This on-camera, workshop-style class introduces students to the fundamentals of screen acting through exploration of the distinctions between the media of stage and screen. Class work identifies the technical implications of these differences. Controlled exposure to on-camera performance dynamics prompts students to define and master techniques for dealing with the parameters unique to acting for the camera and to incorporate them into the fundamental process of actualizing effective on-camera performances.

Objectives and Methods
The philosophy of SDA correctly maintains that the art and craft of acting is best learned on the stage. However, in today’s increasingly digital world, the study of acting cannot be considered complete without a detailed exposure to the technical adjustments an actor must make to achieve effectiveness when acting for the camera.

The object of this class is to compliment students’ initial explorations of the nature of stage acting, with an introduction to the contrasting technical dynamics of screen acting. It is, further, to demystify the craft of screen acting by exploring the similarities between the two while identifying technical solutions to their differences. Among the numerous technical challenges—many of which are a result of the “close up” proximity of the audience—are the camera’s ability to perceive a character’s thoughts; the emphasis on circumstance rather than dialogue to inform the essence of a given scene; vocal projection; gauging the “size” of the actor’s movements and gestures. Further, the contrasting mechanics of production also demand different approaches to rehearsal, and scene preparation.

Classes consist of discussions, video examples; on-camera exercises; and scene work with video playback. Class work is supplemented by a required reading list. Timely submission of a special midterm paper is required. Students are required to keep a weekly journal, reflecting in specific detail one or more designated aspects of that day’s class experience.

NOTE: THIS SYLLABUS IS SUBJECT TO CHANGE DEPENDING ON THE SIZE OF THE CLASS AND THE ACCOMPLISHMENT LEVEL OF THE PARTICIPANTS

Students Are Required: to purchase one new 32GB or 64GB digital “SD Card” Class 10 with a speed of 94/95 (approximately $40). (It does not have to be made by Sony.) We will use it every week including the first. Students will bring this SD card to each class meeting, including the first.

Course Work and Final Exam: Students will work on camera every week. During and following each class students will make entries in a personal performance journal. Each entry will record in specific detail one or more designated aspects of that day’s on-camera or preparation experience. These journals will serve as learning cues in conjunction with video replay analysis. They are intended to encourage disciplined, accurate, and beneficial self-appraisal skills. They will be reviewed for comment and discussion by the instructor periodically, at midterm and at term’s end. No e-mailed papers will be accepted. Typed entries preferred. Format of the Final Exam to be announced.

Grading Policy: Grades are not dictated by the success of acting presentations or the instructor’s subjective opinion of talent or artistic preference. Grades are dictated by:
