Course Description

Students will gain an understanding of journalistic visual storytelling through theory and practical application while exploring current and emerging story forms. Key components of the course include critically analyzing, interpreting, producing and understanding stories and story elements presented in journalistic visual formats.

With a focus on visual media literacy, students will learn how to produce and share compelling visual stories in a variety of formats. Skills of the class include: Introduction to video for digital and social media platforms, principles of photography, design for web and mobile platforms, and the roles each play in interactive and engaging storytelling. An emphasis will be placed on visual stories for web, mobile and social media.

Students will also explore the fundamentals of digital news design, including interactivity and presentation as it applies to journalistic story forms across platforms. In addition to providing you with skills necessary to produce journalistic multimedia stories, including videos and audio slideshows, we will also cover ethical, legal and social issues affecting visual journalists. Finally, we will explore an introduction to best practices for social media.

We will take a practical, hands-on approach in this class. An introduction to photo, audio and video editing software will be provided.

A modern mobile or tablet device with a camera such as the iPhone X or Android Device will be used as a primary content-gathering device in the class. You'll learn how to use your device as a journalist, including using apps for shooting, editing and other visual purposes. A required toolkit with mobile accessories is listed under required readings and supplementary materials for this course. However, if students cannot obtain these accessories because of financial or other limitations, please contact your instructor for other options. Assignments for this class may be solely done on your modern mobile device or laptop.

More importantly, you will learn how to think visually and develop a mobile mindset when it comes to reporting. This course will introduce students to DSLR cameras and its functions. Using DSLRs is optional for video and photo assignments.

Student Learning Outcomes

- Students will demonstrate the principles of photojournalism, including composition, framing, light, color, editing and depth of field.
- Students will create news stories using video, audio and graphics for digital media—including the web, social media and mobile devices.

- Students will identify principles of news design in journalism.
- Students will recognize basic social media best practices and related professional journalism standards.
- Students will analyze ethical/legal standards and diversity issues in visual journalism.

Course Notes

Class materials, lectures, assignments, homework and grades will be posted in Blackboard. Students may use social distance reporting methods for this course that may be adjusted based on state and county guidelines and university guidelines. A list of best practices will be provided. Please note that these guidelines may change.

Description and Assessment of Assignments

We will focus on creating and publishing multimedia stories. Your multimedia stories must be local, campus or community-related. You will work individually on most projects, but may also be assigned to work in teams for some assignments. As part of this class, students will complete a video story for the web or social media, a photo series for the web or social media, an audio slideshow assignment for Web or social media, photo essay, photo assignments on Instagram, design assignments, and miscellaneous class assignments. A group presentation will also be developed on themes related to ethics, law and diversity. At your instructor's discretion, some assignments may be in coordination with your writing and reporting classes and/or the Annenberg Media Center. Assignments will be published to social media platforms and/or using Adobe Spark Page or other tools.

b. Grading Standards

Telling compelling stories is critical for your assignments. Strong characters, visuals and good reporting is essential for your projects. In addition to the concepts above and those covered in lectures and readings, assignments will be graded on accuracy, grammar, spelling, AP style, clarity, deadlines, conciseness, structure, proper punctuation, quality of interviews/reporting and use of quotes (if applicable), use/number/quality of sources, attribution, research, etc. You must abide by the Society of Professional Journalists Code of Ethics (<http://www.spj.org/ethicscode.asp>), NPPA

(<https://nppa.org/ethics>), SND (<http://www.snd.org>) and the RTNDA Code of Ethics (http://www.rtdna.org/content/rtdna_code_of_ethics#.VTNMjItAwUU).

Grading will be based on the quality of work and application of principles and concepts learned in class and from required readings. Criteria for grading also includes quality of audio, storytelling, accuracy, technical quality. Grading will also be based on meeting deadlines. Late work is not accepted in this class.

For story assignments, publishable work should be submitted taking into account audience, engagement and platform/outlet, along with principles discussed in lectures and textbooks. In addition, the Annenberg grading policy will be applied as follows: All assignments will be edited on a professional basis and you will be judged first on the accuracy, fairness and completeness of your stories. You will then be evaluated for style, editing, production value, originality and the ability to meet deadlines.

“A” stories are accurate, clear, comprehensive stories that are well written and require only minor copyediting (i.e., they would be aired or published). Video work must also be shot and edited creatively, be well paced and include good sound bites and natural sound that add flavor, color or emotion to the story.

“B” stories require more than minor editing and have a few style or spelling errors or one significant error of omission. For video, there may be minor flaws in the composition of some shots or in the editing. Good use of available sound bites is required.

“C” stories need considerable editing or rewriting and/or have many spelling, style or omission errors. Camera work and editing techniques in video stories are mediocre or unimaginative, but passable. Sound bites add little or no color - only information that could be better told in the reporter’s narration.

“D” stories require excessive rewriting, have numerous errors and should not have been submitted. Camera work is unsatisfactory or fails to show important elements.

