THIS IS AN IN-PERSON CLASS

In accordance with university recommendations, all meetings of this class will be held in person. Students who become ill and need to self-isolate will be supported in their efforts to stay current with classwork and assignments, to the extent possible. Please contact Professor Jeffords and your SA (TBD) at least one hour prior to class start time if you become ill and need to self-isolate. Do not come to class if you are experiencing any symptoms of COVID-19 or other illnesses. Requests for longer term exemptions will be considered on a case-by-case basis, and must be supported by a written accommodation request from the USC Office of Student Accessibility Services (OSAS).

Course Description

This course will be an introduction to the techniques and uses of storyboards for Film and TV Animation. While many of the methods discussed may be applied to storyboarding for Live-Action film or TV, this class will not focus on the specifics of Live-Action storyboarding. Emphasis will be on – telling a story with pictures – which is the foundation of all cinema, old and new. Students will have the chance to develop their abilities to communicate visually, with clarity. Some aspects of the class will be designed to simulate a “real time” professional storyboarding experience, working from assigned script pages, established character and environmental designs, all toward giving students an overview of what to expect when eventually entering the demanding, active and – yes – fun arena of animated filmmaking. Final projects can include – but not mandatorily - the creation of storyboards focusing on students’ original ideas as well, from concept to execution, and, after individual consultation with the instructor, will be based on a student-by-student basis.

For class demonstration purposes, the instructor will be working on a digital tablet and/or animation storyboard software. (IMPORTANT NOTE: This class is NOT designed to teach the technical aspects or techniques of any digital storyboarding or design software, such as Photoshop, Sketchbook, Toon Boom or Storyboard Pro.)

Grades

Grading will not be based on group critiques, classroom participation and accurate delivery of assignments. Students will be judged by completion of assignments by given deadlines, willingness to take direction, execution of revisions and overall improvement demonstrated over the span of the course. Students will NOT be graded on personal drawing skills, but will be expected to accurately communicate ideas, actions and scenarios in a graphic, clear, visual manner.

Grading Breakdown

- Assignments 40%
- Class participation & participation in lectures 20%
- Final project 40%

Projects will be evaluated on the following criteria:

- a. Accuracy of assignment guidelines
- b. Demonstration of principles covered in class
- c. Communication of ideas

Final projects will be evaluated on the following criteria:

- a. Completion
- b. Communication of narrative or intent
- c. Effectiveness of timing and execution

Electronic Media in Class

You may use your laptops and/or portable digital drawing tablets for notes and/or translation, but NOT for social media or YouTube (except for research purposes approved by the instructor) during lectures. Absolutely no social media or texting during lectures. Keep phones on mute.

Supplies

Digital Storyboarding preferred. Storyboard software such as Storyboard Pro, Adobe Photoshop, or Procreate are encouraged for those students who know how to use them. Presentation of assignments using Preview, Adobe Bridge, or the like are also encouraged.

Required Readings and Supplementary Materials

While storyboarding is largely a “Learn by Doing” craft, several books have been published, which provide, if not fully “How To” information, good inspiration for the student artist. All the books listed below are relatively inexpensive and available new and/or used, and in paperback, on Amazon.com or other online stores, as well as book and art supply stores:

- FILM DIRECTING: SHOT BY SHOT by Steven D. Katz
- CARTOON ANIMATION by Preston Blair
- DISNEY ANIMATION – THE ILLUSION OF LIFE by Frank Thomas and Ollie Johnson
- DIRECTING THE STORY by Francis Glebas

- Study Days (Dec 2-5)
- Final exam due: Electronically Monday Dec. 11th at 9pm

Assignment format:

The aspect ratio for all storyboarding assignments will be 1:85:1. A digital template with a dialogue section will be provided. Storyboarded scenes should be delivered as both layouts and individual panels. To get credit for the assignment, these files should be placed into the designated class folder on the day of the pitch. The individual panels will be used for in-class pitching and the layouts will be used by the instructor for the purpose of review and grading. Layout pages should be 8 1/2 x 11 inches (landscape mode), with approx. 20–25 panels per page. These should be turned in on the day of the pitch. If you need assistance on how to quickly create layout pages there will be instructions in the “class tools” folder. Please have your files uploaded BEFORE CLASS on the day of the pitch. For assignments on which the instructor will be providing draw overs, you will be asked to create a single layered photoshop file of your layout sheets.
