

FREN 250: Nation, Langue, et Identité en France

What does it mean to be French? Are the values of the French republic, Liberté, Égalité, et Fraternité, universal and available to everyone? Who gets to decide who is — and who isn't — French? In this seminar-style course, we will explore films, short texts, audio programs, comics, and more that take up these hard questions, all the while refining and improving our speaking, writing, reading, and listening skills in French.

Fall 2025
Mon & Wed 10h-11h50
WPH B26
Dr. Robert Decker
deckerr@usc.edu