[H - Si] TBD
[Su - Z] TBD

Professor’s hours are by appointment. The hour before or after class are usually the most available, unless I am shepherding a guest.

Course Description
The uses and effects of technology, the rise of networks, issues of industry, identity and community online, analytics and data, apps, mobile and new tech.

Student Learning Outcomes
Students will gain a basic exposure to the fundamentals of business and economics, sociology, social psychology, and history by examining technology and its impact on society. Technology is different every semester, so the goal isn’t necessarily to get you prepared for what’s here now. The goal is to prepare you to understand and take advantage of whatever comes next, i.e. a toolset for the future.

Course Notes:

Readings
All readings are supplied via Blackboard. No, you don’t have to buy anything (yay). The materials consist of book excerpts, online articles, magazine clips, research papers, and trade articles.

Also: Students are required to read WIRED magazine as it comes out. It’s cheap, and also available online, and hey, all of your other readings are supplied for free. I recommend subscribing.

Do you have to read everything? Only if you want to be smart. And if you want an A. I will have pop quizzes specifically designed to reward students who read, and to penalize those who don’t. They won’t be about obscure details. If it’s clear that many students aren’t reading, I’ll have more of them. If it’s clear students are reading, I’ll have fewer.

Note Taking
I will use slides and will post them on Blackboard since many students like to have them and to annotate them. To be really, really clear: They are not your notes. They are not a study sheet for exams. They do not cover everything, especially points of discussion or the readings. Your notes are your notes.

Attendance & Courtesy
My number one rule of life, OK, my number two rule of life is “Just show up.” Attendance is not taken. You can skip it and simply fail at life. And if you miss a quiz, you’ll of course fail that.

Similarly, you all have laptops and can use them to be distracted, but then why come to class? The research on using laptops in class and comprehension is very clear: it hurts you. The more you actively listen and take notes, the better you do, period.

Please respect your classmates and don’t be late or leave early.

Yes, it’s a large class, but if you can participate, please do.

Lastly, but important: The classroom is a safe space for ideas and discussion, which requires that everyone does their part to create an atmosphere of inclusion and acceptance. There will be no discrimination based on anyone’s background, demographics, or politics, etc. In short, the only thing I don’t tolerate is intolerance.

Grading
The papers for this class are graded on both content and format. Papers written unprofessionally will receive poor grades. Spell correctly, and use good grammar.

Use Times, 12pt, double spaced, with 1” margins.

Exams are graded blind: names are removed before grading for anonymity.

Late assignments lose 10% per day.

Any queries about your grade on an assignment must be submitted to the TA in writing, no sooner than 24 hours after you get your grade.

This class is not about memorization or rote learning. There will be some things you need to simply remember, but the bulk of your grade will depend on you applying knowledge.

Short assignments
Write on the following topics, assigned throughout the term.
1) Black Mirror assignment.
   Watch one of the episodes below and write a 1-2 page reaction paper using concepts from the lecture.
   Episodes you can choose:
   Season 1, Fifteen Million Merits
   Season 2: White Christmas or The Waldo Moment
   Season 3: San Junipero or Playtest
   Season 4: Arkangel
   Grading rubric: Did you analyze or merely describe? Did you apply concepts from class? Was it thoughtful or surface-level? Was your formatting, spelling and grammar professional grade?

2) Social Media blackout.
   From Sep. 22 to Sep. 27 (you can start Sep. 25 if you are weak(!) or have a work reason), don’t use any social media (email is OK, text is up to you, but see if you can avoid it). On the evening of Sep. 26 (before our Thursday class) write 1-2 pages about the experience. Was it good, bad, or something else? What were the pros and cons? Did you learn anything about yourself or your friends? Will you do anything differently after the experience? Consider comparing your results with the Facebook Quitting study on Blackboard. Apply 2-3 concepts from lecture or the readings for the best grade.
   Grading rubric: Did you answer all of the questions above? Did you apply course concepts? Was it thoughtful or surface level? Was your formatting, spelling and grammar professional grade?

Final Paper

The final paper is a research paper on a topic of your choosing. The paper will be between 8 and 10 pages aside from a cover page and any reference list. Use Times, 12 pt., double space. It is due by Friday, December 9 at 5 pm. Papers will be submitted to the Turnitin system via Blackboard. Late papers will lose 10% per day late, starting at 5:01 pm on the 9th.

Grading rubric: Did you format as we described in class? Did you do something empirical? Did you have hypotheses and did you address them with evidence? Were the results presented clearly? Did you draw conclusions from them? Did you incorporate concepts from class?

*For Fall ‘22, we will take the average of Exam 1 and 2 and use that score to replace the lower of the two.

Course Grading Policy

Average work does not get a B+ or A-. That may apply in other classes, but it doesn’t here. If that’s a problem, don’t take this class.

All assignments need to be completed and handed in on time to avoid a grade reduction. If you are unable to turn in an assignment due to illness or a personal emergency, you must provide written documentation that will allow you to be excused, or discuss your situation with your TA in a timely manner. Do not wait until the end of the semester to sort things out.

In order to pass this class you will need to complete ALL of the assignments. Failure to complete one or more of them will result in an F in the class.

Grades will be assigned as follows:

A/A- outstanding, thoughtful and enthusiastic work
B+/B above average work, demonstrating good insight into assignment
B-/C+ needs improvement on ideas, argument and follow through
C and below fulfilling the bare minimum and showing little understanding of the material

Each assignment will be worth 100 points and will be converted to a percentage score depending upon the weight assigned to each. Your percentage scores won the assignments will be totaled and translated to a letter grade per the scale shown below:

Assignment Submission Policy

All assignments are due on the dates specified. Lacking prior discussion and agreement with the instructor/TA, usually with some kind of documentation, grades are reduced by 10% per day late, starting immediately at the time and date due.

Statement on Academic Conduct and Support Systems

a. Academic Conduct

Plagiarism

Plagiarism – presenting someone else's ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Part B, Section 11, “Behavior Violating University Standards.” Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct.

The School of Communication maintains a commitment to the highest standards of ethical conduct and academic excellence. Any student found responsible for plagiarism, fabrication, cheating on examinations, or purchasing papers or other assignments will be reported to the Office of Student Judicial Affairs and Community Standards and may be dismissed from the School of Communication. There are no exceptions to the school’s policy.

In addition, it is assumed that the work you submit for this course is work you have produced entirely by yourself, and has not been previously produced by you for submission in another course, without approval of the instructor.
