Academic Integrity

The University of Southern California is foremost a learning community committed to fostering successful scholars and researchers dedicated to the pursuit of knowledge and the transmission of ideas. Academic misconduct is in contrast to the university's mission to educate students through a broad array of first-rank academic, professional, and extracurricular programs and includes any act of dishonesty in the submission of academic work (either in draft or final form).

This course will follow the expectations for academic integrity as stated in the USC Student Handbook. All students are expected to submit assignments that are original work and prepared specifically for the course/section in this academic term. You may not submit work written by others or "recycle" work prepared for other courses without obtaining written permission from the instructor(s). Students suspected of engaging in academic misconduct will be reported to the Office of Academic Integrity.

Other violations of academic misconduct include, but are not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, fabrication (e.g., falsifying data), knowingly assisting others in acts of academic dishonesty, and any act that gains or is intended to gain an unfair academic advantage.

The impact of academic dishonesty is far-reaching and is considered a serious offense against the university and could result in outcomes such as failure on the assignment, failure in the course, suspension, or even expulsion from the university.

For more information about academic integrity see the student handbook or the Office of Academic Integrity's website, and university policies on Research and Scholarship Misconduct.

Policy regarding the use of machine translation, generative AI, or assistance from Japanese-speaking individuals

Obtaining or using academic work from any source without proper attribution, including but not limited to family members, friends, web resources, or generative AI, constitutes an academic integrity violation in this course. Machine translation, generative AI, and assistance from Japanese-speaking individuals are not permitted in graded materials, including homework and essays. Violations will be investigated by the Office of Academic Integrity.

You may use paper or online dictionaries, machine translation, and generative AI to look up words and phrases from time to time. However, please note that students basically need to make efforts to use the vocabulary and grammar introduced in the textbook in their homework and essays. Vocabulary and grammar not introduced in the textbook may be used occasionally, but should not be used too much.

As long as the above rules are followed, students are encouraged to use machine translation and generative AI to help them learn the course materials. For example, they can use these tools to find appropriate words/expressions, check if phrases/sentences that they have created are correct, etc. If you have any questions about what uses of machine translation and generated AI are permitted, please check with your instructor.

Course Content Distribution and Synchronous Session Recordings Policies

Distribution or use of notes, recordings, exams, or other intellectual property, based on university classes or lectures without the express permission of the instructor, is strictly prohibited. This includes but is not limited to providing materials for distribution by services publishing course materials. This restriction on unauthorized use also applies to all information, which had been distributed to students or in any way had been displayed for use in relationship to the class, whether obtained in class, via email, on the internet, or via any other media. (Living our Unifying Values: The USC Student Handbook, page 13).

Assessment and course policies:

1. 出席 Attendance and class performance (10%)

You are expected to attend all classes and to be punctual. Your class performance is evaluated for each session on a 5-point scale. You are expected to speak only in Japanese once you enter the classroom. Even when you ask questions, make sure to obtain permission to speak in English by saying 「英語で質問してもいいでしょうか。」 All other communication must be held in Japanese. Failure to observe this rule (e.g., speaking in English in class too often, chatting with your classmates in English) negatively affects your grade. Tardiness and leaving early also negatively affect your grade. You will lose 1 point every time your cell phone makes a noise. Please turn off the cell phone before entering the classroom. If you use your cell phone/tablet/computer during the class for something that is not relevant to class (e.g., reading emails, texting, viewing the internet, etc.), you will lose all the performance points of the day (5 points).

If you have to miss a class because of a religious observance, you must let the instructor know about it within the first two weeks of the semester.

In general, if you have to miss a class, try to contact the instructor either by email or by phone as soon as possible so that you will not miss any information and that you can obtain permission to submit homework late, to make up quizzes, etc. If you are absent from class for four days consecutively without any information/contact provided to the instructor, it is considered as a sign of withdrawal from the course, and no handouts or information will be saved for such students thereafter.

If you miss 40 percent or more of total class time during the semester, which prevents your instructor from assessing your performance during those missed class time, you will automatically receive an F, regardless of your performance in the other categories in the class.

