Course Description

This course explores intercultural diversity and the dynamics of human relations through contemporary dramatic works. We will read plays that address various aspects of perceived human differences, including those based on race, ethnicity, class, level of education, gender, sexual orientation, physical ability, political affiliation, and national origin. We will consider how these differences create tensions, cause despairs, stir up conflicts, as well as generate hopes and deliver redemptions among dramatic characters striving to survive and thrive in a multiethnic environment. Inspired by the etymological roots of “drama” as “to do, to act, and to perform,” our curriculum will also include analysis of films and television shows that attempt a move towards social change. The course encourages its participants to appreciate the challenge and pleasure of experiencing diversity in interpersonal encounters across various boundaries.

This course fulfills the diversity requirement for undergraduate general education.

Learning Objectives

- This course broadens students’ dramatic literacy of contemporary American plays and playwrights through reading dramatic texts and group presentations on living playwrights.
- This course cultivates the students' abilities for dramatic analysis and critical thinking via class discussion and through short essays on close readings of the texts.
- Through analysis and embodied encounters of dramatic artworks, students may appreciate how theater artists intervene in contemporary cultures to promote social change toward more diverse, equitable, and inclusive societies.
- Through group assignments, students will sharpen ensemble-building and presentational skills, expanding awareness of interpersonal dynamics in collaborative situations.

Required Readings

Texts marked with an asterisk (*) have been ordered through the USC Bookstore. All other texts will be distributed via Blackboard.

- Alfaro, Luis. Mojada
- Cale, David. Harry Clarke
- Cho, Julia. BFE
- Fornes, Maria Irene. Mud
- Jenkins, Barry. MOONLIGHT
- *Lew, Michael. Teenage Dick
- Majok, Martyna. Sanctuary City
- *Nottage, Lynn. Sweat
- Spiegel, Ruby Rae. Dry Land

Content Warning: The required readings deal with intense and disturbing subject matter. This course ascribes to the adage that a playwright's artistic purpose is to hold up a mirror to the world they live in, illuminating the potential of extreme dramatic situations – those that force us to ponder the fundamentals of human existence. Please consider this syllabus itself an overall content warning and your participation in the course an explicit consent to experiencing difficult and/or troubling art.

Description and Assessment of Assignments

The quality of work in this class is largely determined by the thoroughness of your effort, the ongoing process, and the imagination/critical thought displayed.

Participation – 15%

Students must actively participate in the discussion topics and in-class readings. Students will be evaluated on eagerness to be involved in class activities, and the quality of contributions to discussion. Many ideas, positions, and opinions will arise; students should be respectful in the ensuing dialogue, practicing active listening & engagement, and employing empathy.

Weekly Intro – 15%

Students will be divided into groups to present a 15 minute introductory profile on one of the playwrights whose work is being studied. Elements that should be explored include biographical information, career and artistic goals & accomplishments, themes & topics in the playwright's body of work. Groups should also include brief dramaturgical context that might be crucial to our understanding of the play being studied.

Character Analysis (2) – 20% each

Students will submit two 3-page responses to plays, taking a deeper dive into the characters, analyzing their specific arcs, resonance and (non-)relatability with their audiences. A more detailed prompt will be distributed.

Dramaturgy Project – 15%

Dramaturgs serve as invaluable resources during the rehearsal process and production. For each play studied, we will have a dramaturgical team. Teams will field questions that arise during the play readings and provide reports for subsequent class sessions. Teams can also choose to provide other information or materials for the class to consider. Students will work as a creative team and will earn the same grade for the assignment.

Final Assignment – 15%

A final self-assessment in relation to the works studied over the course of the semester, evaluating one’s growth as an artist and collaborator. A more detailed prompt will be distributed.

Grading Breakdown

ASSIGNMENT	% of grade
Participation	15
Weekly Intro	15
Dramaturgy Project	15
Character Analysis – 1	20
Character Analysis – 2	20
Final Assignment	15
TOTAL	100

Grading Scale for SDA: A indicates work of excellent quality; B of good quality; C of average quality; D of below average quality; and F indicates inadequate work.

- A+: 100-98 A: 97-94 A-: 93-90
- B+: 89-87 B: 86-84 B-: 83-80
- C+: 79-77 C: 76-74 C-: 73-70
- D+: 69-67 D: 66-64 D-: 63-60
- F: 59-0

When a student’s mathematical GPA falls between two grades, the final grade will be weighted towards the higher end of the scale for students whose attendance and participation in class have been excellent or good and toward the lower end for those with average or poor attendance and participation.

ADDITIONAL POLICIES

Assignment Submission: NO LATE ASSIGNMENTS WILL BE ACCEPTED.

MISSED CLASSES – It is your responsibility to obtain information about missed class discussions and assignments from your colleagues.

SDA PRODUCTIONS, ISPS, AND EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

SDA productions, ISPs and Extracurricular Activities* will not excuse you from any class work. There will be no exceptions made for absences in class, missed or delayed assignments, homework or lack of class participation resulting from your involvement in any of the above. Your grade will reflect your work in this class, independent from work in any other class or activity.

*Activities that have been officially sanctioned by the larger university (such as marching band, song girls, or varsity sports) are exempt. You must submit official documentation to your professor regarding your participation in an event prior to your absence.

Statement on Academic Conduct and Support Systems

Academic Conduct:

Plagiarism – presenting someone else’s ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Part B, Section 11, “Behavior Violating University Standards” policy.usc.edu/scampus-part-b. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, <http://policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct>.

Statement for Students with Disabilities

Any student requesting academic accommodations based on a disability is required to register with Disability Services and Programs (DSP) each semester. A letter of verification for approved accommodations can be obtained from DSP. Please be sure the letter is delivered to me (or to TA) as early in the semester as possible. DSP is located in STU 301 and is open 8:30 a.m.–5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. Website for DSP and contact information: (213) 740-0776 (Phone), (213) 740-6948 (TDD only), (213) 740-8216 (FAX) ability@usc.edu.

Emergency Preparedness/Course Continuity in a Crisis

In case of a declared emergency if travel to campus is not feasible, USC executive leadership will announce an electronic way for instructors to teach students in their residence halls or homes using a combination of Blackboard, teleconferencing, and other technologies. See the university’s site on Campus Safety and Emergency Preparedness.

Equity, Diversity & Inclusion + Intimacy in Theater Consent Culture Statement:

Through our pluralistic approach of diverse pedagogies, methodologies, ideologies, and modalities of artistic expression, we invite(engage) and challenge students to expand their breadth and depth of knowledge, complexity, and range of the human experience. Even though we nurture, guide, and challenge our students to embrace the unknown or unfamiliar and step outside of their comfort zones through storytelling/art, we aim to practice effective strategies and offer tools to students mindful of their physical, psychological, social, and emotional wellbeing. In alignment with professional and industry standards, we will integrate core principles and techniques of Intimacy in Theater and Building Cultures of Affirmative Consent. This will provide agency, offer resources and support to the teachers, students, directors, and staff to establish healthy boundaries of consent when working on material that is physically, intimately, or emotionally charged content in both the classroom and production.

SDA Student Support & Reporting Form:

To facilitate a supportive environment of accountability, SDA has created an internal system of reporting for students to address issues/concerns and to offer feedback or suggestions for improvement. This mechanism provides a pathway for reporting and offering feedback without fear of retaliation or judgment. Any submission filed through this form will be reviewed and processed accordingly through SDA Office of Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion.
