Catalogue Description

Research leading to a doctorate.

Course Description

This course will prepare students to meet Part 1 (Areas 1 and 2) in the DSW Capstone Project Standards and Guidelines. In 790a of this two series course, students will explore existing information (academic, nonacademic) to build a strong understanding of the problem and solution landscape for the specific social problem they are interested in solving. In learning pods (teams), individually and in larger groups, students will deeply explore and analyze a social problem and existing solutions within the context of a Grand Challenge area.

Course Objectives

1. Course will provide students with opportunities to apply theoretical frameworks and methodological perspectives to Grand Challenges to increase understanding of the problem and solution landscape.
2. Course will provide students with opportunities to collaborate with other students, using a team approach, to build a knowledge network.
3. Course will employ a team approach to examine social problems and solutions through various theoretical frameworks and methodologies.
4. Course will prepare students to produce products that could be of benefit to a variety of stakeholders within their knowledge network.
5. Course will ask students to consider whose voice is missing from the literature and prepare for community-based participatory and human centered design research in the following semester.

Course Format / Instructional Methods

The course format will consist of class discussions derived from readings and asynchronous content, independent and group work, and collaboration. Because the exchange of ideas is an integral part of the learning process, students are required to come to class ready to discuss assigned readings and asynchronous content. Students will do considerable research outside of class, including review of academic research and other sources of information. Students will have opportunities to process and discuss this research during the live sessions.

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Students will present, define, and describe the social problem within the context of a specific Grand Challenge for Social Work; specify the target population; and include data about the scope of the problem (e.g., incidence, prevalence, trends, and outcomes).
2. Students will analyze causes of the social problem, including a critical summary and synthesis of evidence that speaks to the reasons that the problem exists, including the system issues and norms that contribute to and maintain the problem. Students will draw from a variety of sources of evidence that involve careful analysis, including in peer-reviewed publications, historical analysis, professional literature, and popular media.
3. Students will consider the problem through theoretical and/or explanatory models that may suggest root causes for the specified problem. They will examine the problem through multiple frameworks and methodologies (e.g., human-centered design, person in environment, social justice theories, and community-based participatory research).
4. Students will collaborate with others to build a knowledge network to inform their research and the field of study. Students will consider various stakeholders and their influence/perspective on the problem.
5. Students will provide a thorough and critical assessment of efforts to address the problem, including a critical synthesis of evidence relevant to existing and potential solutions to the specified social problem, including evidence-based interventions, practice-based evidence, and promising, innovative, or disruptive approaches.
6. Students will identify gaps and opportunities in the solution space. They will discuss attempts by others to address the social problem and the status of those attempts, including a discussion of what has worked, what has not, and why.

See Appendix A for an expanded table, which details the competencies and dimensions of competence highlighted in this course. The table also shows the course objective(s), behaviors/indicators of competence, and course content and assignments related to each competency highlighted in the course.

Assignment 1

Group Grand Challenge Problem Statement and Individual Problem Statement

Due: Jan 27 by 11:59pm PT

Students will develop a group problem statement focused on the Grand Challenge that the learning pod was formed around (e.g., a paragraph or two detailing the Grand Challenge of ending homelessness). Individually, students will document an individual problem statement detailing their Wicked Problem of focus and how it connects to the larger Grand Challenge (e.g., housing insecurity in returning veteran populations).

Students will submit individual assignments that include both the group and individual problem statements in a single document on the VAC.

Assignments will be 2–3 pages in length and must adhere to APA guidelines (7th edition).

This assignment comprises 10% of the course grade.

This assignment relates to course objective 3 and DSW program competency 2.

Due: Mar 3 by 11:59pm PT

This assignment is due midway through the semester as a progress report on student's Wicked Problem landscape analyses. This assignment comprises the following three parts:

- Brief review of the literature found thus far. This mini review will be 2–3 pages in length and will capture information learned thus far on the Wicked Problem.
- Infographic that tells the story of the problem (1 page)

- Reference page that includes a minimum of 20 contemporary sources (15 must have been published within the last 8 years; five sources may be historical).

Assignments should be 2-3 pages excluding title, reference page and Infographic. Papers must comply with APA (7th edition) guidelines.

This assignment comprises 25% of course grade.

This assignment relates course objectives 1 and 3 and DSW program competencies 1 - 3.

Assignment 3

Problem and Solution Landscape Paper (Version 1)

Due: Apr 21 by 11:59pm PT

Using their knowledge of academic and nonacademic literature reviewed thus far, students will craft a document that has seven sections, detailed below. Students should consider interdisciplinary perspectives of the problem as well as history, relevant theory, and potential policies that have played a role in perpetuating this problem. Sections include:

- Section 1: Grand Challenge
- Section 2: Wicked Problem (with data to demonstrate prevalence)
- Section 3: Analysis of the Problem (impacts of the problem, theories of causation)
- Section 4: Analysis of existing solutions to the problem and their effectiveness
- Section 5: Stakeholder analysis
- Section 6: Whose voice is missing from this literature?
- Section 7: Plans for next semester to fill knowledge gap
- Appendices:
 - Note-taking matrix
 - Stakeholder mapping
 - Versions 1 and 2 of Infographic

Assignments will be 16–20 pages excluding title and reference page. Papers must comply with APA (7th edition) guidelines.

