Introduction to Visual Communication Design

Course Description

This is an introductory course that teaches the fundamentals of visual design. Every day, you consume art, text, and branding in public and private spaces. You absorb this information through movie posters, museum exhibitions, social media, retail experiences, and even in national parks. Graphics build meaning through image, language, and movement.

This course uses hands-on tutorials, theoretical discussions, and historical context to discover the field of graphic design. We will take ideas throughout the entire design process, beginning with sketches and delivering fully conceptualized campaigns. Students will learn many softwares included in Adobe Creative Suite, including Illustrator, InDesign, Photoshop, and After Effects.

Learning Outcomes

As a result of taking this course, students will be able to:

- Gain knowledge of strategies which construct and deconstruct graphic design taking into account issues of audience, function, and composition, as well as location, and context
- Communicate using a fundamental vocabulary of terms associated with art and design
- Create introductory level art and design using Adobe Creative Suite.
- Understand the use, creation, customization and manipulation of typography and its relationship to communication and design
- We will discuss the following concepts: Balance/Alignment, Contrast, Space, Color, Form, Type, Hierarchy, Production
Required Texts

Additional texts may be assigned and distributed through the semester via email of Google classroom. You are required to read and discuss the texts on assigned days.

All readings available through USC libraries portal (https://libraries.usc.edu/)

Course Structure

This course is made up of three interrelated parts:

1. Visual Literacy:
   In order to contend with our multifaceted visual environment, we need tools to help us make sense of it all. Through a process of visual inquiry, we will discuss how to “read” beyond the surface of what is presented on the page, poster, screen, billboard, etc., in order to reveal the underlying messages at stake. We will learn how to construct and deconstruct graphic design, taking into account issues of audience, function, and composition, as well as location and context.

2. Design Exercises, Reading Responses & Homework
   Over the course of the semester Students will be asked to complete various readings and design challenges that aim to get the class thinking about visual communication, designing around abstract concepts and building a repertoire of designer skill sets. All homework and design challenges must include detailed visual documentation of your creative processes (images, screenshots, etc.) and a 200-300 word description of your personal goals and objectives for a project. All homework must be posted to Google Classroom before the class on the date due to receive full credit.

   A note on research: Because your imagination may stretch beyond what’s taught in class, I also encourage you to always be looking for inspiration. Here are some publications that frequently spotlight the best in graphic design:

3. Projects

Each student will produce 3 design projects over the course of the semester, including a final portfolio review where these projects will be refined. Each project is meant to be multidisciplinary and pull from a variety of design principles, including graphic, environmental, exhibit and interactive/motion design. All projects will be completed and submitted digitally. If items are hand-illustrated, they will need to be scanned and edited in Adobe Creative Suite prior to submission.

SCA Viewing Portal: http://scacommunity.usc.edu
MA+P Community: https://map.usc.edu/community/

A key component of each project is group critique and feedback. Critique is not meant to intimidate or bully. It’s a moment to reflect on our own work and take constructive criticism from our peers. Be thoughtful and helpful. Say more than “I like it” or “I don’t like it.” Critiques should help people improve their work and walk away with new ideas. This classroom will be a safe environment to experiment and take creative risks!
Absence Policy

MA+P classes depend on group work and in-class critique, which makes attendance crucial. You are expected to be present for every scheduled class session. If you must miss a class, please be sure to get any notes and assignments from a classmate so you do not fall behind.

Students are allowed two absences before a reduction in grade. Tardiness or leaving class early for (0 to 15 minutes) will be considered ½ an absence. Missing more than 30 minutes of a class is considered an absence. After your second absence, each additional...
Absence will lower your final grade by 5%.

If you anticipate attendance issues, please notify your professor immediately.

Academic Policies

Land Acknowledgment Statement:
For those participating from the LA Basin, we acknowledge our presence on the traditional, ancestral and unceded territory of the Tongva and Chumash peoples. For those who are elsewhere, please visit Native-Land.ca to discover the Original People of your home.

