

JOUR 321: Visual Journalism

2 Units

Spring 2021 – Thursdays – 6-7:40 p.m.

Section: 21179D

Location: Online

Instructor: Olivia Smith

Office: Online

Office Hours: Available upon request.

Course Description

Students will gain an understanding of journalistic visual storytelling through theory and practical application while exploring current and emerging story forms. Key components of the course include critically analyzing, interpreting, producing and understanding stories and story elements presented in journalistic visual formats.

With a focus on visual media literacy, students will learn how to produce and share compelling visual stories in a variety of formats. Skills of the class include: Introduction to video for digital and social media platforms, principles of photography, design for web and mobile platforms, and the roles each play in interactive and engaging storytelling. An emphasis will be placed on visual stories for web, mobile and social media.

Students will also explore the fundamentals of digital news design, including interactivity and presentation as it applies to journalistic story forms across platforms. In addition to providing you with skills necessary to produce journalistic multimedia stories, including videos and audio slideshows, we will also cover ethical, legal and social issues affecting visual journalists. Finally, we will explore an introduction to best practices for social media.

We will take a practical, hands-on approach in this class. An introduction to photo, audio and video editing software will be provided.

A modern mobile or tablet device with a camera such as the iPhone X or Android Device will be used as a primary content-gathering device in the class. You'll learn how to use your device as a journalist, including using apps for shooting, editing and other visual purposes. A required toolkit with mobile accessories is listed under required readings and supplementary materials for this course. However, if students cannot obtain these accessories because of financial or other limitations, please contact your instructor for other options. Assignments for this class may be solely done on your modern mobile device or laptop.

More importantly, you will learn how to think visually and develop a mobile mindset when it comes to reporting. This course will introduce students to DSLR cameras and its functions. Using DSLRs is optional for video and photo assignments.

Student Learning Outcomes

- Students will demonstrate the principles of photojournalism, including composition, framing, light, color, editing and depth of field.
- Students will create news stories using video, audio and graphics for digital media—including the web, social media and mobile devices.
- Students will identify principles of news design in journalism.
- Students will recognize basic social media best practices and related professional journalism standards.
- Students will analyze ethical/legal standards and diversity issues in visual journalism.

Course Notes

This class meets online only via Zoom. Class materials, lectures, assignments, homework and grades will be posted in Blackboard. Students will use social distance reporting methods for this course that may be adjusted based on state and county guidelines and university guidelines. A list of best practices will be provided. Please note that these guidelines may change.

Technological Proficiency and Hardware/Software Required

This class uses Zoom and Blackboard as its main methods of delivery for instruction and related activities. In addition, a modern mobile device and laptop computer is required, along with strongly recommended visual journalism equipment listed on the last page of this syllabus. Students will also use the Adobe Creative Suite, specifically Adobe Premiere and Audition, as well as selected free mobile apps for this course. Please contact your instructor if you have any challenges financially or otherwise with required hardware or software.

Description and Assessment of Assignments

We will focus on creating and publishing multimedia stories. Your multimedia stories must be local, campus or community-related. You will work individually on most projects, but may also be assigned to work in teams for some assignments. As part of this class, students will complete a video story for the web or social media, a photo series for the web or social media, an audio slideshow assignment for Web or social media, photo essay, photo assignments on Instagram, design assignments, and miscellaneous class assignments. A group presentation will also be developed on themes related to ethics, law and diversity. At your instructor's discretion, some assignments may be in coordination with your writing and reporting classes and/or the Annenberg Media Center. Assignments will be published to social media platforms and/or using Adobe Spark Page or other tools.

Grading Standards

Telling compelling stories is critical for your assignments. Strong characters, visuals and good reporting is essential for your projects. In addition to the concepts above and those covered in lectures and readings, assignments will be graded on accuracy, grammar, spelling, AP style, clarity, deadlines, conciseness, structure, proper punctuation, quality of interviews/reporting and use of quotes (if applicable), use/number/quality of sources, attribution, research, objectivity, etc. You must abide by the Society of Professional Journalists Code of Ethics (<http://www.spj.org/ethicscode.asp>), NPPA (<https://nppa.org/ethics>), SND (<http://www.snd.org>) and the RTNDA Code of Ethics (http://www.rtdna.org/content/rtdna_code_of_ethics#.VTNMjltAwUU). Grading will be based on the quality of work and application of principles and concepts learned in class and from required readings. Criteria for grading also includes quality of audio, storytelling, accuracy, technical quality. Grading will also be based on meeting deadlines. Late work is not accepted in this class. For story assignments, publishable work should be submitted taking into account audience, engagement and platform/outlet, along with principles discussed in lectures and textbooks.

