

ART 460 Post-Material Studio

Units: 4

Tuesday, Thursday – 12:00-2:40pm

IMPORTANT:

The general expectation for a standard format course offered in a standard 15-week term is that the number of 50-minute contact hours per week should equal the number of semester units indicated and that one semester unit entails 1 hour of class time and 2 hours of outside work (3 hours total) per week. Standard fall and spring sessions (001) require a final summative experience during the University scheduled final exam day and time.

Please refer to the Contact Hours Reference to see guidelines for courses that do not follow a standard format and/or a standard term.

Course Description

This advanced studio and discussion course asks the question, What does it mean to live a sustainable life as an artist? Sustainability is often a term we use in relation to the environment but for the precarious life of an artist, what does sustainability mean? Through readings, classroom activities, writing prompts, movement exercises, field trips, artist studio visits, artist talks, exhibition organizing, and artwork creating, we will come to think about different ways of being sustainable in a world that overlooks the meaningful labor that artists contribute to considering, critiquing and reimagining the pressing issues in our time.

Course Objectives

This studio course offers the student a conceptual and practical platform from which to explore and execute a major work or series. The primary focus throughout this course will be to grow intellectually and emotionally and to deepen the understanding of your motivations and ways of making art. Your practical responsibility will be to think of ideas, feel feelings, collect material, research information and turn these into proposals, experiments, and eventually formalize them into a work presented to the public. These responsibilities also include organizing the exhibition with classmates, installing the exhibition, creating public programs for the exhibition, deinstalling the exhibition, and reflecting on the process. Proposals and plans will serve as the first presentation; research, data, and material collection will comprise the second presentation; and the work's formal realization will be the subject of the third and final presentation. This course is intended for students who are prepared to make a serious investment in exploring what it means to be an artist and how to work towards a deeper understanding of sustaining a lifelong intellectual, emotional and spiritual study beyond the confines of medium specificity and art-as-commerce.

Learning Outcomes

- Plan and complete a self-directed semester long project.
- Conduct original self-directed research.
- Learn project workflow which entails idea formation, proposal writing, research, material and formal experimentation, execution, iteration, presentation and project documentation.
- Visit artists and craftspeople in their studios and galleries and discuss their work with them to understand other workflow models.
- Visit galleries/museums for multiple presentational modes to consider.
- Read and discuss contemporary theories on art.
- Write a new project statement and artist statement to accompany the student exhibition.
- Produce a professional public art exhibition.

Expectations

This class requires at least 8 hours per week of outside class work. For each unit of in-class contact time, the University expects two hours of out of class student work per week over a semester. Thus, this class, as a 4-unit course, has 8 hours of out of class course work.

Course Notes

- Upload all assignments onto Google Drive Class Folder.
- Required Materials:
 - Notebook/sketchbook and pen or pencil for class activities. The Notebook should be only used for this class. Bring to every class.
 - Art making materials as needed. You will choose your medium for most of the exercises and mid-term and final projects. The projects will dictate the materials you need. Instructor will advise on how/where you can get materials, fabrication methods or equipment you need to complete your projects.

Notes should be taken with pen and paper unless you have an accommodation that specifies use of laptop or another device. NO CELL PHONE USE IN CLASS.
- Expectations: All class projects are to be generated specifically for this class. Presenting projects created for other classes this semester, previous semesters or work done in the past will not be accepted for credit.

- 1) Ideas that you want to continue to explore in future projects.
- 2) What was successful about your project, what was not successful and why.
- 3) Techniques and aesthetics used for the project.
- 4) Any other thoughts or feelings that came up about the presentation.

Notebook Responses: Field Trip & Artist Talk Responses

Following field trips to museum or gallery exhibitions / artist's studio visits / visiting artist talks, you will be required to upload photos of your notebook pages that you wrote during, or after the event. If you did not write any notes during the events, you should write it down after the event and upload a photo of the notes.

Responsibilities: Organize reception, order food, table, set-up and clean up

Equipments : You can check the list of the equipments in the 4D Area Student Handbook

Grading and Attendance Policy

Attendance will be taken at all meetings and is mandatory. Participation in class discussions helps to create a common dialogue for the class and is impossible without your attendance. The class relies on student discourse at its core; therefore, the discussion of reading, the ongoing critique and critical discussion of ideas and proposals by classmates, and the desire to think together through group discussion will play heavily into your grade. Three unexcused absences will result in your grade being lowered by a half letter. Five absences will result in a failing grade regardless of your coursework. Two late arrivals or early departures will equal one unexcused absence.

Any student not in class after the first 5 minutes is considered tardy.

An absence cannot be considered for excuse if notification of the absence does not precede the scheduled class and the required work is not made up in a timely manner. It is the student's responsibility to find out from the syllabus and classmate what work was missed and how to make it up.

100% attendance does not positively affect the final grade.

Grading:

Grading Scale

Course final grades will be determined using the following scale

- A 95-100
- A- 90-94
- B+ 87-89
- B 83-86
- B- 80-82

- C- 70-72
- D+ 67-69

Preface: On “Discussion”

You will see the word “Discussion” often here. Please keep in mind that this course is predicated on the group discussion and attention, and it is through this format—the open sharing of ideas and influences and positions—that the course will work. This is not about “talking”; rather, it is about thinking and listening that supports your peers in their process.

Images may be used for the following: Roski Flickr, Roski website, in slide presentations for prospective students (Portfolio Forum, eg), printed matter and social media. Works are reproduced at a high quality. We make every effort to notify students works used in Roski printed matter and social media. Finally, we accommodate any request to remove work from our website or Flickr.

Consistent with university policy, students retain copyright ownership to student-created works. Students grant the University permission to use, reproduce and publicly distribute copies of those works. USC Roski makes every reasonable effort to notify and credit the creator of a work. Statement on Academic Conduct and Support Systems

Academic Conduct:

Plagiarism – presenting someone else’s ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Part B, Section 11, “Behavior Violating University Standards” policy.usc.edu/scampus-part-b. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on Research and Scholarship Misconduct.

Students and Disability Accommodations:

USC welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University’s educational programs. The Office of Student Accessibility Services (OSAS) is responsible for the determination of appropriate accommodations for students who encounter disability-related barriers. Once a student has completed the OSAS process (registration, initial appointment, and submitted documentation) and accommodations are determined to be reasonable and appropriate, a Letter of Accommodation (LOA) will be available to generate for each course. The LOA must be given to each course instructor by the student and followed up with a discussion. This should be done as early in the semester as possible as accommodations are not retroactive. More information can be found at osas.usc.edu. You may contact OSAS at (213) 740-0776 or via email at osasfrontdesk@usc.edu.
