COURSE DESCRIPTION

There is no better way to learn how to tell a story than actually going through the process of doing it. This is the beginning of an educational process that was designed to awaken instincts as a filmmaker. Be patient and open to new ideas as you embark on this creative and personal journey of discovery.

The focus of Production I (507) is about learning ways of communicating stories, ideas, feelings, moods and emotions in cinema. All approaches to cinema will be introduced including non-fiction, fiction, hybrid, abstract, and experimental. The goal is for each student to learn how to express themselves and reach a place where they can be critical of their own work and offer effective critiques of the works of others.

Coursework is divided into three parts—full-cohort Lectures, Labs and weekly Review sessions. In full-cohort lectures, students are introduced to the six major disciplines: directing, editing, cinematography, production design, producing and sound. In labs, students explore each discipline in more depth through guided opportunities to create both individual and small collaboration exercises. All 507 students will complete four short exercises during the semester. Review sessions are where exercises will be assigned, screened, and critiqued.

English is the language of instruction and should be spoken in classes and all production-related gatherings, including production meetings and film sets.

Course Goals

- Discover the basic elements of character and story.
- Learn how to tell a story effectively through the use of sound and visual images
- Explore a range of forms and genres—non-fiction, fiction, personal essay, etc.
- Learn to give and receive cogent and constructive critiques of work
- Acquire ethical standards for filmmaking
- Develop fundamental skills in the areas of producing, directing, cinematography, production design, editing, production sound, and sound design.
- Highlight the fundamental relationship between form and content.
- Become aware of the cultural impact of cinema.

CTPR 507 will cover introductions to these skill sets:

Directing: Develop a comprehensive understanding of the role of the director from script to screen; analyze scenes for production; learn fundamental techniques of working with actors; learn the importance of shots, scenes, coverage, beats, conflicts, moments, transitions, composition, geography; establish aesthetic approaches to the intention and theme of each exercise; and, learn strategies for leading and collaborating.

Producing: An overview of the industry and the role of the producer from the inception of an idea to release/airing. Examine development, financing, pre-production, production, post-production, and distribution from a producer's perspective. The creative, managerial, entrepreneurial and problem-solving skills necessary to succeed will be explored.

Cinematography: The use of images to reinforce a narrative and create an emotion, the concept of the exposure triangle, the properties of light, working with natural light, the functions of a lens, composition, basic electrical distribution, blocking and covering a scene.

Editing: The aesthetics and editorial skills behind the art of telling a story with moving visual images. Learning AVID Tools, Media Management, and Editorial techniques used in all genres by exploring dialogue, and formal and stylistic editing. Cutting for emotion and character building. Creating tension and suspense.

Sound: The use of Sound Design as a creative storytelling device. Introductory production recording and sound editing. The blending of dialogue, music, and effects into a cohesive soundtrack. While the use of music is strongly encouraged, the overuse is strongly discouraged. Thornton Scoring Students are not allowed to score CTPR 507 exercises.

Grades

Grades will be based on creativity, clarity, craftsmanship, and professionalism.

In CTPR 507 a grade of C or better must be earned in order to move on to CTPR 508 (Production II). Students who earn a grade of C- (1.7) or less in 507 will be disqualified, and not be able to continue in the MFA program.

	Directing	Producing	Cinematography	Editing	Sound
Total points:	20 pts	20 pts	20 pts	20 pts	20 pts

Grading Scale: A: 94-100 • A-: 90-93 • B+: 87-89 • B: 83-86 • B-: 80-82 • C+: 77-79 • C: 73-76 • C-: 70-72 • D+: 67-69 • D: 63-66 • D-: 60-62 • F: 59 and below

Production Division Attendance Policy

Students are expected to be on time and prepared for each class. One absence may result in a student's grade being lowered by one notch (IE: A becomes A-). Two absences may result in a student's grade being lowered by two notches (IE: A- becomes B). A third absence may result in a student's grade being lowered another full point (IE: B becomes C). Grades can be lowered by one full point for every additional absence.

Tardiness: A student is deemed late 7 minutes (number can be adjusted as desired) after the class is scheduled to start. One late arrival may not affect your grade. Two late arrivals equate to one full unexcused absence. (IE: A becomes A-). Three late arrivals may result in your grade being dropped by two portions (IE: A- becomes B). Four late arrivals may result in your grade being dropped three portions (one full point: B becomes C). Lateness of more than 30 minutes will count as an absence.

Timely attendance is mandatory and failure to attend all class sections from beginning to end may affect grades.

- Exemptions will be allowed on a case-by-case basis, and must be supported by a written accommodation request from the USC Office of Student Accessibility Services (OSAS).
- Students who become ill and need to self-isolate will be supported in their efforts to stay current with classwork and assignments. Faculty are no longer required to provide an option for students to zoom into class. However, Faculty may choose to use zoom at their discretion in an effort to help students stay current in their course work.

Students must contact the professor or SA 24 hours prior to class start time if they need to miss class for any reason.

Academic Integrity

The University of Southern California is foremost a learning community committed to fostering successful scholars and researchers dedicated to the pursuit of knowledge and the transmission of ideas. Academic misconduct is in contrast to the university's mission to educate students through a broad array of first-rank academic, professional, and extracurricular programs and includes any act of dishonesty in the submission of academic work (either in draft or final form).

