Weekly Talks by LA Creatives!

Come meet some of LA's most interesting media artists, game designers, motion graphics artists, music video directors, installation designers and more as they talk about their work and careers in weekly artists' talks! Each visitor showcases a selection of projects, describes their careers, and answers questions, helping give students an insider's look at how to design a unique and fulfilling career pathway for the future. If you want to meet a wide array of creatives, from newcomers to fully established artists, sign up for this course! No previous experience necessary; all USC undergrads welcome.

Assignments:

- 2 short papers
- personal creativity statement
- final visual presentation

Instructor:

Holly Willis, co-chair of the Media Arts + Practice division.