SCA Diversity and Inclusion Statement:
Diversity and Inclusion are foundational to the SCA community. We are committed to fostering a welcoming and supportive environment where students of all identities and backgrounds can flourish. The classroom should be a space for open discussion of ideas and self-expression; however, SCA will not tolerate verbal or written abuse, threats, harassment, intimidation or violence against person or property. If students are concerned about these matters in the classroom setting they are encouraged to contact their SCA Diversity and Inclusion Liaison, http://cinema.usc.edu/about/diversity.cfm; e-mail diversity@cinema.usc.edu. You can also report discrimination based on a protected class here https://equity.usc.edu/harassment-or-discrimination/

Students and Disability Accommodations:
USC welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University’s educational programs. The Office of Student Accessibility Services (OSAS) is responsible for the determination of appropriate accommodations for students who encounter disability-related barriers. Once a student has completed the OSAS process (registration, initial appointment, and submitted documentation) and accommodations are determined to be reasonable and appropriate, a Letter of Accommodation (LOA) will be available to generate for each course. The LOA must be given to each course instructor by the student and followed up with a discussion. This should be done as early in the semester as possible as accommodations are not retroactive. More information can be found at osas.usc.edu. You may contact OSAS at (213) 740-0776 or via email at osasfrontdesk@usc.edu.

In the spirit of disability culture, please feel free to stim, stretch, knit, doodle, move around, change seats, do yoga or do what feels right to your bodymind.

Academic Integrity:
The University of Southern California is a learning community committed to developing successful scholars and researchers
AI Generator Policy

In this course, I encourage you to use artificial intelligence (AI)-powered programs to help you with assignments that indicate the permitted use of AI. You should also be aware that AI text generation tools may present incorrect information, biased responses, and incomplete analyses; thus they are not yet prepared to produce text that meets the standards of this course. To adhere to our university values, you must cite any AI-generated material (e.g., text, images, etc.) included or referenced in your work and provide the prompts used to generate the content. Using an AI tool to generate content without proper attribution will be treated as plagiarism and reported to the Office of Academic Integrity. Please review the instructions in each assignment for more details on how and when to use AI Generators for your submissions.

If found responsible for an academic violation, students may be assigned university outcomes, such as suspension or expulsion from the university, and grade penalties, such as an "F" grade on the assignment, exam, and/or in the course.

Statement on Fair Use

Fair use is a legal principle that defines certain limitations on the exclusive rights of copyright holders. MA+P projects are produced with fair use doctrines in mind using its four pillars: (1) the purpose and character of use, (2) the nature of the copyrighted work, (3) the amount and substantiality of the portion used in relation to the copyrighted work as a whole, and (4) the effect of the use upon the potential market for or value of the copyrighted work. Generally speaking, this means you must only use as much of a copyrighted work as is necessary to make your point, and you must cite your sources accordingly.

Citation Guidelines

We assert that work produced in our classes is covered under the Doctrine of Fair Use. In order to make this claim, however, all projects must include academically appropriate citations in the form of a References section, which covers all sources, in order to receive a passing grade. The References section is either included in the project itself or as a separate document, as appropriate. For citation purposes, we follow Kairos Journal of Rhetoric, Technology, and Pedagogy style guide; Kairos uses APA format, which is slightly modified and whose general guidelines and specific examples may be found here: http://kairos.technorhetoric.net/styleguide.html#apa

Computer Code

Computer code is often shared and reused. This is appropriate in a MA+P course unless otherwise directed by the assignment. If you do use code, you should attribute it. Please follow these protocols from MIT which call for placing a comment in one’s code with a URL to the original source, a note if it was adapted, and the date of retrieval: https://integrity.mit.edu/handbook/writing-code

Assignment Descriptions & Assessment

Project 1: Merchandise for Flower Head Gallery
Due Week 5
Guest Speaker: Rachel Elizabeth Jones, Founder
https://www.flower-head.space/

Flower Head Gallery is looking for merchandise that pairs with previous exhibitions! Using inspiration from Flower Head’s online archive & founder Rachel Elizabeth Jones’s guest lecture, you will create a design the institution could potentially sell in their exhibitions and online.