This assignment comprises 30% of course grade.

This assignment relates to course objectives 1-5 and DSW program competencies 1 and 2.

Assignment 4

Group / Individual Presentations

Due: In-class, 4/21 and 4/28, as assigned by faculty

In their learning pods, students will give a 30-minute presentation on the work accomplished over the course of the semester. The team will

- Introduce the Grand Challenge.
- Introduce Wicked Problems on which each team member is focused.

- Share lessons learned and any unexpected findings, such as the role that diversity, equity, and inclusion play.
- Whose voice is missing from the published literature?
- Plans for knowledge dissemination.

Presentations should be no longer than 30 minutes and can include PowerPoint slides and/or other visuals. In addition to any visuals used, students should upload on the VAC any visuals and a complete reference page in accordance with APA (7th edition) guidelines prior to their presentation date.

This assignment comprises 25% of course grade.

This assignment relates to course objective 2-4 and DSW program competencies 1 and 2.

Class Participation (10% of Course Grade)

All Weeks

Given the group-learning format of this course, class participation is critical to the success of each student and their learning pods. Students are expected to come to live sessions prepared to actively engage in thoughtful dialogue with their learning pods and classroom colleagues. Excellent class participation includes insightful questions and comments, use of literature and other sources to support ideas when relevant, and regular feedback that helps to advance the work of their learning pods.

This assignment comprises 10% of course grade.

SOWK 790a is a graded as a Credit (CR) / No-credit (NC) course. The final grade in this course will either be a Credit (CR) or No-credit (NC). To receive a CR in this course, a student's final grade must be an 83 (B) or higher. Students who score 82 or below, will receive a NC in this course.

Individual assignments will be based on the following:

Grade Points		Letter Grades
3.85 – 4.00	A	93 – 100	A
3.60 – 3.84	A-	90 – 92	A-
3.25 – 3.59	B+	87 – 89	B+

		70 – 72	C-

See Appendix B for additional details regarding the definitions of grades and standards established by faculty of the School.

Attendance and Participation

Students' active involvement in the class is considered essential to their growth as practitioners. Consistent attendance, preparation for and participation in class discussions and activities, timely completion of coursework and assignments, and personal conduct that fosters a respectful, collegial, and professional learning environment are expected. Having more than 2 unexcused absences in class may result in the lowering of the grade. For VAC and remote/hybrid Ground courses, substantive participation includes maintaining an active screen in live sessions and completing all asynchronous content and activities prior to the scheduled live class discussion. Failure to complete 2 or more asynchronous units before the live class, without prior instructor permission, also may result in a lowered grade.

Class participation will be assessed according to the following criteria:

“A” grade range: Very Good to Outstanding Participation: Contributions in class reflect thorough preparation, and participation is substantial. Ideas offered are always substantive. Regularly provides one or more major insights and comments that provoke deeper thought. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion and class activities would be diminished markedly.

“B” grade range: Good Participation: Contributions in class reflect solid preparation. Ideas offered are usually substantive, and participation is regular. Provides generally useful insights and some comments that provoke thought. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion would be diminished somewhat.

“C+” or “C”: Adequate Participation: Contributions in class reflect some preparation. Ideas offered are somewhat substantive. Provides some insights, but seldom offers comments that provoke deeper thought. Participation is somewhat regular. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion would be diminished slightly. Please note: The minimum passing grade at the graduate level is “C”.

“C-” or “D”: Inadequate Participation: Says little in class and does not adequately participate in activities or present insights or ideas. Does not appear to be engaged. Submits late work. If this person were not a member of the class, the quality of discussion would not be affected.

“F”: Nonparticipant/Unsatisfactory Participation: Misses class. When present, contributions in class, if any, reflect inadequate preparation. Ideas offered are seldom substantive, and behavior may be inappropriate and/or disrespectful. Unable to work effectively on in-class assignments/activities and detracts from the learning process. Regularly misses assignment deadlines, if work is submitted at all.

Appendix B: Definitions of Grades and Standards Established by Faculty of the School

Within the USC Suzanne Dworak-Peck School of Social Work, grades are determined in each class based on the following standards which have been established by the faculty of the School:

1. Grades of A or A- are reserved for student work which not only demonstrates very good mastery of content but which also shows that the student has undertaken a complex task, has applied critical thinking skills to the assignment, and/or has demonstrated creativity in her or his approach to the assignment. The difference between these two grades would be determined by the degree to which these skills have been demonstrated by the student.
2. A grade of B+ will be given to work which is judged to be very good. This grade denotes that a student has demonstrated a more-than-competent understanding of the material being tested in the assignment.
3. A grade of B will be given to student work which meets the basic requirements of the assignment. It denotes that the student has done adequate work on the assignment and meets basic course expectations.
4. A grade of B- will denote that a student's performance was less than adequate on an assignment, reflecting only moderate grasp of content and/or expectations.
5. A grade of C would reflect a minimal grasp of the assignments, poor organization of ideas and/or several significant areas requiring improvement.
6. Grades between C- and F will be applied to denote a failure to meet minimum standards, reflecting serious deficiencies in all aspects of a student's performance on the assignment.