Spring 2024 only: If you cannot attend in-person class due to an inevitable reason (e.g., you test positive for COVID-19 and need to isolate), please contact your instructor promptly to discuss how to make up the class performance points. With the instructor's approval, you may view class video recordings to earn daily performance points. The detailed instructions are provided in Blackboard→Announcements.

2. 宿題 Homework (10%)

Homework is an important part of this course. All homework should be submitted on the days specified in the daily schedules in order to receive full credit.

When the worksheets are assigned as homework, you should:

- (1) answer the questions with your best effort by consulting with textbook, PowerPoint slides of lessons, dictionaries, and other references but without help from other people,
- (2) correct your mistakes with a pen of a different color by checking the answers (given on Blackboard or the answer section of the kanji workbook),
- (3) submit them in class.

Both your original answers and the corrections should be visible to the instructor. After checking the answers, if you do not find any errors, write “^{まちが}間違いはありません。” or “チェックしました。” with the pen of different color. If your homework is not completed or not corrected fully or not marked with “間違いはありません。” or “チェックしました。”, you will not earn the full points.

Make sure you read “How to Complete your Homework Assignment” handout (Blackboard→Content) very carefully and follow the instructions. Whenever you have problems turning in an assignment on time or have any questions about your own answers, please talk to the instructor.

3. 漢字・単語小テスト Kanji/vocabulary Quizzes (5%)

A mini quiz on kanji and vocabulary will be given two to three times for each chapter. They are usually given at the beginning of the class. You are required to memorize kanji and vocabulary in each chapter's 漢字リスト and 単語表, as specified in the daily schedule. Note that there are kanji you should be able to both read and write (RW: 読み方・書き方を覚える漢字) and kanji you should be able to read (R: 読み方を覚える漢字). You are required to memorize the meanings of both RW and R kanjis as well. As for vocabulary, you need to memorize the words shown in bold face (太字). Two lowest quiz scores will be dropped from your total score.

4. 文法・助詞小テスト Grammar/Particle Quizzes (6%)

A mini quiz on new grammar points and the use of the particles will be given once per chapter. The quiz will take about 20 minutes of class time. The format will be discussed in class.

5. ブログ Blogging (3%)

You are required to open your own blog website and post at least one blog in Japanese every week. The topic of blog will be specified in the daily schedule or discussed in class. You will also be instructed to read your classmates' blog and leave comments.

Your posting blog on time earns five points each. Leaving a comment on your classmate's blog earns one point for the first comment of the assignment, then from the second additional comment, 0.1 point each time. So if you write comments two or more, you will earn extra credits (up to 1 point maximum).

6. 個人学習 Individual Study (2%)

You will decide the track you would like to work on throughout the semester: speaking track and reading track. Students on the speaking track will find a conversation partner to practice conversation in Japanese at least 30 minutes every week. Depending on the partner's demand, you will help the partner's conversation practice in English or your native language. Students on the reading track will read books/newspaper articles in Japanese at least 30 minutes every week. Eight weekly reports (個人学習ログ) in total should be submitted in the set format.

7. 作文とミニ発表 Essays and Mini Presentations (7%)

At the end of each chapter, students will be assigned to write an essay on the topics related to the contents of the chapter. Each student will present it as a mini presentation in class. The topic and format will vary chapter by chapter and the details will be provided in the Daily Schedule.

8. 個人面談 Conversation Clinic (2%)

You are required to attend Conversation Clinic sessions twice in the semester. The clinic session is an individual meeting with the instructor to check and discuss the problems in their pronunciation, conversation strategies, or any other aspects of Japanese. The instructor will notify you of the schedule of each session.

9. 第X課のテスト Chapter Tests (10%)

This category includes Kanji Review Test (漢字の復習テスト) on the second week of the semester and two tests given at the end of Chapters 1 and 3. No make-up tests will be offered unless the student has a legitimate reason and gets the instructor's approval in a timely manner.

