

COLT 374mg/ITAL 374mg

Women Writers in Europe and America

Tuesday - Thursday 12:30 - 1:50 pm

We will examine the poems, dialogues, letters, short stories, novels, speeches and essays of a number of exemplary women authors with diverse backgrounds from western Europe and America. From the Middle Ages to the contemporary period, you will gain an understanding of how society treated women unequally, how these authors' works were produced, and how they responded to misogynous treatment in their writing.

COLT 374mg fulfills the GE/B Humanistic Inquiry requirement.

Crosslisted as ITAL 374mg and can also count as an English Language elective for students pursuing the Italian Major or Minor.

Contact
Professor Margaret (Tita) Rosenthal at:
mrosenth@usc.edu

Authors in Residence

