Catalogue description: Modern perspectives; discovery and use of legal and illicit drugs of addiction including alcohol and opioids. How drugs have helped, shaped, modified or changed individuals and society.

Introduction

In conventional terms, buzzed is the effect encountered after smoking various plants, drinking various alcoholic drinks, or ingesting various substances. Buzzed is the “high” one experiences. This course is designed to investigate what buzzed means in relation to substances of abuse and addiction. Examples of substances that will be discussed include alcohol, opioids, benzodiazepines, synthetic drugs, soda, coffee, and tobacco. Together we will survey the most recent discoveries about substances of abuse like prescription opioids, purple drank, and bath salts. This course will include information about biological and behavioral changes in addiction, distinctive drug effects on the adolescent brain, trends from popular culture related to these drugs, and ethical issues as related to modern substances of abuse. In quick-reference summaries, this class will report on how these drugs enter the body, how they manipulate the brain, their short-term and long-term effects, the different “highs” they produce, and the circumstances in which they can be deadly. This course does not pay homage to the “just say no” doctrine of abstinence, nor does it function as a “how-to” manual for people interested in becoming buzzed. This course will allow people to make informed decisions with accurate information about these substances, which they may encounter throughout their lives. There exists very little material available to the public on the most up-to-date psychological, legal, and pharmacological research on these drugs. This course aims to provide a clear understanding of how these substances work, the consequences of their use, the policies to regulate them, and the social beliefs surrounding them.

RXRS 414: Buzzed: Modern Substances of Abuse and Addiction

Objectives

This course is designed for undergraduates of both scientific and non-scientific majors with an interest in learning about current trends that mark today's drug climate as they explore the social, psychological, economical, and biological reasons why drug use, misuse and abuse occur. This course will also examine the historical, political, and cultural foundations of drug use in contemporary society by studying pharmacologic, literary, political, economic, philosophical, legal, ethical, and religious traditions as they relate to drug use. For example, the prescription drug abuse crisis and implications of this phenomenon is one way in which we will explore links between illegal use of prescription opioids and the increase in accidental opioid overdose deaths. Students will also learn about drugs of abuse and misuse plaguing the globe over the past forty years. Differences surrounding the ethics of the development and deployment of synthetic chemicals (for example, MDMA) will be presented in ways that are designed to lead to lively discussions during class.

Upon successful completion of this course, the student should be able to participate in a thoughtful debate about:

- Evaluate and provide context to the nature of substances of abuse throughout the world
- Explain and identify the differences between addiction and abuse
- Understand classical features of the most abused drugs, including their general reactions and interactions
- Critique and debate current policies that inhibit or exploit certain substances of abuse
- Describe street capitalism and identify the economics of drug distribution
- Discuss the good, the bad, and the ugly of modern pharmaceuticals
- Predict the consequences of improper drug use and abuse and their relationship to health, economy, wellbeing, and society as represented in popular culture

Evaluation and Grading

Evaluation will be based on one midterm examination, a final examination, five course quizzes, and three writing assignments (critical report and discussion).

USC School of Pharmacy
RXRS 414: Buzzed: Modern Substances of Abuse and Addiction

Description	Points	Weight
Quizzes 2 (@ 10 pts each)	20 pts	(5%)
In-Class Projects 2 (@ 15 pts each)	30 pts	(10%)
Midterm exam	50 pts	(25%)
Final exam (partially cumulative)	100 pts	(30%)
Critical report & discussion (50 pts each x 3)	150 pts	(30%)
Total	350 pts	(100%)

5% Quizzes: There will be 2 quizzes over the course of the semester to count towards their grade. Each quiz will be worth 2.5% of the final grade. The quizzes will be based on questions from the lecture and from the textbook and will include multiple choice, T/F and fill-in the blank questions.

10% In Class Projects: (each worth 5% of your class grade) There will be 2 in class projects over the course of the semester. These projects are designed to reinforce course material by having students work in small groups to accomplish specific objectives and apply knowledge from lecture and readings. Specific details will be supplied for each in class project.

25% Midterm: There will be 1 midterm for this course that will cover the first 8 weeks of course material. The midterm will consist of a series of questions involving short answers as well as a longer question requiring critical thought and its articulation in written responses. This midterm exam will help students to generate a critical assessment of key topics in this course, to develop a suitable argument, and to convey their ideas and interpretations through the written word.

30% Final: The Final Exam will be in the form of an in-class examination during exam week. The final exam will be composed of two parts, each having equal weight towards the final grade. The first part of the exam will include questions from the lectures and from the textbook in the form of multiple choice, T/F and fill-in the blank questions. The second part of the final examination will consist of short written answers to demonstrate the students' knowledge regarding topics covered in the course. This latter part of the final exam will allow students to express their ideas based on facts derived from the course.

30% Critical report and debate: 15% awarded for the critical debates and 15% for the written synopses for a total of 30%. Beginning in Week 3 and continuing to Week 14 students will be required to prepare three written reports and present three oral reports (5% per debate and 5% per report). These reports will be related to the weekly topic and students will sign-up for two topics on a substance of their choice. Students will prepare a two-page critical response report of their chosen topic and hand in via blackboard. The presentations should be at least 8 minutes but no more than 10 minutes in length. These presentations will be used to guide weekly discussions (general topic ideas per substance can be found on page 8-9). Students will need to research their topics and present on a journal article, news report, legal case, ethical issue, or policy review. The discussion day for the weekly substance topic will have a maximum of 3 speakers. Students should sign-up as it is first come, first served – once all 3 spots are full for a topic week no additional presenters will be accepted. The sign-up sheet is available in blackboard.

Required Text

Kuhn, C.; Swartzwelder, S.; Wilson, W.; Wilson, L. H.; Foster, J.

