I. COURSE PREREQUISITES

Social Work Practice with Adolescents, Young Adults and their Families is an advanced practice course of the School of Social Work, Department of Children, Youth and Families. Students will have successfully completed the generalist semester (SOWK 544 & SOWK 506) and the first semester departmental required courses (SOWK 608, SOWK 609, SOWK 610) before enrolling in this course.

II. CATALOGUE DESCRIPTION

The course focuses on intervention with adolescents and young adults, addressing developmental assets and challenges facing youth. The roles of various contexts in the development of problems and solutions will be addressed. Skills in engagement and evidence-based interventions in working with youth will be acquired.

III. COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course advances theoretical knowledge and practice skills in working with adolescents, young adults, and their families. The course uses biopsychosocial and systems/ecological perspectives in viewing adolescents and young adults in the context of their family and social environment. It focuses on challenges that adolescents and their families face. The role of schools, other social institutions, the community, and the larger social environment, including state and national policies and their impact on adolescents, young adults and their families will be explored. Current research that informs theory and practice with these age groups will be considered. Students will develop knowledge and skills of applying evidence-based practices and interventions, including engagement, assessment, and diagnosis, as well as intervention and evaluation with adolescents, young adults and their family.

IV. COURSE OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of Social Work Practice with Adolescents, Young Adults and their Families course (SOWK 621) students will have:

Objective #	Objectives
1	Used critical thinking to integrate knowledge and perspectives on adolescence, and young adulthood with the developmental tasks and competencies associated with the transition to adulthood.
2	Demonstrated understanding of contexts of practice with adolescents, transition age youth and young adults, including the family, and the systems and service systems that assist clients before and after age eighteen. Students will locate resources at federal, state and county levels, and understand how these resources may differ depending on geographical location and the service-providing agency.
3	Developed their perspectives, theoretical understanding, and research-based knowledge on major mental health issues that may affect adolescents and young adults.
4	Critically considered and used current research, theory and evidence- based practices when working with adolescents, transition age youth, young adults and their families, while taking into account the impact of the complex social environment on youth and their families.

6.	Demonstrated enhanced self-awareness by critically examining thoughts, feelings, and practices with adolescents, young adults and their families.

V. COURSE FORMAT AND INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

The class format consists of a combination of didactic lecture, class discussion, small group discussions and experiential exercises. Role-plays, case vignettes, small group discussions, and videos will also be incorporated to facilitate learning. Students will be invited to share case materials from field placement to illustrate and deepen content of class discussion, and to provide integration of knowledge and experience between the classroom and the field. Confidentiality of information shared in class will always be observed.

This assignment relates to student learning outcomes: 1& 4

Class Participation (10% of Course Grade)

It is expected that students will attend class regularly, participate in class discussions, and submit work promptly. Failure to meet these expectations may result in reduction in grades.

Your involvement in this class is considered essential to your growth as a practitioner. You will be asked to discuss the material assigned, participate in role-playing, exercises, and so on. Knowing the "right" answers is not nearly as important as being willing to risk, explore your ideas, and be open to new information and ideas. Your presence in class, along with preparation by having read and considered the assignments, and participation in discussion is essential. Participation on a course website (message board/chat room), if developed, also constitutes meaningful class participation.

Guidelines for Evaluating Class Participation:

10: Outstanding Contributor: Contributions in class reflect exceptional preparation and participation is substantial. Ideas offered are always substantive, provides one or more major insights as well as direction for the class. Application to cases held is on target and on topic. Challenges are well substantiated, persuasively presented, and presented with excellent comportment. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion would be diminished markedly. Exemplary behavior in experiential exercises demonstrating on target behavior in role plays, small-group discussions, and other activities.

9: Very Good Contributor: Contributions in class reflect thorough preparation and frequency in participation is high. Ideas offered are usually substantive, provide good insights and sometimes direction for the class. Application to cases held is usually on target and on topic. Challenges are well substantiated, often persuasive, and presented with excellent comportment. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion would be diminished. Good activity in experiential exercises demonstrating behavior that is usually on target in role plays, small-group discussions, and other activities.

8: Good Contributor: Contributions in class reflect solid preparation. Ideas offered are usually substantive and participation is very regular, provides generally useful insights but seldom offer a new direction for the discussion. Sometimes provides application of class material to cases held. Challenges are sometimes presented, fairly well substantiated, and are sometimes persuasive with good comportment. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion would be diminished somewhat. Behavior in experiential exercises demonstrates good understanding of methods in role plays, small-group discussions, and other activities.