こうとうしけん

10. 口頭試験 Oral Exams (10%)

Two Oral examinations will be given during the semester at the end of chapters 2 and 4. The content of each exam is cumulative and the study guide will be provided before each exam. No make-up exams will be offered unless the student has a legitimate reason and obtains the instructor's approval in a timely manner.

ちゅうかんしけん

11. 中間試験 Midterm Exam (15%)

Midterm examination consists of two 50 min. written exam sessions. The content of the exam is cumulative, i.e., it will cover everything you will have learned up to that point. No make-up midterm exam will be given, unless the student submits a written request for an alternate date beforehand, stating the unavoidable circumstances leading to an expected absence from the exam in question and secures approval from both the instructor and the program director for the make-up exam.

きまつしけん

12. 期末試験 Final Exam (20%)

The final written exam (two hours) will be given at the time specified in the schedule of courses. You must take the final exam at the time scheduled for this course. If you find any final exam schedule conflict (e.g., overlapping exam schedules or having more than two exams on the same day), you must consult with your instructor before you finalize your course registration for the semester, which is by the end of the third week. Failure to do so may result in penalty deduction from your final exam score.

Check your final exam schedules of this semester on the Final Examinations Schedule:

<http://classes.usc.edu/term-20241/finals/>.

Stipulations governing the make-up of a missed final exam will follow the general university policy. Once again, you must score 60% or more on the final exam in order to pass the course.

Final Exam: Friday, May 3rd 11:00 a.m. – 1:00 p.m. @DMC 111

13. クラスのきそく (Class Rules)

1. Please arrange the chairs in a U-shape before class starts.
2. Do not work on homework during class.
3. Food is not allowed in class.
4. Please turn off your cellphone and put it away from your desk during class.
5. Please try to speak Japanese in class as much as possible. If you need to ask a question in English, please ask for permission from the instructor.
6. Please refrain from using electronic devices (e.g., cellphones, tablets, or laptops) for anything unrelated to class during class time.

* Please note that your instructor is prohibited from receiving any gifts from students, with the exception of a thank-you note.

Statement on Academic Conduct and Support Systems

Academic Integrity:

The University of Southern California is a learning community committed to developing successful scholars and researchers dedicated to the pursuit of knowledge and the dissemination of ideas. Academic misconduct, which includes any act of dishonesty in the production or submission of academic work, compromises the integrity of the person who commits the act and can impugn the perceived integrity of the entire university community. It stands in opposition to the university's mission to research, educate, and contribute productively to our community and the world.

All students are expected to submit assignments that represent their own original work, and that have been prepared specifically for the course or section for which they have been submitted. You may not submit work written by others or "recycle" work prepared for other courses without obtaining written permission from the instructor(s).

Other violations of academic integrity include, but are not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, fabrication (e.g., falsifying data), collusion, knowingly assisting others in acts of academic dishonesty, and any act that gains or is intended to gain an unfair academic advantage.

The impact of academic dishonesty is far-reaching and is considered a serious offense against the university. All incidences of academic misconduct will be reported to the Office of Academic Integrity and could result in outcomes such as failure on the assignment, failure in the course, suspension, or even expulsion from the university.

For more information about academic integrity see the student handbook or the Office of Academic Integrity's website, and university policies on Research and Scholarship Misconduct.

Please ask your instructor if you are unsure what constitutes unauthorized assistance on an exam or assignment, or what information requires citation and/or attribution.

Students and Disability Accommodations:

USC welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University's educational programs. The Office of Student Accessibility Services (OSAS) is responsible for the determination of appropriate accommodations for students who encounter disability-related barriers. Once a student has completed the OSAS process (registration, initial appointment, and submitted documentation) and accommodations are determined to be reasonable and appropriate, a Letter of Accommodation (LOA) will be available to generate for each course. The LOA must be given to each course instructor by the student and followed up with a discussion. This should be done as early in the semester as possible as accommodations are not retroactive. More information can be found at osas.usc.edu. You may contact OSAS at (213) 740-0776 or via email at osasfrontdesk@usc.edu.