In addition, the Annenberg grading policy will be applied as follows:

All assignments will be edited on a professional basis and you will be judged first on the accuracy, fairness and completeness of your stories. You will then be evaluated for style, editing, production value, originality and the ability to meet deadlines.

“A” stories are accurate, clear, comprehensive stories that are well written and require only minor copyediting (i.e., they would be aired or published). Video work must also be shot and edited creatively, be well paced and include good sound bites and natural sound that add flavor, color or emotion to the story.

“B” stories require more than minor editing and have a few style or spelling errors or one significant error of omission. For video, there may be minor flaws in the composition of some shots or in the editing. Good use of available sound bites is required.

“C” stories need considerable editing or rewriting and/or have many spelling, style or omission errors. Camera work and editing techniques in video stories are mediocre or unimaginative, but passable. Sound bites add little or no color - only information that could be better told in the reporter’s narration.

“D” stories require excessive rewriting, have numerous errors and should not have been submitted. Camera work is unsatisfactory or fails to show important elements.

“F” stories have failed to meet the major criteria of the assignment, are late, have numerous errors or both. Your copy should not contain any errors in spelling, style, grammar and facts. Any misspelled or mispronounced proper noun will result in an automatic “F” on that assignment. Any factual error will also result in an automatic “F” on the assignment. Accuracy is the first law of journalism. The following are some other circumstances that would warrant a grade of “F” and potential USC/Annenberg disciplinary action:

- Fabricating a story or making up quotes or information.
- Plagiarizing a script/article, part of a script/article or information from any source.
- Staging video or telling interview subjects what to say.
- Using video shot by someone else and presenting it as original work.
- Shooting video in one location and presenting it as another location.
- Using the camcorder to intentionally intimidate, provoke or incite a person or a group of people to elicit more “dramatic” video.
- Promising, paying or giving someone something in exchange for doing an interview either on or off camera.
- Missing a deadline.
- Violating the SPJ, NPPA, or SND Code of Ethics.

Grading Timeline

Assignments will be graded and returned within one to two weeks after submissions.

Assignment Rubrics

Assignment rubrics and requirements will be distributed to students for every major assignment in the course.

Assignment Submission Policy

- A. All assignments are due on the dates specified. Lacking prior discussion and agreement with the instructor, late assignments will automatically be given a grade of F. Instructor is not obligated to accept late assignments.
- B. Assignments must be submitted via Blackboard unless otherwise indicated by your instructor.
- C. Assignments are due before the start of class on the date indicated unless otherwise indicated by your instructor.
- D. All assignments must be your original work produced this semester for this course only.
- E. No assignments will be accepted after the last day of class. Failure to turn in an assignment by the last day of class will result in a failing grade for that assignment.

Students are encouraged to submit their work for consideration to Annenberg Media or the Daily Trojan, or pitch it to mainstream media outlets. Visit <http://bit.ly/SubmitAnnenbergMedia> for more information about that submission and review process and email Daily Trojan news editors at dt.city@gmail.com for more on how to pitch your work to the campus newspaper.

Laptop Policy

All undergraduate and graduate Annenberg majors and minors are required to have a PC or Apple laptop that can be used in Annenberg classes. Please refer to the Annenberg Digital Lounge for more information. To connect to USC’s Secure Wireless network, please visit USC’s Information Technology Services website.

Add/Drop Dates for Session 001 (15 weeks: 1/15/2021 – 4/30/2021; Final Exam Period: 5/5-12/2021)

Friday, February 5: Last day to register and add classes for Session 001

Friday, February 5: Last day to drop a class without a mark of “W,” except for Monday-only classes, and receive a refund for Session 001

Tuesday, February 9: Last day to drop a Monday-only class without a mark of “W” and receive a refund for Session 001

Friday, March 5: Last day to drop a course without a mark of “W” on the transcript for Session 001. Mark of “W” will still appear on student record and STARS report and tuition charges still apply. [Please drop any course by the end of week three (or the 20 percent mark of the session) to avoid tuition charges.]

Friday, March 5: Last day to change pass/no pass to letter grade for Session 001. [All major and minor courses must be taken for a letter grade.]

Friday, April 9: Last day to drop a class with a mark of “W” for Session 001

Course Schedule: A Weekly Breakdown

Important note to students: Be advised that this syllabus is subject to change - and probably will change - based on the progress of the class, news events, and/or guest speaker availability.

