Course: THTR 101 / Section: 62604
Tuesday/Thursday 11:00 - 12:50 PM
ROOM: MCC 112
Units: 4

Course Description:
To introduce students to the fundamentals of acting by the examination and implementation of acting techniques, improvisational exercises, script analysis, scene study, and monologue performance. To invigorate a student’s application of these mechanics of acting to elevate the quality and understanding of their performance. To inspire, guide, and nurture a student’s growth in becoming a professional performing artist.

Learning Objectives:
“Acting is the pursuit of truth and the discovery of lies,” and how you deal with both defines your character. Our class will be constantly mining for the truth; truth of character and the truth of self. This concept will serve as our base as we:

* Learn and explore a strong understanding of basic acting terminology: Wants, Objectives, Given Circumstances, Beats, Subtext, etc.
* Learn and explore methods of classic acting techniques including but not limited to; Stanislavski, Strasberg, Adler, Meisner, Hagen, etc.
* Learn and explore the physiological connection between thought, breathing, and the body.
* Learn and explore an understanding of self as perceived by the individual and others. Including the discovery and psychology of the “Basic Fault” and “armor.” * To be defined in class.
* To gain an intellectual approach to script analysis as preparation for character development, scene study, and performance.
* To enhance the use of voice, articulation, and bodily action as tools of performance.
* To receive constructive analysis of work performed in class.
* To reinforce the practice of discipline in all aspects of your career.
* To discuss the realities of working in the world of entertainment. Including mental setbacks.
* To keep a journal * Details discussed in class
* To attend and review SDA productions * Details discussed in class.

SDA PRODUCTIONS, ISPS, AND EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

SDA productions, ISPs and Extracurricular Activities* will not excuse you from any class work. There will be no exceptions made for absences in class, missed or delayed assignments, homework or lack of class participation resulting from your involvement in any of the above. Your grade will reflect your work in this class, independent from work in any other class or activity.

*Activities that have been officially sanctioned by the larger university (such as marching band, song girls, or varsity sports) are exempt. You must submit official documentation to your professor regarding your participation in an event prior to your absence.

Classroom and Netiquette Policies:

- All assignments are to be typed and received on time. Assignments timed-stamped passed the time/date due will not be accepted. Reminder: Class will commence promptly at 11:00 AM.
  - Masks must be worn covering mouth and nose at all times. No exceptions. This is nonnegotiable. You will be dismissed from class for being in violation and marked as absent.
  - No eating or drinking in class. Most class periods there will be a small break to do so. If absolutely necessary ask for permission to be excused.
  - RESPECT will be conducted toward each person in class, including myself. During discussions talking over someone or being offensive will not be tolerated and will be dismissed from class. – No chatting in class during discussion/lecture.
  - Sickness, accompanied by a physician’s note and legal obligations, with summons, are the only excused absences. All other absences are unexcused. You get one unexcused.
  - Documents should be sent as MS Word or PDF format or cut & paste to email.
  - Cell phones must not be in use during the duration of class. Texting during class/Zoom is strictly prohibited and any violations will result in a loss of five points. The second violation the student will be dismissed from class. (If phone use is absolutely necessary please notify me prior to class commencing.)
  - No recording, photographs, or social media postings of any kind are allowed.
during class time, unless conducted by the professor. Performances may be taped for feedback discussion.

- All Zoom classes are recorded. Please review the appropriate use and handling of these recordings under existing SCampus policies regarding class notes (https://policy.usc.edu/scampus-part-c/). Students are not permitted to create their own class recordings without the instructor’s permission. Violations of these policies will be met with the appropriate disciplinary sanction.

- No smoking, food or drink, except water are allowed in the classroom, unless previous arrangements are made. – Zoom: It is encouraged not to eat full meals during class. A small snack, water, coffee or juice as needed is fine.

- You are expected to arrive on time and remain until the Zoom class is dismissed. Students who leave class early, or float in and out, will be counted as absent for that class period. Doors may be locked 10 minutes after class begins. Zoom: admittance back into the room may not be granted. Disruption of lectures, or speeches is not considered “participation” and will be docked accordingly. Repeated absences or tardiness will be reflected in the 10% factor of the grading scale. (If the student’s needs an early dismissal please notify me prior to class.)

- Each student is responsible for rehearsals outside of class and to be ready on performance days.

- Students should attend Zoom/Class in clothing suitable for movement and/or appropriate clothing for designated scene work/movement days.

- It is the student’s responsibility to cover missed material from fellow classmates.

- I am available anytime per appointment.

- Students must help with set up and strike of each class. In-person.

- Students are required to participate fully in all classes; to work collaboratively with their peers; and to show disciplined commitment to acting.

- If you have a religious conflict with any class or class assignment, email ProfessorJohnson within the first two weeks of the semester.

- Class assignments will be completed either synchronously or asynchronously. Students should check in on the shared Flipgrid to share recorded video content: https://signup.flipgrid.com/from/Stevie2605

Additional Synchronous Considerations

- Synchronous class sessions via Zoom are regulated as a formal class. Proper conduct is to be expected as that of an in-person classroom setting. Off the bed, sitting up, out of pajamas and attentive is required. This means off your bed, change out of your pajamas, sit up, and present for your class.

- If you chose a virtual background please make it conducive and not disruptive to class. A plain background is suggested for performance days.