2014 Buzzed: The straight facts about the most used and abused drugs from alcohol to ecstasy, 4th ed. W. W. Norton & Company: New York, NY. 386 pp.

Supplemental Texts and Multimedia

Chapters from the core textbook will be supplemented with a variety of source materials including online resources, media outlets and cinema. Supplemental materials will be available on blackboard either as documents, media links, or embedded files. The selected materials are intended to provide students with a broader perspective by rounding out the information presented in the required text.

Content Warning

Our course readings and classroom discussions will often focus on mature, difficult, and potentially challenging topics. As with any course dealing with drug use, abuse and addiction, course topics can at times be political and personal. Readings and discussions might trigger strong feelings—anger, discomfort, anxiety, confusion, excitement, humor, and even boredom. Some of us will have emotional responses to the readings; some of us will have emotional responses to our peers' understanding of the readings; all of us should feel responsible for creating a space that is both intellectually rigorous and respectful. Above all, be respectful (even when you strongly disagree) and be mindful of the ways that our identities position us in the classroom.

Course Outline

This course will be in the format of a directed seminar/lecture under the guidance of the instructor for the specific session. During each biweekly session the instructor will engage the students with questions and draw comments or interpretations primarily based on the assigned reading. Students are expected to ask questions and participate in an interactive fashion. Because this is an area of rapid change in policies, the readings may vary from one term to the next. Additional readings for each section that may be of added use are listed in the table below.

Course Schedule

The lectures are designed to provide historical, cultural, social, economic, and political overviews of the topics listed. In weeks 3-4, weeks 6-8, weeks 10-11, and weeks 13-14; the

USC School of Pharmacy
RXRS 414: Buzzed: Modern Substances of Abuse and Addiction

Monday lectures will introduce a specific substance by providing a pharmacologic overview, history of use, legal / regulatory practices, and commentary related to any socio-cultural phenomenon surrounding the substance. In weeks 2-4, weeks 6-8, weeks 10-11, and weeks 13-14, the Wednesday lectures will be open forum where students will present their critical reports and together, we will discuss how these issues, reports, and commentary frame a specific substance. Students are encouraged to provide current information (2018 to present).

STATEMENT ON ACADEMIC CONDUCT AND SUPPORT SYSTEMS

Academic Conduct:

Plagiarism – presenting someone else’s ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Part B, Section 11, “Behavior Violating University Standards” policy.usc.edu/scampus-part-b. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct.

Students and Disability Accommodations

USC welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University’s educational programs. The Office of Student Accessibility Services (OSAS) is responsible for the determination of appropriate accommodations for students who encounter disability-related barriers. Once a student has completed the OSAS process (registration, initial appointment, and submitted documentation) and accommodations are determined to be reasonable and appropriate, a Letter of Accommodation (LOA) will be available to generate for each course. The LOA must be given to each course instructor by the student and followed up with a discussion. This should be done as early in the semester as possible as accommodations are not retroactive. More information can be found at osas.usc.edu. You may contact OSAS at (213) 740-0776 or via email at osasfrontdesk@usc.edu.

Critical Report

During weeks 3-8 and weeks 10-14 students will be required to prepare and present THREE oral & written reports. These reports will be related to the weekly topic and students will sign-up for three topics on three different substances of their choice. Students will prepare a one-page synopsis of each report and submit it via blackboard. In addition, students will prepare a powerpoint presentation of their report, this presentation should be at least 8 minutes but no more than 10 minutes in length (~4 or 5 slides, not counting the title or reference slides). These presentations will be used to guide weekly discussions (general topic ideas per substance can be found on page 8-9). Students will need to research their topics and present on at minimum two journal articles, news report, legal cases, ethical issues, or policy reviews.

Grading of the report will be based upon the quality of your analysis and how clearly you present the information within your answers. You are expected to incorporate key terms and concepts you have learned in this course. Points will be deducted for grammar, punctuation, and spelling errors. You should start with a brief outline for each answer, create a rough draft, and then produce a final draft. The final draft of the synopsis and powerpoint are the only documents you need to submit.

These are critical response essays related to the material covered in lecture and in the assigned readings. You must utilize sources not included as part of the weekly class content. Your essays must consist of:

- A. An Introduction paragraph, which contains a minimum of two sentences that introduces your question or topic; and establishes a foundation for the remainder of your essay. This section functions like a roadmap to tell the reader what you will be discussing in the body of your essay.
- B. Body paragraph(s), which present the major content of your answer. Include at least one body paragraph with three or four sentences within the paragraph.
- C. A conclusion paragraph, which contains a minimum of two sentences and summarizes the major points contained in the body paragraphs.

Format Requirements

Carefully follow the format requirements below. Any variation will result in lost points or no credit.

- Margins = 1 inch
- Font type = Arial, Times New Roman, or any Sans type font
- Font size = 11 point
- 2 pages (double spaced) – (references not included)
- Use a header for each page:

These essays are expected to be written in your own words therefore no more than 5% of the essay should be quoted or copied word – for – word. If you submit an essay with more than 5% quoted material, you will be penalized one point for each percentage above 5%. If you submit an essay with more than 15% quoted material, you will receive an automatic zero.

APA Citations

THIS IS NOT AN APA paper; however, you are expected to demonstrate understanding of the rules of plagiarism and expected to use APA style citations appropriately, which include in-text and full citations with a Reference page.

You are expected to cite at least 2 sources (class books and articles, articles from journals, books, etc) per essay. You will be penalized -5 points for a missing resource.

Do NOT use Wikipedia or any other similar form of wiki to author these essays.

Students will sign up for their topics through Blackboard by going to the Content tab and selecting the Weekly Topics Sign-up link. They will “sign-up” for the weekly topics they are interested in. If a topic of interest is closed, please contact Dr. Church to discuss options.
