging for a sampler of music that the record company will promote. (Note: the package doesn't have to be for a CD -- sometimes it can contain a USB drive or a digital music sampler.) You will be graded on how well you put your design together, your design proficiency, and whether the materials you put together are appropriate to your brand and your audience, and how well you are able to explain all the design decisions you made and why you chose to create your particular package.

Please note that for Spring 2020, this class will be taught online, meaning that physically producing and printing projects will not be mandatory. Digital mockups and materials will be accepted for assignments. Each assignment sheet will outline the submission guidelines clearly.

Grading Breakdown of Grade

Assignment	% of Grade
Company Pitch	15%
Design Assignments (3 total)	35%
Final Project	40%
Class Participation (this includes participation in class critiques and in-class activities)	10%
TOTAL	100%

Grading Scale

95% to 100%: A	80% to 83%: B-	67% to 69%: D+
90% to 94%: A-	77% to 79%: C+	64% to 66%: D
87% to 89%: B+	74% to 76%: C	60% to 63%: D-
84% to 86%: B	70% to 73%: C-	0% to 59%: F

Grading Standards

“A” projects have writing near professional quality; one or no mistakes; clearly proofread and edited material. All required elements included. Excellent organization and flow; original thinking. Showed creativity in concept and great design sense and needs little revision. High end of scale: publishable today as is. Physical product shows a high degree of craftsmanship: straight-cut edges, no smudges or unnecessary creases, high print quality and construction. Could be mass-produced as is.

“B” projects require more than minor editing and have a few style or spelling errors or one significant error of omission. One or more required elements missing or poorly displayed (i.e., boring headline; confusing design, misplaced elements, etc.). Shows potential. Some creativity shown. Publishable with medium editing. Physical product may have minor flaws, such as uneven cutting on the edges, one or two crooked elements, small printing imperfections/smudges/blotches, and uneven color.

“C” projects need considerable editing or rewriting and/or have many spelling, style or omission errors. Poorly edited and/or proofread. Hackneyed elements such as trite headline or clichés. Passive rather than active verbs become the norm. Little or no creativity shown. Mediocre concept or no real design concept at all. Publishable with major editing. Physical product is of mediocre quality and may be printed on low-quality stock. Physical product has major flaws, such as discoloration, fading, poorly cut edges, obviously crooked elements, obvious printing imperfections and smudges and appears hastily constructed without any attention to craftsmanship.

“D” projects require excessive rewriting, have numerous errors and should not have been submitted. No coherent or discernible design concept, no thought given to what design elements were used, such as color or typeface. Unable to explain design choices. Physical product needs to be completely reprinted and reconstructed.

“F” projects are not rewritable, printed in an unacceptable fashion, or not turned in. Any late assignment not turned in within a two-week period is an automatic zero.

Grading Timeline

Assignments will be graded and returned within two weeks from the time they were turned in. All feedback will be sent to the student via e-mail, and all any printed assignments will be returned to you by the last week of class. You are encouraged to come pick up your final projects – once you have received a final grade for them – before break; if that is not possible, other arrangements can be made.

Assignment Rubrics

All rubrics and requirements for assignments and projects will be posted to Dropbox along with the assignment description.

Assignment Submission Policy

A. All assignments are due on the dates specified. Lacking prior discussion and agreement with the instructor, late assignments will automatically be dropped one grade (10 points). Assignments that are two weeks late will be dropped two grades (20 points). No late assignments will be accepted after two weeks and are an automatic zero.

B. Assignments must be submitted via email or Dropbox. Your instructor will provide instructions on how to submit your files via Dropbox for projects that are too large to send via email. Digital versions are due before the class date specified.

Laptop Policy

All undergraduate and graduate Annenberg majors and minors are required to have a PC or Apple laptop that can be used in Annenberg classes. Please refer to the Annenberg Digital Lounge for more information. To connect to USC’s Secure Wireless network, please visit USC’s Information Technology Services website.

Add/Drop Dates for Session 001 (15 weeks: 1/15/2021 – 4/30/2021; Final Exam Period: 5/5-12/2021)

Friday, February 5: Last day to register and add classes for Session 001

Friday, February 5: Last day to drop a class without a mark of “W,” except for Monday-only classes, and receive a refund for Session 001

Tuesday, February 9: Last day to drop a Monday-only class without a mark of “W” and receive a refund for Session 001

Friday, March 5: Last day to drop a course without a mark of “W” on the transcript for Session 001. Mark of “W” will still appear on student record and STARS report and tuition charges still apply. [Please drop any course by the end of week three (or the 20 percent mark of the session) to avoid tuition charges.]

Friday, March 5: Last day to change pass/no pass to letter grade for Session 001. [All major and minor courses must be taken for a letter grade.]

Friday, April 9: Last day to drop a class with a mark of “W” for Session 001

Course Schedule: A Weekly Breakdown

Important note to students: Be advised that this syllabus is subject to change - and probably will change - based on the progress of the class, news events, and/or guest speaker availability.