“F” stories have failed to meet the major criteria of the assignment, are late, have numerous errors or both. Your copy should not contain any errors in spelling, style, grammar and facts. Any misspelled or mispronounced proper noun will result in an automatic “F” on that assignment. Any factual error will also result in an automatic “F” on the assignment. Accuracy is the first law of journalism. The following are some other circumstances that would warrant a grade of “F” and potential USC/Annenberg disciplinary action:

- Fabricating a story or making up quotes or information.
- Plagiarizing a script/article, part of a script/article or information from any source.
- Staging video or telling interview subjects what to say.
- Using video shot by someone else and presenting it as original work.
- Shooting video in one location and presenting it as another location.
- Using the camcorder to intentionally intimidate, provoke or incite a person or a group of people to elicit more “dramatic” video.
- Promising, paying or giving someone something in exchange for doing an interview either on or off camera.
- Missing a deadline.
- Violating the SPJ, NPPA, or SND Code of Ethics.

For assignments other than conventional news reporting, quality of research and clarity of expression are the most important criteria. In research papers, good research should be presented through good writing, and good writing should be backed up by good research. Clarity of expression includes thoughtful organization of the material, insight into the subject matter and writing free from factual, grammatical and spelling errors. Research should draw on a diverse range of sources.

Students are encouraged to submit their work for consideration to Annenberg Media or the Daily Trojan, or pitch it to mainstream media outlets. Visit <http://bit.ly/SubmitAnnenbergMedia> for more information about that submission and review process and email Daily Trojan news editors at dt.city@gmail.com for more on how to pitch work to the campus newspaper.

c. Grading Timeline

Assignments will be graded and return within one to two weeks after submissions.

Assignment Rubrics

Assignment rubrics and requirements will be distributed to students for every major assignment in the course.

Assignment Submission Policy

- A. All assignments are due on the dates specified. Lacking prior discussion and agreement with the instructor, late assignments will automatically be given a grade of F. Instructor is not obligated to accept late assignments.
- B. Assignments must be submitted via Blackboard unless otherwise indicated by your instructor.
- C. Assignments are due before the start of class on the date indicated unless otherwise indicated by your instructor.
- D. All assignments must be your original work produced this semester for this course only.
- E. No assignments will be accepted after the last day of class. Failure to turn in an assignment by the last day of class will result in a failing grade for that assignment.

News Consumption and Knowledge of Current Events

As journalists, you should keep up with what is happening on campus, in the Los Angeles area, in the United States and around the world. USC provides subscriptions for students, staff and faculty to The New York Times and the Los Angeles Times, as well as the Wall Street Journal.

Through the USC library, you have access to many regional news outlets and a variety of publications that cover specific communities. You should be familiar with publications covering the many communities of Los Angeles such as The Los Angeles Sentinel, The Los Angeles Blade, The Los Angeles Wave, La Opinión, L.A. Taco, The Eastsider, The Armenian Weekly, High Country News, the Asian Journal and others. You should keep up with the Daily Trojan and uscannenbergmmedia.com, including USC student-led verticals Dímelo and Black., listen to NPR and news radio, watch local and national television news, read news email newsletters and push alerts and follow news organizations social networks, including Twitter, Instagram and TikTok. You're encouraged to sign up for Nieman Lab's newsletter, which publishes brief, readable articles on important issues in the media. Following the news will sharpen your judgment and provide good (and bad) examples of the state of mainstream journalism.

Laptop Policy

All undergraduate and graduate Annenberg majors and minors are required to have a PC or Apple laptop that can be used in Annenberg classes. Please refer to the Annenberg Digital Lounge for more information. To connect to USC’s Secure Wireless network, please visit USC’s Information Technology Services website.

Communication

You may contact me via email, cell (call/text). I will reply to emails within 24-48 hours (usually on weekdays after 4 p.m. Responses limited during weekends). The quickest way to reach me for urgent matters is via text.

Internships

The value of professional internships as part of the overall educational experience of our students has long been recognized by the School of Journalism. Accordingly, while internships are not required for successful completion of this course, any student enrolled in this course that undertakes and completes an approved, non-paid internship during this semester shall earn academic extra credit herein of an amount equal to 1 percent of the total available semester points for this course. To receive instructor approval, a student must request an internship letter from the Annenberg Career Development Office and bring it to the instructor to sign by the end of the third week of classes. The student must submit the signed letter to the media organization, along with the evaluation form provided by the Career Development Office. The form should be filled out by the intern supervisor and returned to the instructor at the end of the semester. No credit will be given if an evaluation form is not turned into the instructor by the last day of class. Note: The internship must be unpaid and can only be applied to one journalism or public relations class.

Statement on Academic Conduct and Support Systems

a. Academic Conduct

Plagiarism

Plagiarism – presenting someone else’s ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Part B, Section 11, “Behavior Violating University Standards” policy.usc.edu/scampus-part-b. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct.

USC School of Journalism Policy on Academic Integrity

The following is the USC Annenberg School of Journalism’s policy on academic integrity and repeated in the syllabus for every course in the school:

“Since its founding, the USC School of Journalism has maintained a commitment to the highest standards of ethical conduct and academic excellence. Any student found plagiarizing, fabricating, cheating on examinations, and/or purchasing papers or other assignments faces sanctions ranging from an ‘F’ on the assignment to dismissal from the School of Journalism. All academic integrity violations will be reported to the office of Student Judicial Affairs & Community Standards (SJACS), as per university policy, as well as journalism school administrators.”

In addition, it is assumed that the work you submit for this course is work you have produced entirely by yourself, and has not been previously produced by you for submission in another course or Learning Lab, without approval of the instructor.