This course will follow the expectations for academic integrity as stated in the USC Student Handbook. All students are expected to submit assignments that are original work and prepared specifically for the course/section in this academic term. You may not submit work written by others or "recycle" work prepared for other courses without obtaining written permission from the instructor(s). Students suspected of engaging in academic misconduct will be reported to the Office of Academic Integrity.

Other violations of academic misconduct include, but are not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, fabrication (e.g., falsifying data), knowingly assisting others in acts of academic dishonesty, and any act that gains or is intended to gain an unfair academic advantage.

The impact of academic dishonesty is far-reaching and is considered a serious offense against the university and could result in outcomes such as failure on the assignment, failure in the course, suspension, or even expulsion from the university.

For more information about academic integrity see the student handbook or the Office of Academic Integrity's website, and university policies on Research and Scholarship Misconduct.

Artificial Intelligence (AI) Policy:

In this course, you are allowed to use artificial intelligence (AI)-powered programs to help you with assignments that indicate the permitted use of AI. You should also be aware that AI text generation tools may present incorrect information, biased responses, and incomplete analyses; thus, they are not yet prepared to produce text that meets the standards of this course. To adhere to our university values, you must cite any AI-generated material (e.g., text, images, etc.) included or referenced in your work and provide the prompts used to generate the content. Using an AI tool to generate content without proper attribution will be treated as plagiarism and reported to the Office of Academic Integrity. Please review the instructions in each assignment for more details on how and when to use AI Generators for your submissions.

Course Content Distribution and Synchronous Session Recordings Policies

USC has policies that prohibit the recording and distribution of any synchronous and asynchronous course content outside of the learning environment.

Recording a university class without the express permission of the instructor and announcement to the class, or unless conducted pursuant to an Office of Student Accessibility Services (OSAS) accommodation. Recording can inhibit free discussion in the future, and thus infringe on the academic freedom of other students as well as the instructor. (Living our Unifying Values: The USC Student Handbook, page 13).

Distribution or use of notes, recordings, exams, or other intellectual property, based on university classes or lectures without the express permission of the instructor for purposes other than individual or group study. This includes but is not limited to providing materials for distribution by services publishing course materials. This restriction on unauthorized use also applies to all information, which had been distributed to students or in any way had been displayed for use in relationship to the class, whether obtained in class, via email, on the internet, or via any other media. (Living our Unifying Values: The USC Student Handbook, page 13).

MID-SEMESTER CONFERENCES (with Lead Faculty):

These conferences allow you to get a sense of your overall progress, areas for improvement and an estimated grade at mid-point in the semester. If you are in danger of failing, you will be alerted in writing and in a conference; we will outline together what steps must be taken in order for you to pass. It is the student's responsibility to be aware of USC's add/drop and withdrawal deadlines.

SAFETY GUIDELINES

In addition to the Safety Seminar, students must read the PRODUCTION PROCEDURES AND SAFETY HANDBOOK (new 8/16/23) available at:

<https://scacommunity.usc.edu/index.cfm>, and
<https://sites.google.com/usc.edu/sca-safety-handbook>

If you have any questions or concerns, please check with your lead instructor.

Any violation of the course and safety guidelines is considered an academic, ethical violation, governed by the USC Code of Conduct and is grounds for confiscation of footage, lowered grade, failing grade, probation, suspension, or expulsion from the University. Ethical violations are enforced by course faculty, the Head of Physical Production, and are subject to an internal SCA review process. Any ethical or safety violation will become a part of the student's record at SCA.

Statement on Academic Conduct and Support Systems

Academic Integrity:

The University of Southern California is a learning community committed to developing successful scholars and researchers dedicated to the pursuit of knowledge and the dissemination of ideas. Academic misconduct, which includes any act of dishonesty in the production or submission of academic work, compromises the integrity of the person who commits the act and can impugn the perceived integrity of the entire university community. It stands in opposition to the university's mission to research, educate, and contribute productively to our community and the world.

All students are expected to submit assignments that represent their own original work, and that have been prepared specifically for the course or section for which they have been submitted. You may not submit work written by others or "recycle" work prepared for other courses without obtaining written permission from the instructor(s).

Other violations of academic integrity include, but are not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, fabrication (e.g., falsifying data), collusion, knowingly assisting others in acts of academic dishonesty, and any act that gains or is intended to gain an unfair academic advantage.

The impact of academic dishonesty is far-reaching and is considered a serious offense against the university. All incidences of academic misconduct will be reported to the Office of Academic Integrity and could result in outcomes such as failure on the assignment, failure in the course, suspension, or even expulsion from the university.

For more information about academic integrity see the student handbook or the Office of Academic Integrity's website, and university policies on Research and Scholarship Misconduct.

Please ask your instructor if you are unsure what constitutes unauthorized assistance on an exam or assignment, or what information requires citation and/or attribution.

Students and Disability Accommodations:

USC welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University's educational programs. The Office of Student Accessibility Services (OSAS) is responsible for the determination of appropriate accommodations for students who encounter disability-related barriers. Once a student has completed the OSAS process (registration, initial appointment, and submitted documentation) and accommodations are determined to be reasonable and appropriate, a Letter of Accommodation (LOA) will be available to generate for each course. The LOA must be given to each course instructor by the student and followed up with a discussion. This should be done as early in the semester as possible as accommodations are not retroactive. More information can be found at osas.usc.edu. You may contact OSAS at (213) 740-0776 or via email at osasfrontdesk@usc.edu.