	Topics/Daily Activities	Readings/Preparation	Deliverable/Due Dates
Week 1 Date: 1/20	Introductions, explanation of syllabus and class requirements. Basic design concepts: What makes good design? Learning which tool is best for the job: Photoshop, Illustrator, or InDesign.	Design slides / handouts. Start thinking of your record company name and concept.	Make sure you have Adobe Creative Suite installed and have working versions of Photoshop, Illustrator, and InDesign. If you are not an Annenberg student, contact TechOps and at least have the 7-day trial installed. Please have this done by the end of Week 2 at the latest. Illustrator is the first program we'll use, so definitely make sure you have that working.
Week 2 Date: 1/27	Give a brief oral presentation about your record company and what it's all about. Identity basics: How to think about creating simple logo/word mark. The importance of sketching.	Look ahead to Illustrator. Here is a logo tutorial: https://helpx.adobe.com/illustrator/how-to/logo-design.html?playlist=/ccx/v1/collection/product/illustrator/segment/designer/level/beginner/applaunch/orientation/collection.ccx.js	Record company pitch due. Turn in a Word doc/Google doc via email before 11 a.m.
Week 3 Date: 2/3	Illustrator basics: creating documents, learning the important tools, creating basic shapes. The pen tool and combining basic shapes to create more complex shapes. An explanation of vector vs. raster. If you can't draw a logo, what are your alternatives (such as Google tools or finding stock vectors)? If you prefer to draw on paper, how can you transfer your drawings for use in Illustrator?	Illustrator slides. Illustrator pen tutorial/handout. Not due in class, but do it for practice. Handout explaining how you will format your branding/business card project.	Start sketching some ideas for your logo and think about colors and typefaces.

Week 4 Date: 2/10	Photoshop basics: creating documents, setting up grids, working with fonts. Resolution and why it's important. More Photoshop basics: Importing images and using images and where to find stock images/proper image usage.	Photoshop cheat sheet handout. Become familiar with what the Photoshop tools do and some handy keyboard shortcuts.
Week 5 Date: 2/17	Oral presentations. You will show your branding work and business card in class. Be prepared to explain your color choices, font choices and why you decided to create the logo and business card you created. Poster design: What works? What doesn't? What elements do you need to have in order to make an effective poster?		Branding/business card due. Turn in digital elements via Dropbox by 11 a.m.
Week 6 Date: 2/24	More Illustrator skills: Creating complex shapes and an explanation of the Pathfinder tool. Working with paths. Patterns in Illustrator: How to make your own and use imported ones.	Start thinking about your poster concept and what assets you need to put it together (for instance, photos or drawings)
Week 7 Date: 3/3	Continuing with complex shapes in Illustrator: How do you go about drawing things with reference material? What are the different approaches	Handout explaining printing and sizing guidelines for poster. you can take to creating scenes, people, and things?

Week 8 Date: 3/10	More Photoshop skills: Selections and the art of cutting things out of photos. Basic touch-up tools. A basic discussion of printing and working with printers.
Week 9 Date: 3/17	Oral presentation about your poster and why you designed it the way you did.	Handout explaining different sizes needed for online media, guidelines for social media graphic assignment.	Poster due. Turn in digital version on Dropbox by 11 a.m.
Week 10 Date: 3/24	Social media graphics: Size guidelines, what you need for Twitter accounts and Facebook pages. What works for best practices? How can you use graphics/campaign ideas across different formats?		Start thinking about what you're going to do for your final project. Email your instructor a brief description of what you plan to do and whether you have special mockup needs.
Week 11 Date: 3/31	InDesign basics: Setting up a document and grids, and important tools. Importing large chunks of text. Importing Photoshop and Illustrator assets, and importing images.		Social media graphics assignment due. Please turn in all assets by 11 a.m. via Dropbox. No oral presentation for this assignment.
Week 12 Date: 4/7	WELLNESS DAY – NO CLASS (PLEASE ENJOY YOUR DAY!)
Week 13 Date: 4/14	InDesign continued: Working with multiple page documents. Basic book design. Pamphlet design (or something that has to be folded a specific way, like an accordion).		If you haven't told your instructor yet what you plan to do for your final project, do so by this week. Just a short email explaining your project will do.

	Text wraps and more complex layouts. Paragraph and character styles. Grids and tabs.
Week 14 Date: 4/21	The art of the mockup. How can you create realistic mockups for t-shirts, boxes, screens, and other materials.
Week 15 Date: 4/28	Open lab time. Come work on your final project and get your questions answered!
FINAL EXAM PERIOD Date: 5/7 (Friday, 11 a.m.-1 p.m.)	Final project presentations. Please note the date and time of the exam period (Friday, 5/7, 11 a.m. – 1 p.m.)		Digital version of final project due by 11 a.m. Project must be properly packaged (fonts, assets, etc.) as a zip file and uploaded to Dropbox.

