COURSE DESCRIPTION

This 1.5-unit course explores mindfulness (non-judgmental awareness) and compassion and their relationship to leadership. While leaders can view challenges and opportunities through many different perspectives, this course helps students learn another perspective based on mindfulness and compassion. Topics include how mindfulness enhances clarity in purpose and productivity in leaders and the connection between mindfulness and compassion. To have a direct experience of mindfulness and compassion, students will engage in a practical application of these perspectives through exercises from evidence-based programs developed in medical research. These programs use mindfulness meditation as a centerpiece and are currently being used by business and governments internationally to develop better leaders.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

By the end of the course, participants will be able to:

1. Explain how mindfulness enhances clarity in purpose and productivity in leaders
2. Identify, describe and apply principles and practices of mindfulness and compassionate to leadership
3. Apply mindfulness to management burnout, conflict resolution, time management and interpersonal relations
4. Explain and practice meditation techniques developed in evidence-based programs in medical research
5. Demonstrate increased clarity and critical thinking in decision-making and problem-solving.
6. Demonstrate increased leadership skills that are ethical, social, civic and professional.
7. Demonstrate enhanced listening skills as applied in dyads and group settings

Grading for this class is based on three activities. These include:

CLASS PARTICIPATION

This course is an opportunity to delve into the theory and practice of mindfulness-based leadership. For the course to be useful and impactful, participants must prepare before each session and spend time with the readings, meditations, and experiential investigations.

Your contributions to class meetings include both active contributions (e.g. comments, questions, sharing your perspective) and supportive contributions (e.g. listening, full attention, and presence). The evaluation criteria for these contributions are listed in Appendix A. The use of laptops, cell phones, and tablets, which detract from the quality of attention will not be used in the classroom and should be kept away during the session. If you have a learning need that makes this problematic for you, please email the instructor and arrange a time to discuss an alternative plan within the first week of the class.

Class begins and ends on time. The only excused absences will be those in accord with official Marshall guidelines, and as such should include communication of the absence in writing to the instructor. Missing a portion of the session, longer than 15 minutes, other than in the case of an excused absence will be recorded as an absence. Attendance for the entire session is emphasized because in class exercises are important not only to your learning but also to the process of the other participants.

More than 2 unexcused absence will result in a no-pass grade.

Grading for in-class participation is based on the evaluation criteria found in Appendix A.

HOMEWORK

Given that mindfulness and compassion can only be learned with practice, participants will engage in a daily home practice throughout the semester. Each class session will be partly devoted to providing instructions on this daily practice and answering the various questions that arise from this practice. Every week you will be turning in a log of your home practice. For each day you will indicate when (time) and how long you did the daily practice. This includes what specific type of practice you did (mindfulness, compassion, etc.) and what you observed during the practice. An example of a daily log is on the following page:
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Date</th>
<th>Time Span</th>
<th>Type/Focus</th>
<th>Brief Note</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>March 10</td>
<td>4:00-4:20pm</td>

<td>Had difficult time settling down – crazy mind</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>March 11</td>
<td>4:00-4:20pm</td>
<td>Body Scan</td>
<td>Interesting sensations around the shoulders – never knew about this</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Grading for home practice weekly logs is based on the evaluation criteria found in Appendix A. Weekly readings are also part of your homework.

Reflection Papers: Your reflection papers are intended to serve as an opportunity to reflect on that week’s readings and exercises, preparing and reflects how thoughtfully you participated in the group discussions. You will be expected to submit 3 reflection papers on the dates that will be provided. Each paper should be 850-1000 words long and should report something specific and concrete that you tried during your home practice during the prior weeks. Discuss these experiences in relationship to the reading and classroom activities.

Papers will be evaluated on the thoughtfulness of your response to the readings, exercises and daily meditation practice, as well as your ability to succinctly summarize, critically evaluate, or comprehensively distill key points from those readings and experiences. Please be certain that you engage with the readings as well as the experiential work in your assignments, failure to include one or the other will impact the grade. You may also use part of your reflection paper to draw connections with the previous week’s reading, discussion, or exercises. I sincerely hope that writing these papers will contribute significantly to your course experience by helping you explore the aspects of mindfulness, compassion, and leadership you find most relevant to you in the context of your own unfolding development as a leader.

Each reflection paper should integrate key findings and examples of what you are noticing in your meditation practice and specifically how these learnings inform your thinking on the subject at hand. Instructions for the particular assignment should be followed for full credit.

Final grades for participants will be graded on a credit/no credit basis. The determination of whether credit is assigned will be based on the evaluation criteria found in Appendix A.

STATEMENT ON ACADEMIC CONDUCT AND SUPPORT SYSTEMS

Academic Conduct:

Plagiarism – presenting someone else’s ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Part B, Section 11, “Behavior Violating University Standards” policy.usc.edu/scampus-part-b. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on Research and Scholarship Misconduct.

Students and Disability Accommodations:

USC welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University’s educational programs. The Office of Student Accessibility Services (OSAS) is responsible for the determination of appropriate accommodations for students who encounter disability-related barriers. Once a student has completed the OSAS process (registration, initial appointment, and submitted documentation) and accommodations are determined to be reasonable and appropriate, a Letter of Accommodation (LOA) will be available to generate for each course. The LOA must be given to each course instructor by the student and followed up with a discussion. This should be done as early in the semester as possible as accommodations are not retroactive. More information can be found at osas.usc.edu. You may contact OSAS at (213) 740-0776 or via email at osasfrontdesk@usc.edu.
