I. Course Description

The acceleration of the phenomena of globalization is impacting business practices worldwide across different sectors in all phases of the value chain. Markets are becoming more and more intertwined and it has become imperative for all entities operating in the 21st century to analyze their consumers and their competitive landscape in global terms. The ability to effectively do so provides a key competitive advantage in order to create, capture and deliver value in an evolving global landscape. This course reviews the principles of marketing in a global perspective, focusing on the decisions regarding the communications mix. Different communication strategies are analyzed within the global – local dilemma. The analysis draws on relevant theoretical frameworks as well as practical applications from specific case studies to bridge the gap between theory and practice utilizing lectures, articles, and industry reports. Case studies will be drawn from many diverse categories including: Retail, Automotive, Entertainment, Technology, and Fashion/Lifestyle.

II. Student Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course participants will have developed analytical tools to identify the challenges and opportunities in the global marketplace and to manage the international communication decisions within the marketing mix. Having explored and analyzed the multifaceted international landscape, shaped by unfolding phenomena of globalization and cultural differences around the globe, this course contributes to hone the skills relevant to living and working in a diverse world and to become a global citizen.

Letter Grade	Description
A	Excellent; demonstrates extraordinarily high achievement; comprehensive knowledge and understanding of subject matter; all expectations met and exceeded.
B	Good; moderately broad knowledge and understanding of subject matter; explicitly or implicitly demonstrates good, if not thorough understanding; only minor substantive shortcomings.
C	Satisfactory/Fair; reasonable knowledge and understanding of subject matter; most expectations are met; despite any shortcomings, demonstrates basic level of understanding.
D	Marginal; minimal knowledge and understanding of subject matter; more than one significant shortcoming; deficiencies indicate only the most rudimentary level of understanding.
F	Failing; unacceptably low level of knowledge and understanding of subject matter; deficiencies indicate lack of understanding.

d. Grading Timeline

Your work can be classified as simpler tasks, or complex multi-faceted projects. Simpler, smaller assignments can be usually evaluated within 7 days.

VI. Assignment Rubrics

Each assignment/exam in the course will include specific information illustrating the expectations and grading for its different component parts.

VII. Assignment Submission Policy

Assignment submission policies involve the following aspects:

- Deadlines. Deadlines are Los Angeles time. If you are unable to submit an assignment on time, inform the instructor and request an extension. Penalties may still be imposed, communicating with the instructor is crucial. Non communication invites worse penalties. This practice is not meant to be punitive. Rather it is designed to cultivate professionalism, especially about reliability. .
- Procedures. Assignments must be submitted via Blackboard

VIII. Required Readings and Supplementary Materials

Required Textbooks (Note: of the three, one (Sigismondi) – is available as an E-book, free through the USC Library.)

Statement on Academic Conduct and Support Systems

a. Academic Conduct

Plagiarism

Plagiarism – presenting someone else’s ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Part B, Section 11, “Behavior Violating University Standards.” Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct.

The School of Communication maintains a commitment to the highest standards of ethical conduct and academic excellence. Any student found responsible for plagiarism, fabrication, cheating on examinations, or purchasing papers or other assignments will be reported to the Office of Student Judicial Affairs and Community Standards and may be dismissed from the School of Communication. There are no exceptions to the school’s policy.

In addition, it is assumed that the work you submit for this course is work you have produced entirely by yourself, and has not been previously produced by you for submission in another course, without approval of the instructor.
