Production Designers are responsible for everything that is physically in front of the camera and doesn't move.

The goal of the class is to give students a practical base to implement their design strategies while working on productions here at USC and beyond. What are creative ways to stretch low-budget dollars to enable the design of the films to have more visual weight and a clear reality for the telling of a particular story. This Practicum will explore in depth the many facets of the Art Department.

When creating any cinematic image, the two elements that limit the work are time and money. You can, in a weekend, make The Titanic in a bathtub for a hundred bucks or spend months in the ocean and studio tanks for two hundred million and tell the story differently. But each approach is still The Titanic in its own right. The two constraints gravely impact all parts of film production. Generally, films have a better chance of being finished when they reflect a good management of both.

However, no matter how much time and money you have, the one thing that remains constant is how the Art Department should function. One objective of this class is to introduce and examine the collaboration between all the Art Department's sub-departments including: Set Design, Set Construction, Scenic, Set Decoration, Property, etc. How all the subsets of the Art Department communicate together to help shape the collective vision of a 'Show'. By exploring these inner departments, my hope is to give you a broader base of understanding about the Art Department as a whole and how you might fit into it after graduating from SC. Not everyone may be cut out to be a Production Designer, being a Prop Master or Set Decorator for instance, is just as vital to the storytelling and could be more rewarding to certain individuals.

The process of breaking the script down by the Art Department into manageable parts will be explained. How each department within the Art Department budgets differently and what changes a budget during production. We will then alter this standard breakdown procedure a bit and apply it in a different way to USC productions. How to set up and manage a budget will be discussed including the question of what something costs vs. what it's worth?

As we make our way through the many issues that weigh on all choices in the design process, this class will discuss the collaborative and fluid nature of the 'production' from an Art Department perspective.

Areas of focus and learning objectives include: The Art Department team, script breakdown, budgets, research, measuring and dressing a location, ground plans and elevations, white model building, SketchUp, set plotting and set layout, basic use of backdrops and sailboats, basic flat construction and set construction, basic scenic applications, etc.

ATTENDANCE: Attendance is mandatory. Students are required to attend all classes.

Students are expected to be on time and prepared for each class. Two unexcused absences will result in your grade being lowered by one full letter (ex: A becomes B). A third unexcused absence will result in your grade being lowered a full letter (ex: B now becomes a C). Your grade will be lowered by one full letter for every absence thereafter. Two late arrivals equate to one full absence.

If you cannot attend, it is your responsibility to get the information and HW assignment from a fellow student or SA. Do not leave me an e-mail/voice mail inquiring about what you missed in class.

For an absence to be excused the student must have approval from me and provide documentation at the next attended class session.

If you have an emergency and must miss class, please contact me prior to class.

HW ASSIGNMENTS POINTS: Assignments will be graded 1 through 10, 10 being best. Your assignment will be graded on the following factors:

- > did you follow instructions?
- > is the homework complete and submitted on time?
- > how well you achieved the homework goal?

 Please DATE each new homework assignment in your folders.

GRADING TIMELINE: Generally, your assignments will be graded weekly. I try to give feedback to every student. If I miss you, please come and see me to discuss the assignment.

LATE OR INCOMPLETE HOMEWORK: Homework that is submitted incomplete will be graded accordingly. Homework that is submitted late will lose 1 pt. of its possible score for each week it is late. As an example, homework that would have received an 8 but is submitted two weeks late would become a 6.

Homework submitted after two weeks will not be accepted.

ALL HOMEWORK WILL BE DUE BY 6PM THE FOLLOWING MONDAY -UNLESS NOTED. ALL HOMEWORK IS POSTED TO YOUR FOLDERS AND PLEASE DATE YOUR HOMEWORK.

I will always except Homework earlier, just let me know it's posted.

QUIZES: There will be one quiz at Mid-Term.

FINAL GRADES: I will tally your homework and quiz points. A percentage will be determined by the total points you've earned as compared with the total points possible. This percentage corresponds to a letter grade: A = 100-95%, A-= 94-90%, B+= 89- 87%, B= 86-83%, B-= 82-80%, C+= 79-77%, C= 76-73%, C-= 72-70%, D+= 69- 67%, D= 66-63%, D-= 62-60%, F= 59-0%.

STATEMENT ON ACADEMIC INTEGRITY:

The University of Southern California is foremost a learning community committed to fostering successful scholars and researchers dedicated to the pursuit of knowledge and the transmission of ideas. Academic misconduct is in contrast to the university's mission to educate students through a broad array of first-rank academic, professional, and extracurricular programs and includes any act of dishonesty in the submission of academic work (either in draft or final form).

This course will follow the expectations for academic integrity as stated in the USC Student Handbook. All students are expected to submit assignments that are original work and prepared specifically for the course/section in this academic term. You may not submit work written by others or "recycle" work prepared for other courses without obtaining written permission from the instructor(s). Students suspected of engaging in academic misconduct will be reported to the Office of Academic Integrity.

Other violations of academic misconduct include, but are not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, fabrication (e.g., falsifying data), knowingly assisting others in acts of academic dishonesty, and any act that gains or is intended to gain an unfair academic advantage.

The impact of academic dishonesty is far-reaching and is considered a serious offense against the university and could result in outcomes such as failure on the assignment, failure in the course, suspension, or even expulsion from the university.

All students are expected to understand and abide by these principles. SCampus, the Student Guidebook, contains the Student Conduct Code in Section 11.00, while the recommended sanctions are located in Appendix A:

<http://www.usc.edu/dept/publications/SCAMPUS/gov/>. Students will be referred to the Office of Student Judicial Affairs and Community Standards for further review, should there be any suspicion of academic dishonesty. The Review process can be found at:

<http://www.usc.edu/student-affairs/SJACS/>.

STATEMENT ON ACADEMIC CONDUCT AND SUPPORT SYSTEMS:

Academic Conduct:

Plagiarism – presenting someone else’s ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Part B, Section 11, “Behavior Violating University Standards” <https://policy.usc.edu/scampus-part-b/>. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, <http://policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct>.