Policies and Procedures

Additional Policies

- Please adhere to the following guidelines for class: Attend class dressed as you would attend an in-person class. If possible, try to use a laptop on a table for class sessions because we will sometimes have group activities during class that can be difficult to participate in from a mobile device. Try to keep your camera on during class. If possible, avoid distracting backgrounds. Try to attend class in a quiet space. Keep your mic on mute unless you are speaking. Use the “raise” hand function to speak during class. Be respectful of others during class. Use the chat function to further class discussions or ask questions. I want to recognize that there are times you may not feel comfortable with your camera on for various reasons and that is okay, but it is preferred that you keep your camera on if you can. These are guidelines only and it is recognized that students have different circumstances and access when it comes to materials and space.

- If you need assistance with Wi-Fi access, study space, technology considerations or anything else related to this course experience, please reach out to me. The school may be able to help with many of these things.
- Participation is a major component of this class, but how you participate is (in part) up to you. In-class discussions, contributions to canvas discussion boards, and correspondence with me will all be factored into participation. Respect for the classroom space -- helping to create an environment where other students can learn -- will be considered, as well.
- While it is expected that students will make every effort to attend classes, it is recognized that personal circumstances will arise which preclude class attendance. In such circumstances, the student is responsible for obtaining the materials presented in missed classes and for making up missed tests and other assignments.
- Students may be attending this class in different time zones. All classes will be recorded according to university policy and made available to you in Blackboard. Please contact me if you have a time zone challenge for attending class.
- I want to recognize you are taking this course during a pandemic. Times can be stressful. Please reach out to me if you have any challenges related to this course, assignments, etc. I am here to help and work with you.

Communication

Feel free to contact me during office hours, schedule an appointment, or email me. Emails during weekdays will usually be answered within 24 hours. For urgent messages you may text me as well. I am also on Slack for Annenberg Media during the week.

Internships

The value of professional internships as part of the overall educational experience of our students has long been recognized by the School of Journalism. Accordingly, while internships are not required for successful completion of this course, any student enrolled in this course that undertakes and completes an approved, non-paid internship during this semester shall earn academic extra credit herein of an amount equal to 1 percent of the total available semester points for this course. To receive instructor approval, a student must request an internship letter from the Annenberg Career Development Office and bring it to the instructor to sign by the end of the third week of classes. The student must submit the signed letter to the media organization, along with the evaluation form provided by the Career Development Office. The form should be filled out by the intern supervisor and returned to the instructor at the end of the semester. No credit will be given if an evaluation form is not turned into the instructor by the last day of class. Note: The internship must be unpaid and can only be applied to one journalism or public relations class.

Statement on Academic Conduct and Support Systems

a. Academic Conduct

Plagiarism

Plagiarism – presenting someone else’s ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Part B, Section 11, “Behavior Violating University Standards” policy.usc.edu/scampus-part-b. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct.

USC School of Journalism Policy on Academic Integrity

The following is the USC Annenberg School of Journalism’s policy on academic integrity and repeated in the syllabus for every course in the school:

“Since its founding, the USC School of Journalism has maintained a commitment to the highest standards of ethical conduct and academic excellence. Any student found plagiarizing, fabricating, cheating on examinations, and/or purchasing papers or other assignments faces sanctions ranging from an ‘F’ on the assignment to dismissal from the School of Journalism. All academic integrity violations will be reported to the office of Student Judicial Affairs & Community Standards (SJACS), as per university policy, as well as journalism school administrators.”

In addition, it is assumed that the work you submit for this course is work you have produced entirely by yourself, and has not been previously produced by you for submission in another course or Learning Lab, without approval of the instructor.

<https://undergrad.usc.edu/faculty/bread/>

The Breaking Bread Program is designed to provide individual undergraduate students with an opportunity to meet and have scholarly discussions with faculty members outside of the normal classroom setting. Through this program, students and faculty enjoy good company and great conversation by literally “breaking bread” over a meal together and USC will pick up the tab! Your meal event can take place anywhere outside of the normal classroom setting. Your venue can be a restaurant or eatery on or off-campus.

About Your Instructor

Olivia Smith is the Executive Producer of Next Generation Storytelling at ABC7. Smith is responsible for leading a team of community journalists and for helping drive innovative storytelling techniques across the organization. She is a manager as well as an active content creator. Smith focuses on telling stories for all media platforms in addition to supervising and training her team. Prior to ABC7, Smith helped build two digital video teams for ABC News National and Good Morning America. Smith co-produced a documentary, Dead Horse Bay, which was the first-ever piece to be nominated and to win an Emmy Award for ABC News National’s digital unit. She won her second Emmy with the GMA team. She was nominated for a third Emmy for coverage of the solar eclipse, where she was one of the television correspondents for the special report. Smith earned her master’s degree from the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism and her bachelor’s degree from NYU.