- You may log-in to the class using your phone.
If you have technical issues during the class, please let me know via Chat, or email. You may dial in to USC ITS consultation—1 (213) 740-5555—for technical help.

Please mute your microphone when you are not speaking. If possible, I’d like you to enable your webcam, so you are visible in the course. Let me know if you have Internet issues that prevent you from using the webcam.

I prefer that you refrain from private Chatting during the class session. I might not be able to respond to your Chat messages during class—but I will do so afterwards. Alternatively, I will ask one of you to volunteer as my Chat TA, who will respond to your urgent Chat, when needed. Or, simply raise the question to me during class time.

You may use the “raise hand” feature via Zoom “Participants” tab to alert me that you wish to speak. You may also raise your hand in front of the camera to alert me. I will call on your name for you to speak.

I want to offer my classroom as a safe space that nourishes a variety of opinions and encourages challenging ideas. Like any environment, an online learning environment is a place where we train ourselves to interact with others. Here are a few guidelines conducive to our (socialization) training:

- Listen actively, attentively, and with respect. Listen to what others are saying even when you disagree with what is being said.
- Criticize ideas, not individuals or groups. Respect others’ right to hold opinions and beliefs that differ from your own.
- Link claims and assertions to appropriate evidence when possible. Give examples.
- Ask clarifying questions if you don’t understand a point raised. It is OK to ask a question that you think may be too simple or uninformed. We are all in a learning process.
- Try not to interrupt the speaker, unless we are explicitly engaging in a debate. Please do not be offended if someone interrupts you. At times, eagerness to share overtakes the patience of waiting to be recognized.
- As your professor who has to monitor class discussions, please allow me to interrupt you in order to offer equitable speaking opportunities to others. When invited to speak, you may always ask to come back to you later and allow you time to formulate your response.
- Use “I” statements to share your views with peers. For example, “I notice that when I’m with my friends, we pay attention differently” is more constructive than “When you’re with friends, you pay attention differently.”
- Support good ideas that other people have, even if they are different from our own. Then you may follow up with your opposing opinions.
Our primary commitment is to learn from each other, including me from all of you. We acknowledge differences among us in backgrounds, skills, interests, and values. We realize that it is these very differences that will increase our awareness and understanding through this process.

What we are practicing is global citizenship. We are experiencing intercultural exchanges-in-action.

Technological Proficiency and Hardware/Software Required
Attending classes online and completing coursework remotely requires access to technology. If you need resources to successfully participate in this class, such as a laptop or internet hotspot, you may be eligible for the USC technology rental program. To apply, please submit an application. The Student Basic Needs team will contact all applicants and distribute equipment to eligible applicants prior to the start of the fall semester.

Statement on Academic Integrity & Academic Conduct
USC seeks to maintain an optimal learning environment. General principles of academic honesty include the concept of respect for the intellectual property of others, the expectation that individual work will be submitted unless otherwise allowed by an instructor, and the obligations both to protect one’s own academic work from misuse by others as well as to avoid using another’s work as one’s own. All students are expected to understand and abide by these principles. SCampus, the Student Guidebook, (www.usc.edu/scampus or http://scampus.usc.edu) contains the University Student Conduct Code (see University Governance, Section 11.00), while the recommended sanctions are located in Appendix A.

Statement for Students with Disabilities
Any student requesting academic accommodations based on a disability is required to register with Disability Services and Programs (DSP) each semester. A letter of verification for approved accommodations can be obtained from DSP. Please be sure the letter is delivered to me (or to TA) as early in the semester as possible. DSP is located in STU 301 and is open 8:30 a.m.–5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. Website and contact information for DSP: http://sait.usc.edu/academicsupport/centerprograms/dsp/home_index.html, (213) 740-0776 (Phone), (213) 740-6948 (TDD only), (213) 740-8216 (FAX) ability@usc.edu, dsp.usc.edu.

Plagiarism – presenting someone else’s ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Part B, Section 11, “Behavior Violating University Standards” policy.usc.edu/scampus-part-b. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, http://policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct.

Emergency Preparedness/Course Continuity in a Crisis
In case of a declared emergency if travel to campus is not feasible, USC executive leadership will announce an alternative way for instructors to teach students in their residence halls or homes using a combination of Blackboard, teleconferencing, and other technologies.

Health and Participation in Class
You are expected to complete your Trojan Check screener daily and, as your instructor, I may ask you to show your daily screening in class. Your health and safety, and the health and safety of your peers, are my top priorities. If you are experiencing any symptoms of COVID-19, or if you discover that you have been in close contact with others who have symptoms or who have tested positive, you must follow the instructions on Trojan Check. My hope is that if you are feeling ill or if you have been exposed to someone with the virus, you will stay home to protect others. I will ensure that you can continue to participate in class remotely so... that your education is not disrupted.
To reduce the spread of COVID-19, USC requires that face coverings (masks) be worn indoors including in classrooms. Face coverings must cover your nose and mouth and be worn throughout the class session. A mask with a valve is not considered an adequate face covering and should not be used, as it can expel exhaled air, increasing the risk to others. Eating or drinking during class is prohibited because of the risk posed by removing your mask for these activities. Failure to comply with these requirements will result in your being asked to leave the classroom immediately. Requests for accommodations related to the face covering and eating/drinking policies should be directed to the Office for Student Accessibility Services (https://osas.usc.edu/).