Appendix D: Suzanne Dworak-Peck School of Social Work Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Statement

At the USC Suzanne Dworak-Peck School of Social Work, we aspire to promote diversity, equity and inclusion in our courses and professional practice. We value the diverse backgrounds and perspectives that our students bring into the classroom as strengths and resources that enrich the academic and learning experience. We offer and value inclusive learning in the classroom and beyond. We integrate readings, materials and activities that are respectful of diversity in all forms, including race, ethnicity, culture, gender identity and expression, sexual orientation, age, ability and disability, socioeconomic status, religion, and political perspectives. Collectively, we aspire to co-create a brave space with students and instructors to critically examine individual and collective sources of bias, prejudice, discrimination, and systematic oppression that affect the ability of people and communities to thrive. In this way, we fulfill our professional responsibility to practice the NASW Code of Ethics, abide by the CSWE Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards, and address the American Academy of Social Work and Social Welfare, Grand Challenges for Social Work.

Appendix E: University Policies and Guidelines

Attendance Policy

Students are expected to attend every class and to remain in class for the duration of the unit. Failure to attend class or arriving late may impact your ability to achieve course objectives which could affect your course grade. Students are expected to notify the instructor by email (fatouros@usc.edu) of any anticipated absence or reason for tardiness.

University of Southern California policy permits students to be excused from class for the observance of religious holy days. This policy also covers scheduled final examinations which conflict with students' observance of a holy day. Students must make arrangements in advance to complete class work which will be missed, or to reschedule an examination, due to holy days observance.

Please refer to SCampus and to the USC School of Social Work Policies and Procedures for additional information on attendance policies.

Statement on Academic Conduct

Plagiarism – presenting someone else's ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Recording a university class without the express permission of the instructor and an announcement to the class, as well as distributing or using recordings of university lectures or classes without the express permission of the instructor, for purposes other than individual or group study, also constitute violations of the USC Student Conduct Code.

Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism, unauthorized recording of university classes, and other forms of academic dishonesty and misconduct in SCampus, Part B, Section 11, "Behavior Violating University Standards," as well as information in SCampus and in the university policies on scientific misconduct.

Statement about Incompletes

The Grade of Incomplete (IN) can be assigned only if there is work not completed because of a documented illness or some other emergency occurring after the 12th week of the semester. Students must NOT assume that the instructor will agree to the grade of IN. Removal of the grade of IN must be instituted by the student and agreed to be the instructor and reported on the official "Incomplete Completion Form."

Policy on Late or Make-up Work

Papers are due on the day and time specified. Extensions will be granted only for extenuating circumstances. If the paper is late without permission, the grade will be affected.

Policy on Changes to the Syllabus and/or Course Requirements

It may be necessary to make some adjustments in the syllabus during the semester in order to respond to unforeseen or extenuating circumstances. Adjustments that are made will be communicated to students both verbally and in writing.

Code of Ethics of the National Association of Social Workers (Optional)

Approved by the 1996 NASW Delegate Assembly and revised by the 2017 NASW Delegate Assembly

Preamble

The primary mission of the social work profession is to enhance human well-being and help meet the basic human needs of all people, with particular attention to the needs and empowerment of people who are vulnerable, oppressed, and living in poverty. A historic and defining feature of social work is the profession's focus on individual well-being in a social context and the well-being of society. Fundamental to social work is attention to the environmental forces that create, contribute to, and address problems in living.

Social workers promote social justice and social change with and on behalf of clients. "Clients" is used inclusively to refer to individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. Social workers are sensitive to cultural and ethnic diversity and strive to end discrimination, oppression, poverty, and other forms of social injustice. These activities may be in the form of direct practice, community organizing, supervision, consultation, administration, advocacy, social and political action, policy development and implementation, education, and research and evaluation. Social workers seek to enhance the capacity of people to address their own needs. Social workers also seek to promote the responsiveness of organizations, communities, and other social institutions to individuals' needs and social problems.

The mission of the social work profession is rooted in a set of core values. These core values, embraced by social workers throughout the profession's history, are the foundation of social work's unique purpose and perspective:

- Service
- Social justice
- Dignity and worth of the person
- Importance of human relationships
- Integrity
- Competence

This constellation of core values reflects what is unique to the social work profession. Core values, and the principles that flow from them, must be balanced within the context and complexity of the human experience.