Policies and Procedures

Additional Policies

If you must miss a class, please give ample notice to your instructor via email. You will be responsible for catching up on any missed material and make any arrangements you need to catch up in class.

No late assignments will be accepted unless you have a medical emergency or other excused absence. Documentation for any excused absence must be provided.

Communication

Please make sure to check your USC email regularly. It will be the primary means of communication between you and your instructor. If you have any questions, please feel free to email your instructor or come speak to your instructor before or after class or make an appointment.

Internships

The value of professional internships as part of the overall educational experience of our students has long been recognized by the School of Journalism. Accordingly, while internships are not required for successful completion of this course, any student enrolled in this course that undertakes and completes an approved, non-paid internship during this semester shall earn academic extra credit herein of an amount equal to 1 percent of the total available semester points for this course. To receive instructor approval, a student must request an internship letter from the Annenberg Career Development Office and bring it to the instructor to sign by the end of the third week of classes. The student must submit the signed letter to the media organization, along with the evaluation form provided by the Career Development Office. The form should be filled out by the intern supervisor and returned to the instructor at the end of the semester. No credit will be given if an evaluation form is not turned into the instructor by the last day of class. Note: The internship must be unpaid and can only be applied to one journalism or public relations class.

Statement on Academic Conduct and Support Systems

a. Academic Conduct

Plagiarism

Plagiarism – presenting someone else’s ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Part B, Section 11, “Behavior Violating University Standards” policy.usc.edu/scampus-part-b. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct.

USC School of Journalism Policy on Academic Integrity

The following is the USC Annenberg School of Journalism’s policy on academic integrity and repeated in the syllabus for every course in the school:

“Since its founding, the USC School of Journalism has maintained a commitment to the highest standards of ethical conduct and academic excellence. Any student found plagiarizing, fabricating, cheating on examinations, and/or purchasing papers or other assignments faces sanctions ranging from an ‘F’ on the assignment to dismissal from the School of Journalism. All academic integrity violations will be reported to the office of Student Judicial Affairs & Community Standards (SJACS), as per university policy, as well as journalism school administrators.”

In addition, it is assumed that the work you submit for this course is work you have produced entirely by yourself, and has not been previously produced by you for submission in another course or Learning Lab, without approval of the instructor.

b. Support Systems

Counseling and Mental Health - (213) 740-9355 – 24/7 on call

studenthealth.usc.edu/counseling

Free and confidential mental health treatment for students, including short-term psychotherapy, group counseling, stress fitness workshops, and crisis intervention.

National Suicide Prevention Lifeline - 1 (800) 273-8255 – 24/7 on call suicidepreventionlifeline.org

Free and confidential emotional support to people in suicidal crisis or emotional distress 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Relationship and Sexual Violence Prevention and Services (RSVP) - (213) 740-9355(WELL), press “0” after hours – 24/7 on call

USC Emergency - UPC: (213) 740-4321, HSC: (323) 442-1000 – 24/7 on call

dps.usc.edu, emergency.usc.edu

Emergency assistance and avenue to report a crime. Latest updates regarding safety, including ways in which instruction will be continued if an officially declared emergency makes travel to campus infeasible.

USC Department of Public Safety - UPC: (213) 740-6000, HSC: (323) 442-120 – 24/7 on call

dps.usc.edu

Non-emergency assistance or information.

Annenberg Student Success Fund

<https://annenberg.usc.edu/current-students/resources/additional-funding-resources>

The Annenberg Student Success Fund is a donor-funded financial aid account available to USC Annenberg undergraduate and graduate students for non-tuition expenses related to extra- and co-curricular programs and opportunities.

Breaking Bread Program [undergraduate students only]

<https://undergrad.usc.edu/faculty/bread/>

The Breaking Bread Program is designed to provide individual undergraduate students with an opportunity to meet and have scholarly discussions with faculty members outside of the normal classroom setting. Through this program, students and faculty enjoy good company and great conversation by literally “breaking bread” over a meal together and USC will pick up the tab! Your meal event can take place anywhere outside of the normal classroom setting. Your venue can be a restaurant or eatery on or off-campus.

About Your Instructor

Jenn de la Fuente is a web developer with a graphic design background. She has run her own business, Rosebud Designs, since 2009 and developed a variety of print and web collateral for a range of clients, from nonprofits to small businesses. Her specialty is creating custom WordPress websites, and she has teamed up with other design firms and design businesses to create solutions for clients such as Rancho La Puerta, Heal the Bay, 826 Los Angeles, and 826 National. Before starting her business, Jenn worked in sports journalism as a reporter, copy editor, page designer, and web producer for a variety of newspapers: the Orange County Register, The News Journal (Wilmington, Delaware), and The Sacramento Bee. She holds a Bachelor of Arts in Print Journalism from USC Annenberg, graduating in 2000, and has taught at Annenberg since 2014. She is an avid sports fan, longtime Trojan football season ticket holder, a huge L.A. Kings fan, as well as a hockey player and curler.