For this assignment, you’ll be creating ONE original design that can be printed on different products. You will create digital mock-ups that displays this design across three different items, and produce a one physical packaging prototype that would hold a hypothetical product.

In addition, each designer must include a well-designed PDF that shows their creative process, including sketches and a 200-300 word summary of the intentions of their work.

Deliverables:
- PDF Presentation document
- Original Photoshop or Illustrator files for your design
- Photoshop files for your mockups
- Illustrator file for your packaging prototype
- A physical packaging prototype, printed at a smaller scale, that would be the container for one of your products.

Project 2: Movie Poster
Due Week 9 (Midterms)
TENTATIVE: Guest Speaker: Jillian Adel, graphic designer, Criterion Collection & more. https://www.jillianadel.com/
Your design firm has been hired to create an identity for a movie of your choice. The poster should include: movie title, key art image, at least 3 main credits (actors/director/studio), tagline, quote. Your poster is to be 27x41 inches, the standard one-sheet movie poster size.

Additionally, the Criterion Collection wants to see how the key art will look across various digital platforms, specifically on social media platforms like Instagram, facebook, twitter. You will need to resize images across platforms and show how this campaign would appear in a promoted advertisement or on the timeline.

All design work must be created within InDesign, Illustrator and Photoshop. You will also use your InDesign concept to create an in situ Photoshop mock-up of the poster in place to show context.

Deliverables:
- A 200-300 word summary of the intentions of their work and any sketches or research that supports their process.
- Final presentation PDF (template will be provided)
- Packaged InDesign file for the poster itself (with fonts and links included).
- InDesign or Photoshop files for campaign in compatible for Social media platforms (research your apps and what sizes they require), and mockups of poster in situ.

Project 3: Designing a Branded Experience
Due Week 15
Group Project

Select one movie from Project 2. Building off your movie poster, you will use the graphic look and feel, as well as the movie’s content, to ideate an interactive, branded experience. You will create a fictitious schematic plan in Illustrator that reflects the approximate size of the exhibit space and labels each activity for audiences to engage with.

Think of your branded experience’s target audience, and design a presentation for key stakeholders. Your presentation will include the following:
- Schematic Floorplan with traffic flow pattern
- Title wall treatment and typography (your film title should match the typographic treatment in Assignment 2.)
- Color Palette for venue
- 1 Detailed Example of an interactive space or activity.
- Consider any interactive elements (projections, animations, interactive games, low tech/high tech, etc.)

In addition, each designer must include a well-designed PDF that shows their creative process, including sketches and a 200-300 word summary of the intentions of their work.

Deliverables:
- Final presentation PDF in specified format (template will be provided) including Photoshop mock-ups, inspiration and typography.
- Original packaged InDesign files with fonts and links. You will be expected to present your work to the class. If interactives are included using After Affects, you can create a short video (< 5

Other Assignments

Design Exercises
Over the course of the semester students will be asked to complete various small assignments that work towards a general understanding of core concepts and principles. Typically these assignments will begin in class during the hands-on tutorial session, and be completed at outside of class. The purpose of the in-class session is to get you started and to address any initial questions that you have.

Final Portfolio
All projects, completed design exercises, and revisions of previous work will be turned in during finals week in the form of a portfolio. You will create a logo for yourself, a brief biography (200-300 words), and present your work in a digital PDF format on 8.5 x 11” pages.

Final Portfolio Contents:
- Project 1 LACA
- Project 2 Movie Poster
- Project 3 Branded Experience (your contributions to this project)
- Pen Shape Worksheet
- Color Palette
- Mock Ups from Demo
- Floor plan Demo
- Screen shot from your After Effects Demo