7: Adequate Contributor: Contributions in class reflect some preparation. Ideas offered are somewhat substantive, provides some insights but seldom offers a new direction for the discussion. Participation is somewhat regular. Challenges are sometimes presented and are sometimes persuasive with adequate comportment. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion would be diminished slightly. Occasionally applies class content to cases. Behavior in experiential exercises is occasionally sporadically on target demonstrating uneven understanding of methods in role plays, small-group discussions, and other activities.

6: Inadequate: This student says little in class. Hence, there is not an adequate basis for evaluation. The student doesn't participate actively in exercises and sits mostly silently in group activities and in class discussions.

5: Non-participant: Attends class only. Does not appear to be engaged.

Class grades will be based on the following:

Class Grades		Final Grade
3.85–4.00	A	93–100	A
3.60–3.84	A–	90–92	A–
3.25–3.59	B+	87–89	B+
2.90–3.24	B	83–86	B
2.60–2.89	B–	80–82	B–
2.25–2.59	C+	76–79	C+
1.90–2.24	C	73-75	C
		70–72	C–

Within the USC Suzanne Dworak-Peck School of Social Work, grades are determined in each class based on the following standards which have been established by the faculty of the School: (1) Grades of A or A- are reserved for student work which not only demonstrates very good mastery of content but which also shows that the student has undertaken a complex task, has applied critical thinking skills to the assignment, and/or has demonstrated creativity in her or his approach to the assignment. The difference between these two grades would be determined by the degree to which these skills have been demonstrated by the student. (2) A grade of B+ will be given to work which is judged to be very good. This grade denotes that a student has demonstrated a more-than-competent understanding of the material being tested in the assignment. (3) A grade of B will be given to student work which meets the basic requirements of the assignment. It denotes that the student has done adequate work on the assignment and meets basic course expectations. (4) A grade of B- will denote that a student's performance was less than adequate on an assignment, reflecting only moderate grasp of content and/or expectations. (5) A grade of C would reflect a minimal grasp of the assignments, poor organization of ideas and/or several significant areas requiring improvement. (6) Grades between C- and F will be applied to denote a failure to meet minimum standards, reflecting serious deficiencies in all aspects of a student's performance on the assignment.

As a professional school, class attendance and participation is an essential part of your professional training and development at the USC Suzanne Dworak-Peck School of Social Work. You are expected to attend all classes and meaningfully participate. For Ground courses, having more than 2 unexcused absences in class may result in the lowering of your grade by a half grade. Additional absences can result in additional deductions. For VAC courses, meaningful participation requires active engagement in class discussions and maintaining an active screen. Having more than two unexcused absences in class may result in the lowering of your grade by a half grade. Additional absences in the live class can result in additional deductions. Furthermore, unless directed by your course instructor, you are expected to complete all asynchronous content and activities prior to the scheduled live class discussion. Failure to complete two asynchronous units before the live class without prior permission may also lower your final grade by a half grade. Not completing additional units can result in additional deductions.

Approved by the 1996 NASW Delegate Assembly and revised by the 2017 NASW Delegate Assembly https://www.socialworkers.org/About/Ethics/Code-of-Ethics/Code-of-Ethics-English

Preamble

The primary mission of the social work profession is to enhance human well-being and help meet the basic human needs of all people, with particular attention to the needs and empowerment of people who are vulnerable, oppressed, and living in poverty. A historic and defining feature of social work is the profession's focus on individual well-being in a social context and the well-being of society. Fundamental to social work is attention to the environmental forces that create, contribute to, and address problems in living.

Social workers promote social justice and social change with and on behalf of clients. "Clients" is used inclusively to refer to individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. .Social workers are sensitive to cultural and ethnic diversity and strive to end discrimination, oppression, poverty, and other forms of social injustice. These activities may be in the form of direct practice, community organizing, supervision, consultation, administration, advocacy, social and political action, policy development and implementation, education, and research and evaluation. Social workers seek to enhance the capacity of people to address their own needs. Social workers also seek to promote the responsiveness of organizations, communities, and other social institutions to individuals' needs and social problems.

The mission of the social work profession is rooted in a set of core values. These core values, embraced by social workers throughout the profession's history, are the foundation of social work's unique purpose and perspective:

- Service
- Social justice
- Dignity and worth of the person
- Importance of human relationships
- Integrity
- Competence

This constellation of core values reflects what is unique to the social work profession. Core values, and the principles that flow from them, must be balanced within the context and complexity of the human experience.
