Course Description

Strength of Materials is a first course in the field of solid mechanics. Studying the properties and behaviors of materials is crucial in prediction of structural failure in any industry application. This course provides principles of mechanics and their application to analyze basic engineering problems.

Learning Objectives and Outcomes

- Apply the concept of stress and strain deflection to various mechanical structures
- Analyze and interpret tension, shear, bending, torsion, buckling and combined loads
- Employ a strength-based design approach
- Analyze statically indeterminate structures
- Utilize energy methods to analyze structural members
- Develop a comprehensive methodical strategy to solve real-world engineering problems

Pre-requisite

Statics: AME 201 or CE 205.

Textbook

Beer, F., Johnston, E.R., DeWolf, J., and Mazurek, D.F. Mechanics of Materials., 7th Edition

Resources

Blackboard Copies of lecture notes, and other class information will be posted on blackboard.

Campuswire We use Campuswire platform to post announcements, Q&A and discussions

Gradescope Homework, quizzes and exams are submitted and graded via Gradescope.

Technological Proficiency and Hardware/Software Required

A scientific calculator will be required.

Communication

I want you to feel comfortable asking questions and giving me feedback on the course. If you have questions or comments, please speak to me directly after class or during my posted office hours. You can also email me (sheikhha@usc.edu). I will respond to all emails within 48 hours.

Description and Assessment of Assignments

Homework

Weekly problem assignments will be delivered through Gradescope. Handwritten solutions should be scanned and submitted via Gradescope.

Late Work Policy

No late homework will be accepted. Two of the lowest grades in homework assignments will be discarded.

Quizzes

Weekly quizzes will be administered. The content will be similar to problems solved in the previous lectures, study guides, homework or reading assignments. There will be no make-up quiz for any reason. Instead, two of the lowest grades will be disregarded.

Examinations

Two midterm examinations are scheduled for the regular lecture periods. The format will be similar to the assigned homework assignments; successful completion of the homework will be a good indicator of your success on the exams.

a. Midterm examinations:

i. Midterm 1: Ch. 1-2

ii. Midterm 2: Ch. 3,4,5,6

b. Final Examination :

The final examination will be comprehensive, covering all topics presented in the course. Extra emphasis will be placed on the material covered after the second midterm.

A respectable performance on quizzes and exams can be realized by all students if attention and energy are given to the timely completion of assigned homework problems.

Dates

Midterm dates are tentative and may change depending on how the class progresses. Any change will be announced two weeks before. The final examination date and time are set by the office of registration and cannot be changed.

	MT#1	MT#2	Final
Date	3/3	4/5	5/10

Grading Breakdown

Assignments	Points	%
Homework	100	10
Quiz	100	20
Max(MT#1,#2)	100	22
Min(MT#1,#2)	100	18
Final	100	30
Total	500	100

If there is any extra-credit assignment or project it will be applied to the final exam.

Grading Scale

Course final grades will be determined using the following scale.

Grade	Total
A	93-100
A-	90-92.99
B+	88-89.99
B	83-87.99
B-	80-82.99
C+	78-79.99
C	73-77.99
C-	70-71.99
D+	68-69.99
D	63-67.99
D-	60-62.99
F	59.99 and below

The overall letter grade will be assigned within three days of grading the final. The grade letters are based on a class average performance of B. If the mean falls below the grade cutoffs of B, the grades will be curved.

Grading Dispute

Grading disputes are to be resolved within two days after returning the exam.

Additional Course Policies

Class attendance is strongly encouraged. The approach to specific subjects in the lecture might be different from the text. Students will be responsible for the methods outlined in the class.

Cellphones, laptops, tablets (except for note-taking purposes) and anything else electronic are to be turned off during class.

Final grade will depend entirely on the performance on the above components and be independent of the financial support requirements (e.g., minimum grade requirement for tuition reimbursement).

Work-related travel must be scheduled outside of the mid-term and final examinations periods. Accommodation to take exams on different dates will be made only for family emergencies, religious observance and documented illness or health-related emergencies.

DSP approved students should inform the instructor at the beginning of the semester for any requested accommodation.

Course evaluation

Two surveys will gather student opinions about the course: the mid-semester evaluation and the standard USC course evaluation survey at the end of the semester. Your opinion is valued and can make a difference in how this course is conducted; please give your honest and constructive recommendations.
